THE OFFICE HOLDER.

People are doing quite a little talking and reasoning on political topics these days, and they will continue to buzz around until after the year's elections have become history. Then they will promptly forget all about it and the people they have placed in office will proceed to do as they please throughout the terms, and there are times when what pleases the office holder is anything but pleasing to the men who put him there.

Right there, Mr. Voter, is where we make a very great mistake. We should keep right after the office holder with as much persistency after election as he employed in pestering us for our votes before election.

We should talk things over among ourselves, and decide what we need, and what is best for our collective welfare, and then we should hang onto the office holder like a hungry dog grips a bone until he gets what we want or it is shown not to be within the bounds of possibility.

If the official goes to veering off on some fool course it should be up to us to tell him in pointed terms to veer back again and travel the road that we select for him

He may be governor, or congressman, or sheriff, or township official all of which looks and sounds big to those who like it. But we are the people and we are a whole lot bigger than all of the governors, and congressman and other officials combined. Officials are merely the hired servants of the people who place them in office and who pay them their salaries. and their duties are to obey the will of their masters.

Keep right on talking politics, and discussing men and conditions, and pointing out the needs and require ments of the people of our section of the state. And don't be afraid to let our public servants hear you talk, for the more you talk the closer they will listen, and that will all lead to results favorable to us as a people and as a community.

After we have talked people into office we should continue right along and talk them into doing the right thing after they get there. If any office holder doesn't like our brand of talk then we are justified in assum ing that we have made a mistake in placing him there. Sane discussion of conditions, and people, and events is good for this comunity, ,for it serves two distinct and wholesale purposes. It brings forcibly to the fore those things that are best for us, and it lets our officials know that we are keeping both eyes on them with a view to seeing that they perform their duties as expressed by our will in a manner ac-

Every day should be campaign time in this community.

UNCLE SAM'S PREDICAMENT.

From the Lincoln Trade Review: One of the interesting news features of the week and at the same time an announcement feature, carrying a certain amount of humiliation, is the statement from Washington that the question of printing currency and postage stamps is at an accute stage, because of the fact that the government is unable to secure the coloring matter from Germany, used in printing stamps and currency.

It is astonishing that this great nation, with all its high development in manufacturing supposedly the best products in the world, should be at mercy of some foreign government for the necessary coloring matter to print its money and its postage through the use of which the mails of this country

It would seem that with the long years of protecting American industries, that the government would have seen to it that at least it had the abil ity and the means in this land to make such an important product as this without being dependent upon a foreign nation for the means of printing currency and postage.

No one doubts but that if it had been given attention, this country could produce as satisfactory coloring matter for this work as any other nation. In fact, since the supplies of common dye stuffs have been cut off on account of the war, manufacturers along chemical lines have shown their ability to produce just as good dye stuffs here as Europe produces, the only hindrance being lack of time to put plants in operation.

One of the results of high protection in the past has been that manufacturing in many lines has been made so profitable that some of the most important lines, although small in amount required, have been utterly neglected and so this country finds itself now, after years of protection, with no industry established here that can fill orders for so important work as the coloring matter for the printing of currency. One of the good results, and there will be a few good results that will come from the war, will be the opening of the eyes of the people of this country to the wisdom of being prepared to take care of itself along every line of special manufactured products required in the future.

One of the best means of assuring results of this kind will come from a permanent tariff commission.

February 21 to 26, inclusive, will be pay-up week all over this country, and every citizen is presumed to walk in to his creditors and square up his accounts. The good ciitizen will do this if it is within the bounds of reasonable possibility. The man who fails to square up because he doesn't care is not worthy of further credit and should not receive it. Business men are not allowed by their creditors to wait until Febr. 21 or 26. They must forward their checks every thirty days or their credit is shut off. It therefore becomes a great hardship to the business men when he is compelled to pay his own bills promptly and yet is required to carry the accounts of hundreds of people for indefinite periods. We have a lot of faith in our people and we believe they will walk right up forget the editor in their rounds. We have faith that this will be one time when they will not forget to think.

Uncle Sam tried to caulk up his money box the week ending January 22, with a wisp of customs revenues amounting to $3,565,000, combed from $42,661,382 worth of imports which entered the 13 principal customs districts of the country for the week. He worked hard at the job, and there wasn't enough revenue to go around. When he knocked off Saturday night and went home to supper, he found the price of 'vituals' was still on the rise. The imports for the week marked a new high record under the demo-

An old friend of ours dropped in the other day and was discussing the Mc-Adoo method of book-keping in the federal treasury. "It reminds me," he said, "of a butcher whom I knew in my boyhood. A woman was buying some liver and the butcher reckoned the account like this: 'Eight pounds at eight cents a pound. Eight pounds is eighty-eight. Take it for eighty cents, ma'am."

Of course we are all subject to certain lapses of memory, but there is one subject close to hearts which should never be lost sight of for one single moment. That is good roadsbetter roads for this community. Think it over-talk it over-push it along with every breath of life. We want better country roads.

She has written several letters to the state librarian, Miss Templeton, who has sent directions for work, reports and encouragement in reply. In one report she says that Nebraska has about ninety-eight cities of 1,000 or more population, of these only seventeen are without a public library. ## HEBRASKA IDEAL LOCATION FOR MILITARY BASE

In these days of agitation of military preparedness Nebraska deserves more than ordinary consideration as an ideal location for a munition plant and a base of supplies of grains, metals, lumber and other military requisites.

Military authorities acknowledge the necessity of scattering munition plants throughout the country instead of mobilizing them on the Atlantic Coast. In selecting locations for these plants the foremost factor under consideration is accessibility to raw materials as well as rail facilities, over which the supplies may be transported and placed at any point af vantage, particularly on the Pacific

The geographical center of the United States is in Nebraska and the tinue to do all in my power to further War Department has recognized the importance of its location by establishing and maintaining two military posts, Forts Omaha and Crook.

In case of invasion Omaha would both the Atlantic and Pacific be captured. Nebraska is practically selfsupporting as far as its agricultural. live stock and manufactured products are concerned. In the selection of a location for a central munition plant the government is considering both Salt Lake City and Denver in addition to Omaha

The Union Pacific Railroad claims distinction of being the greatest defensive factor next to the navy and the Panama Canal should any international complication arise that would jeopardize the safety of American lives and property particularly by way of the Pacific Coast. This railroad is carrying on a pub licity campaign with the end in view of influencing the citizens of Nebraska to demand recognition as the most The Woman's Unity club held their favorable location for a munition task deserves encouragement of every Nebraskan.
