Sensitive.

Every seat in the trolley was occupied when a group of women got in. Going through the car to collect the fares, the conductor noticed a man asleep. Seizing him by the shoulder, he proceeded to shake him back to a state of consciousness.

"Wake up!" shouted the conductor. "I wasn't asleep," said the passenger.

"Not asleep," snapped the conductor. "Then what did you have your eyes closed for?"
"It was because of the crowded condition of the car," explained the passenger. "I just hate to see women standing."

Swiss Develop Toy Industry.

In Switzerland the toy industry has recently been developed to a considerable extent. Various organizations in different parts of the country have joined hands with a view of increasing its efficiency and of encouraging and facilitating the exportation of its products. Important orders have already been filled for France and England. Some firms alone have produced hundreds of new models in wood and in pasteboard, and more are being added daily. The industry is to be now in a position to take care of a large foreign demand and to supply many of the needs of the United States.

Tit for Tat.

The young couple were dawdling over a late breakfast after a night at an ultra smart party.

"Was it you I kissed in the conservatory last night?" hubby inquired.

She looked at him reminiscently: "About what time was it?"

CURED OF BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Mrs. A. L. Crawford, Medfield, Mass., writes: "Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of Bright's Disease, and I am healthy and strong to-day and have been blessed with good health ever since my cure. When the doctors pronounced my case Bright's Disease I was in such a serious condition that they could not do anything for me.

I kept getting worse. My limbs from my ankles to my knees swelled and my eyes were so swollen that I couldn't see. As a last hope I thought I would give Dodd's Kidney Pills a trial. I gradually improved and kept on taking them and they cured me thoroughly."

Harm Done by Hertzian Waves.
Ever since the extensive commercial employment of wireless telegraphy, there have been many who believe that the powerful Hertzian waves seriously affect organic life. In fact, some have even suggested that laws or regulations should be enacted to protect organic life against wireless waves. With a view to determining the extent and nature of the radio waves' influence on organic life and climate, Dr. C. Abel-Musgrave recently asked several questions on the subject to be answered by a number of prominent German scientists. The summary of their answers was that wireless waves have no influence on organic life, nor do they alter climatic conditions, although it is true that certain electrical stresses are capable of accelerating rainfalls.

Domestic Drama.

"Where are the papers?" he demanded.
She looked him fearlessly in the eye. "I have hidden them," she said calmly.

"Woman! You dare to defy me? Produce those papers instantly, or I—"

"That will do, Henry. Sit down and eat your breakfast, and I'll give you the morning papers after you are through. I'm tired of seeing you so absorbed in the war news in the morning that you haven't time to say a word to me or the children."

Such is Life.

"Life is just one darned thing after another."
"What's the matter now?"

Discharged.

"What's the new office boy's name?"
"Gunn."
"Fire him."

Everyone Should Drink Hot Water in the Morning

Wash away all the stomach, liver, and bowel poisons before breakfast.

To feel your best day in and day out, to feel clean inside; no sour bile to coat your tongue and sicken your breath or dull your head; no constipation, bilious attacks, sick headache, colds, rheumatism or gassy, acid stomach, you must bathe on the inside like you bathe outside. This is vastly more important, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do, says a well-known physician.

To keep these poisons and toxins well flushed from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, drink before breakfast each day, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will cleanse, purify and freshen the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from your druggist or at the store. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except a sourish tinge which is not unpleasant. Drink phosphated hot water every morning to rid your system of these vile poisons and toxins; also to prevent their formation.

To feel like young folks feel; like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became saturated with an accumulation of body poisons, begin this treatment and above all, keep it up! As soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and purifying, so limestone phosphate and hot water before breakfast, act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.—Adv.

FOUND FAIR CLIENT'S HUBBY

Slueth's Methods Took Time, but Once on the Trail He Was Certain of Success.

After the third injection of iced tea the great detective turned to his fair visitor and said: "You say your husband used to be a baseball umpire and all you know of his whereabouts or other belongings is that he is employed as a waiter at one of the city restaurants?"

"Excelsior," replied his visitor with a slight foreign accent, according to the Detroit Free Press.

"I will find him for you, but it may take all day," said the great detective. And going to the telephone he called up the proprietor of every restaurant in the city and extracted from each a promise not to allow any flapjacks to be made that day.

"Now come with me," said the great detective, and they began a tour of the city's 213 restaurants. Not until the one hundred and fiftieth did the great detective genius find his reward.

"A plate of flapjacks with two straws, please," he ordered for the one hundred and fiftieth time.

The waiter threw back his head and a strange mystic light shone in his eyes as he intoned loudly: "Batter is out!"

"Your umpire!" cried the great detective, and, leaping to his feet, he stripped the waiter's false mustache from his face.

It was his fair client's husband.

Strategy.
"Mother, if a poor hungry little boy was to come to the back door and ask for something to eat, would you give him that piece of pie that was left over from dinner?"

"Yes, Willie, I think I should."
"Well, just wait a minute till I run around to the back door."

IN THE LIMELIGHT

HE KEPT HIS PLEDGE

John N. Tillman of Fayetteville, Ark., is an ambitious person with cleanly chiseled, statesmanlike features, red hair—red hair with a romantic backward sweep—and a disposition to do those things that he sets out to do. Consequently, because he made a little agreement in his early boyhood to go to congress, he has gone to congress. More than thirty years ago a pair of youngsters, one of them Tillman, sat under a big oak tree and offhandedly made a boyish compact to meet some day in congress. The plan entered into lightly was not sealed in blood, Huck Finn fashion, or anything like that; still, as Tillman looked at it, an agreement is an agreement. He took the thing seriously and made up his mind to keep the trust. Ever since that day under the big oak tree he has conducted himself as one having an appointment to fulfill and eager to be on the way. Both the young men who framed the pledge became lawyers and each served his district as prosecuting attorney. Then one of the young men blew up, so far as sticking to his agreement was concerned. He quit thinking about congress and became a Presbyterian minister.

After serving as district prosecutor Tillman became a circuit judge and then was honored by being elected president of the University of Arkansas. That might have been enough honor for Tillman, and doubtless would have been, except for his agreement. He had told his friend he was going to be on hand at a certain place, and he meant to do just that. When he began his campaign he frankly told the voters about his boyish compact, and put it squarely up to them whether he should be able to keep his agreement or not.

What else was there for the voters to do? You couldn't go to the polls and force a man to break a pledge, could you?

SUCCESSOR TO FRENCH

Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, who has succeeded Field Marshal French as commander of the British forces in France and Flanders, is fifty-four years old. He began his military career with the Seventh Hussars in 1885 and served in the Sudan and South African campaigns, in both of which he won distinguished honors and promotions.

At the outbreak of the present war he was general officer commanding at Aldershot and afterward was made commander of the first army.

Several times during the war General Haig has been highly praised in the dispatches of the general he has succeeded. At the battle of the Aisne his conduct was described by Field Marshal Sir John French as "bold, skillful and decisive."

Field Marshal French in his dispatch to the British war office described the famous retreat from Mons, credited Sir Douglas with having extricated his corps from a difficult position at Landreux.

General Haig was chief staff officer to Sir John French during the Coesburg operations, when the British cavalry had a difficult task in trying to round up the mobile Boer commanders. Later he was given command of a group of columns, and after the South African war was made inspector general of cavalry in India, one of the most coveted commands for cavalry officers in the British service.

After a few years of staff duty in England he became chief of staff in India.

General Haig is a Scotchman. He won his first honor under General Kitchener in the Sudan, where he was promoted to a brevet major on the field for gallantry at Atbara and before Khartoum.

PRESIDENT OF PERU

Jose Pardo has again assumed the presidency of the republic of Peru, and now that South America and South American affairs are attracting the notice of the United States, his career and record of service are of special interest.

Mr. Pardo was born in Lima some fifty years ago, the third son of the famous statesman, Manuel Pardo, himself a former president of the republic. During the early years of his life Mr. Pardo devoted his attention to the family estates, the principal production of which is sugar cane. Turning to politics, he was elected president of the republic for the term 1904-08, and it is his achievements during this period that promise a stable government.

The benefits derived by the country during Mr. Pardo's previous term of office, where the reforms were effected, show that numerous treaties were signed, as well as diplomatic agreements, which paved the way for the amicable solution of the grave frontier disputes with the neighboring republics.

Such institutions as the Superior Academy of War, the Intendencia, the Department of Military Hygiene and the Fencing academy were all founded under his regime, the practice of sending deserving members of both arms to foreign armies and navies and the establishment of schools in the barracks originating likewise with him. The bringing up to date of the field artillery, the erection of cartridge manufacturing plants and of several barracks in different localities are also directly due to the initiative of Mr. Pardo in military matters.

Mr. Pardo was always a firm advocate of the construction of railways. During his last term the important lines of Sicuani to Cuzco and Oroya to Huancayo were completed and given over to public service.

GALLIENI, ENERGETIC AND SIMPLE

Energetic simplicity is the dominating characteristic of General Gallieni, France's new minister of war, and he gave a good example of it on September 3, 1914, when he found himself suddenly entrusted with the defense of Paris upon that crucial day.

The government had fled to Bordeaux before the onrush of the Teutonic hordes. Gallieni must defend the city. He felt that his first duty was to tell the Parisians of the situation before them. He summoned a famous historian on his staff to prepare the proclamation.

Gallieni glanced at the long, high-sounding phrases, thanked the historian, handed him his page and, picking up a pen, wrote:

"To the inhabitants and the Army of Paris: The members of the government of the republic have left Paris to give a new impulse to the national defense. I have received the order to defend Paris against the invader. That order I will carry out to the very end.—Gallieni."

That phrase, "to the very end"—"jusqu' au bout"—put heart into the Parisians. It is the most famous phrase the war has given France.

Bumper Grain Crops

Good Markets—High Prices

Prizes Awarded to Western Canada for Wheat, Oats, Barley, Alfalfa and Grasses

The winnings of Western Canada at the Soil Products Exposition at Denver were easily made. The list comprised Wheat, Oats, Barley and Grasses, the most important being the prizes for Wheat and Oats and sweep stake on Alfalfa.

No less important than the splendid quality of Western Canada's wheat and other grains, is the excellence of the cattle fed and fattened on the grasses of that country. A recent shipment of cattle to Chicago topped the market in that city for quality and price.

Western Canada produced in 1915 one-third as much wheat as all of the United States, or over 300,000,000 bushels.

Canada in proportion to population has a greater exportable surplus of wheat this year than any country in the world, and at present prices you can figure out the revenue for the producer. In Western Canada you will find good markets, splendid schools, exceptional social conditions, perfect climate and other great attractions. There is no war tax on land and no conscription.

FALLING HAIR MEANS DANDRUFF IS ACTIVE

Save Your Hair! Get a 25 Cent Bottle of Danderine Right Now—Also Stops Itching Scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its luster, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any store, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, luster and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp. ANURIC!

The Newest Discovery in Chemistry

This is a recent discovery of Dr. Pierce, who is head of the Invalids, Hotel and Surgical Institute at Buffalo, N. Y. Experiments at Dr. Pierce's Hospital for several years proved that there is no other eliminator of uric acid that can be compared to it. For those easily recognized symptoms of inflammation—as backache, scalding urine and frequent urination, as well as sediment in the urine, or if uric acid in the blood has caused rheumatism, it is simply wonderful how surely "Anuric" acts. The best of results are always obtained in cases of acute rheumatism in the joints, in gravel and gout, and invariably the pains and stiffness which so frequently and persistently accompany the disease rapidly disappear.

Go to your nearest drug store and simply ask for a 50-cent package of "Anuric" manufactured by Dr. Pierce, or even write Dr. Pierce for a large trial package (10c). If you suspect kidney or bladder trouble, send him a sample of your water and describe symptoms. Dr. Pierce's chemist will examine it, then Dr. Pierce will report to you without fee or charge.

NOTE—"Anuric" is thirty-seven times more active than lithia in eliminating uric acid, and is a harmless but reliable chemical compound that may be safely given to children, but should be used only by grown-ups who actually wish to restore their kidneys to perfect health, by conscientiously using one box—or more in extreme cases—as "Anuric" (thanks to Dr. Pierce's achievement) is by far the most perfect kidney and bladder corrector obtainable.

"I Feel Like A Real Day's Work"

Most men do who have good digestion, steady nerves and a clear brain. Right living—particularly right eating—makes for energy and ambition.
