BLUNGERS OF THE

and Domestic Policies.

ROOT SHOWS HIS ERRORS.

Address as Temporary Chairman of New York Republican Convention mission and Omission-"We Have Lost Influence Because We Have

In his address as temporary chairman of the New York state Republican convention, delivered in Carnegie Hall, tection for the lives and property of New York, the Hon, Elihu Root said:

We are entering upon a centest for the election of a president and the control of government under conditions essentially new in the experience of our party and of our country. The forms and methods which we are about to follow are old and familiar, but the grounds for action, the demand of great events for decision upon national conduct, the moral forces urging to a solution of vaguely outlined questions, the tremendous consequences of wisdom or folly in national policy, all these are new to the great mass of American voters now living. Never since 1864 has an election been fraught with consequences so vital to national life. All the ordinary considerations which play so great a part in our presidential campaigns are and ought to be dwarfed into insignificance.

Democratic Party to the Bar.

enter the field as the party of opposi- ture its great seaport, Vera Cruz, and tion, and indeed it is a much longer hold it and throttle Mexican commerce time, for in 1896, in all respects save until Huerta fell. the tariff, the real opposition to the sturdy and patriotic course of President Cleveland was to be found in the party that followed Mr. Bryan. It is our duty as the opposition to bring the Democratic party to the bar of public judgment, to put it upon its defense threat, by economic pressure and by so far as we see just and substantial grounds to criticise its conduct and to right did this intervention proceed? ask the voters of the country to decide whether that party, organized as it is, rights, not to protect the lives or proprepresented as it has been since it came into power, has shown itself laws of nations, not to compel observcompetent to govern the country as it ance of the law of humanity. On the should be governed and whether its spirit, its policies, and its performance in Mexico to which appeal could be are the best that the American people | made for protection of life or property. can do in the way of popular self gov- That was the only power which, in

In the field of domestic affairs some facts relevant to these questions had within the territory where Huerta already been ascertained when in Au- ruled that comparative peace and orgust, 1914, the great European war der prevailed. The territory over began. During the year and a half of which the armed power of Carranza Democratic control of government in and Villa and their associates extended a period of profound peace there had was the theater of the most appalling been a steady decrease in American crimes. Bands of robbers roved the production, in exports and in revenues | country with unbridled license. Amerand a steady increase in imports and icans and Mexicans alike were at their expenditures. Enterprise had halted. mercy, and American men were mur-The Democratic tariff had been framed upon an avowed repudiation of all protection, however moderate and reasonable, and because all protection was repudiated practically all information from competent witnesses as to the effect new provisions would have upon doned, the murder of American men business was rejected. It was with just cause that the enterprise of the country halted, timid and irresolute. because it felt and feared the hostility

> Foreign Competition After War. The great war has not changed the

when it began. It has but obscured further demonstration. It has caused which the United States is able to produce in large quantities, and in these lines of production, while other industries still languish, there have been extensive employment of labor, great exports and a great influx of money. But this is temporary. It must soon placed sentiment. cease, and when the factories have stopped and their laborers are no longer employed we must deal with a situation for which wise forethought should make provision. More important still, the war has paralyzed the peaceful industries of all Europe and has stopped that competitive foreign production which in July, 1914, had already entered American markets to supersede American products under The universal sentiment of Mexicans the tariff law of 1913. The war has thus given to American products an immunity from competition far more effective than any possible protective tariff. But that is temporary, and when the war is over, when foreign production begins again, the American market compared with impoverished Europe will be more than ever before the object of desire and effort, and we shall become the dumping ground of Three hundred Mexicans were reportthe world to the destruction of our ed killed; seventeen United States maown industries unless that is prevented rines were killed and many were by a wise and competent government. How Can Be Defend Ourselves?

But it is not from domestic questions that the most difficult problems of this day arise. The events of the last few years have taught us many lessons. We have learned that civilization is but a veneer thinly covering the savage nature of man. How can this nation, which loves peace and intends justice, avoid the curse of militarism and at the same time preserve its independence, defend its territory, protect the lives and liberty and property of its citizens? How can we prevent the same principles of action, the same policies of conduct, the same In. with the president's approval, was signing treaties with half the world agreeing that if any controversy should arise it should be submitted to a joint commission and no action should be taken until after a full year had elapsed. This controversy, slight as it was, death and outrage, the suffering and arose on the 9th of April, and on the ruin of our own brethren, the hatred 21st of the same month Vera Cruz and contempt for our country and the Vera Cruz the moral power of the administration at Washington shares and more American lives were destroy-United States in Mexico ended. We were then and we are now hated for with whom it made common cause. what we did to Mexico, and we were then and we are now despised for our feeble and irresolute failure to protect | dent to the great war in Europe we undefended wealth of the new world? ADMINISTRATION Have we still national ideals? Will ation created by the war has been difficult and trying. Much of the corre-Have we still national ideals? Will body die for them? Or are we all for ease and comfort and wealth at any price? Confronted by such questions Wilson Has Failed In Foreign as these and the practical situations which give rise to them, is the country satisfied to trust itself again in the hands of the Democratic party?

> Impotent Inteference In Mexico. The United States had rights and duties in Mexico. More than 40,000 of our citizens had sought their fortunes and made their homes there. A thousand millions of American capital had try. But revolution had come, and factional warfare was rife. Americans had been murdered, American property had been wantonly destroyed, the Been Brave In Words and Irresolute | Mexico were in danger. That was the president in March, 1913. His duty then was plain. It was, first, to use his powers as president to secure pro-Americans in Mexico and to require that rules of law and stipulations of treaties should be observed by Mexico toward the United States and its citizens. His duty was, second, as the head of a foreign power to respect the independence of Mexico, to refrain from all interference with her internal affairs, from all attempt at domina- trade and her citizens traveled on evtion except as he was justified by the law of nations for the protection of American rights. The president of the United States failed to observe either of those duties. He deliberately abandoned them both and followed an entirely different and inconsistent purpose. He intervened in Mexica to aid one faction in civil strife against another. He undertook to pull down Huerta and set Carranza up in his place. Arms and munitions of war forces and withheld from Huerta. Finally the president sent our army For the first time in twenty years we and navy to invade Mexico and cap-

Americans Outraged In Mexico. The government of the United States intervened in Mexico to control the internal affairs of that independent country and to enforce the will of the American president in those affairs by force of arms. Upon what claim of Not to secure respect for American erty of our citizens, not to assert the contrary, Huerta's was the only power fact, did protect either American or European or Mexican. It was only raged with impunity. Thousands were reduced to poverty by the wanton destruction of the industries through which they lived. Yet the government of the United-States ignored, conand the rape of American women and destruction of American property and insult to American officers and defilement of the American flag and joined itself to the men who were guilty of all these things to pull down the power of Huerta. Why? The president lesson which we had already learned himself has told us. It was because he adjudged Huerta to be a usurper, because he deemed that the common an enormous demand for some things people of Mexico ought to have greater participation in government and share in the land, and he believed that Carranza and Villa would give them these things. We must all sympathize with these sentiments, but there is nothing more dangerous than mis-When our army landed at Vera Cruz Carranza himself, who was to be the chief beneficiary of the act, publicly protested against it. So strong was the resentment that he could not have kept his followers otherwise. When Huerta had fallen the new government which for the day had succeeded to his place peremptorily demanded the withdrawal of the American troops. required the peremptory demand, and the troops were withdrawn. Still worse than that, the taking of Vera Cruz destroyed confidence in the sincerity of the American government in Mexico, because every intelligent man in Mexico believed that the avowed reason for the act was not the real reason. The avowed purpose was to compel a salute to the American flag. wounded. At that very time Mr. Brythe lives and rights of our citizens. No failed in Mexico.

flag is so dishonored and no citizenship

so little worth the claiming in Mexico

as ours. And that is why we have

Policy of "Watchful Waiting." Incredible as it seems, Huerta had been turned out by the assistance of the American government without any guaranties from the men who were to be set up to his place, and so the murdering and burning and ravishing have gone on to this day. After Huerta had fallen and the Vera Cruz expedition had been withdrawn President Wilson announced that no one was entitled to interfere in the affairs of Mexico; that she was entitled to settle them herself. He disclaims all responsibility for what happens in Mexico and contents himself with a policy of watchful waiting. And for the was taken. With the occupation of dishonor of our name in that land the responsibility with the inhuman brutes corces of military power which are ex- cannot rail to perceive that there is respondence is apparently approaching hibited in Europe from laying hold much dissatisfaction among Ameriupon the vast territory and practically cans. Dissatisfaction is not in itself tial protection for the future which cans. Dissatisfaction is not in itself tial protection for the future which ground for condemnation. The situation created by the war has been diffispondence of the state department, especially since Mr. Lansing took charge, has been characterized by acas these and the practical situations curate learning and skillful statement of specific American rights.

Three Errors In European Policy.

A study of the administration's policy toward Europe since July, 1914, reveals three fundamental errors: First, the lack of foresight to make timely provision for backing up American diplomacy by actual or assured military and naval force; second, the forfeibeen invested in that productive coun- ture of the world's respect for our assertion of rights by pursuing the policy of making threats and failing to make them good; third, a loss of the moral forces of the civilized world through not, but was intended for effect at lives and property of all Americans in failure to truly interpret to the world the spirit of the American democracy situation when Mr. Wilson became in its attitude toward the terrible events which accompanied the early stages of the war.

First, as to power: When the war in Europe began, free, peaceable little Switzerland instantly mobilized upon her frontier a great army of trained citizen soldiers. Sturdy little Holland did the same, and both have kept their territory and their independence inviolate. Great, peaceable America was farther removed from the conflict, but her ery sea. Ordinary knowledge of European affairs made it plain that the war was begun not by accident, but with purpose which would not soon be relinquished. Ordinary knowledge of military events made it plain from the mement when the tide of German invasion turned from the battle of the Marne that the conflict was certain to be long and desperate. Ordinary knowledge of history-of our own history during the Napoleonic wars-made it were freely furnished to the northern plain that in that conflict neutral rights would be worthless unless powerfully

The Democratic government at Washington did not see it. Others saw it, and their opinions found voice. Mr. Gardner urged it, Mr. Lodge urged it, Mr. Stimson urged it, Mr. Roosevelt urged it, but their argument and urgency were ascribed to political motives, and the president described them with a sneer as nervous and excited.

Wilson Has Shifted Ground.

But the warning voices would not be stilled. The opinion that we ought no longer to remain defenseless became public opinion. Its expression grew more general and insistent, and finally the president, not leading, but following, has shifted his ground, has reversed his position and asks the country to prepare against war. God grant that he be not too late. But the Democratic party has not shifted its ground. A large part of its members in congress are endeavoring now to sidetrack the movement for national preparedness, to muddle it by amendment and turn it into channels which will produce the least possible result in the increase of national power of defense. What sense of effectiveness in this effort can we gather from the presence of Josebeen begun?

convictions of that party are for national power and duty and honor. As to the policy of threatening words without deeds:

purpose to sink merchant vessels on lives of innocent passengers our government on the 10th of February one year ago informed Germany in unmistakable terms that in attacking and sinking vessels of the United States citizens lawfully traveling upon merchant vessels of other countries she would act at her peril. They pledged the power and courage of America. with her hundred million people and her vast wealth, to the protection of her citizens, as during all her history through the days of her youth and weakness she had protected them. On the 28th of March the passenger steamer Falaba was torpedoed by a German submarine and an American citizen was killed, but nothing was done. On the 28th of April the American vessel Cushing was attacked and crippled by a German aeroplane. On the 1st of May the American vessel Gulflight was torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine and two or more Americans were killed, yet nothing was done. On the 7th of May the Lusitania was tornedoed and sunk by a German submarine and more than 100 Americans and 1,100 other noncombatants were drowned. The very thing which our government had warned temptuous and shocking way. Then, when all America was stirred to the depths, our government addressed anrenewed its bold declaration of purpose. It declared again that the American government "must hold the imperial German government to a strict accountability for any infringement of fering in the quarrels of Europe. We those rights, intentional or incidental," and it declared that it would not "omit | neutral as to the quarrel between Gerany word or any act necessary to the many and France, but when as an in- economic situation with which we performance of its sacred duty of maintaining the rights of the United States | quarrel Germany broke the law which | of the war, with a policy of moderate and its citizens and of safeguarding their free exercise and enjoyment."

haggling over petty questions of de- | right. tail, every American note growing less and less strong and peremptory until the Arabic was torpedoed and sunk ed, and still nothing was done, and the correspondence continued until the When we turn to the administra- allied defense against German submation's conduct of foreign affairs inci- rine warfare made it unprofitable and lation of justice and humanity in the less and honest in its assertion of led to its abandonment, and the cor. treatment of Belgium our government | American rights.

Still nothing was done and a long might be found in an admission that the destruction of the Lusitania was forbidden by law. The later correspondence has been conducted by our state department with dignity, but it the treatment of Belgium, neutral behas been futile. An admission of liability for damages has been secured. but the time for real protection to American rights has long since passed. between liberty and oppression. Our The brave words with which we be- government did more than acquiesce, gan the controversy had produced no for in the first Lusitania note, with the effect, because they were read in the unspeakable horrors of the conquest light of two extraordinary events. of Belgium still fresh in our minds, on One was the report of the Austrian the very day after the report of the ambassador, Mr. Dumba, to his gov- Bryce commission on Belgian atrociernment that when the American note ties, it wrote these words to the govof Feb. 10 was received he asked the ernment of Germany: secretary of state, Mr. Bryan, whether it meant business and received an answer which satisfied him that it did home in America. "Too Proud to Fight." unfortunate declaration of the president in a public speech in Philadelphia rights, and throughout the world the phrase "too proud to fight" became a byword of derision and contempt for the government of the United States. Later, in another theater of war-the Mediterranean-Austria, and perhaps Turkey also, resumed the practice. The Ancona and then the Persia were destroyed, and more Americans were killed. Why should they not resume the practice? They had learned to believe that, no matter how shocked the American government might be, its resolution would expend itself in words. They had learned to believe that it was safe to kill Americans, and the world believed with them.

Shaking Fist and Finger. No man should draw a pistol who shakes its first and its finger afterward falls into contempt. Our diploand creditable.

I have said that this government lost truly interpreting the spirit of the otism and devotion. American democracy.

and grain and manufactures; stands will lead to inevitable war. for something that cannot be measured phus Daniels at the most critical post | American people, informed by their | sense of the American people and it of all-the head of the navy depart- own experience that is confirmed by lost the power which a knowledge of ment-when we see that where their observation of international life, that leadership and a sympathetic repreparation has been possible it has have come to see that the independence not been made, when we see that con- of nations, the liberty of their peoples. world would have given to our diplomastruction of warships already author- justice and humanity cannot be mainized has not been pressed and in some tained upon the complaisance, the good make any provision whatever for decases after long delay has not even nature, the kindly feeling of the strong fending its rights in case they should If an increase of our country's power ence, real liberty, cannot rest upon suf- which a belief in its readiness and will to defend itself against aggression is ferance; that peace and liberty can be to maintain its rights would have givauthorized by the present congress it preserved only by the authority and must be largely through Republican observance of rules of national convotes, because all the traditions and duct founded upon the principles of justice and humanity; only by the establishment of law among nations, responsive to the enlightened public opinion of mankind. To them liberty When Germany gave notice of her means not liberty for themselves alone, but for all who are oppressed. Justice the high seas without safeguarding the means not justice for themselves alone, but a shield for all who are weak against the aggression of the strong. To this people the invasion of Belgium brought a shock of amazement and in destroying the lives of American (and horror. If the public opinion of the world was to remain silent upon that, neutral upon that, then all talk about peace and justice and international law and the rights of man, the progress of humanity and the spread of liberty is idle patter, mere weak sentimentality; then opinion is powerless and brute force rules and will rule the world. If no difference is recognized between right and wrong then there are no moral standards. There come times in the lives of nations as of men when to treat wrong as if it were right is treason to the right.

The Wrong Done to Belgium. The American people were entitled not merely to feel, but to speak concerning the wrong done to Belgium. It was not like interference in the innation, for this was an international which was violated was our law and did of set purpose and in the most con- maintaining great armaments and with the rest. The principles of naits assertion of American rights and many and Belgium and France and the United States in which those other countries agreed with us that the law should be observed.

There was no question here of interhad a right to be neutral, and we were cident to the prosecution of that | must deal immediately upon the close we were entitled to have preserved but adequate protection to American and which she had agreed with us to industry. preserve we were entitled to be heard and technical correspondence ensued, in the assertion of our own national

Neutral Between Right and Wrong! Yet the American government ac- the past. quiesced in the treatment of Belgium and the destruction of the law of na- ble course for the preservation of tions. Without one word of objection | peace will be followed by a foreign polor dissent to the repudiation of law icy which, with courtesy and friendlior the breach of our treaty or the vio- ness to all nations, is frank and fear-

States an undiscriminating and all embracing neutrality, and the president admonished the people that they must be neutral in all respects in act and word and thought and sentiment. We were to be not merely neutral as to the quarrels of Europe, but neutral as to tween right and wrong, neutral between justice and injustice, neutral between humanity and cruelty, neutral

Recalling the humane and enlightened German government in matters of intergard to the freedom of the seas, having and the German influence in the field of international obligation as always engaged The other event was the strange and upon the side of justice and humanity, etc.

And so the government of the United States appeared as approving the treatthe fourth day after the sinking of ment of Belgium. It misrepresented the Lusitania that "a man may be too | the people of the United States in that proud to fight." Whatever the Aus- acquiescence and apparent approval. trian ambassador was in fact told by It was not necessary that the United the secretary of state, the impression States should go to war in defense which he reported was supported by of the violated law. A single official the events which followed. Whatever expression by the government of the the president did mean, his declaration. United States, a single sentence denymade in public at that solemn time, ing assent and recording disapproval amid the horror and mourning of all of what Germany did in Belgium, our people over the murder of their would have given to the people of children, was accepted the world over | America that leadership to which they as presenting the attitude of the Amer- were entitled in their earnest groping ican government toward the protection for the light. It would have ranged of the life and liberty of American behind American leadership the concitizens in the exercise of their just science and morality of the neutral

It was not to be. The American government failed to rise to the demands of the great occasion. Gone were the old love of justice, the old passion for liberty, the old sympathy with the oppressed, the old ideals of an America helping the world toward a better future, and there remained in the eyes of mankind only solicitude for trade and profit and prosperity.

Shrank From the Truth.

The American government could not really have approved the treatment of Belgium, but under a mistaken policy it shrank from speaking the truth.

Such policies as I have described are doubly dangerous in their effect upon foreign nations and in their effect at home. It is a matter of universal exdares not shoot. The government that perience that a weak and apprehensive treatment of foreign affairs invites encroachments upon rights and leads to macy has lost its authority and influ-situations in which it is difficult to ence because we have been brave in prevent war, while a firm and frank words and irresolute in action. Men policy at the outset prevents difficult may say that the words of our diplo- situations from arising and tends most matic notes were justified; men may strongly to preserve peace. On the say that our inaction was justified, but other hand, if a government is to be no man can say that both were wise strong in its diplomacy its own people must be ranged in its support by leadership of opinion in a national the moral forces of the world by not cause worthy to awaken their patri-

We have not been following the path The American democracy stands for of peace. We have been blindly stumsomething more than beef and cotton bling along the road that continued

When our government failed to tell by rates of exchange and does not rise the truth about Belgium it lost the or fall with the balance of trade. The opportunity for leadership of the moral sponse from the moral sense of the ey. When our government failed to toward the weak; that real independ- be trampled upon it lost the power en to its diplomatic representations When our government gave notice to Germany that it would destroy American lives and American ships at its peril our words, which would have been potent if sustained by adequate preparation to make them good and by deem that the independence, the liberthe prestige and authority of the moral leadership of a great people in a great cause, were treated with a contempt which should have been foreseen, and when our government failed to make those words good its diplomacy was bankrupt.

Upon the record of performance which I have tried to describe will the American people say that the Demo cratic party is entitled to be continued

The defects of the present adminis tration arise from two distinct causes. The first is the temperament and training of the president. The second is the incapacity of the Democratic party as it is represented in Washington both in the legislative and in the executive departments either to originate wise policies or to follow them when proposed by others or to administer them effectively if they are established. The Democrats in congress are never controlled except with a club, and government with a club is always spasmodic and defective. We must not deceive ourselves by assuming that the critical period aristernal affairs of Mexico or any other ing from the great war has passed. The real dangers and the real tests of wrong. The law protecting Belgium | the strength of our institutions lie before us. The most exacting demands the law of every other civilized coun- upon the wisdom, the spirit and the try. That law was the protection of courage of our country are still to be our peace and security. It was our made. In this great conflict all forms Germany she must not do, Germany safeguard against the necessity of of government are on trial, democracy wasting our substance in continual tional morality are on trial. We must readiness for war. Moreover, that law | Play our part in the universal trial was written into a solemn and formal whether we will or no, for upon the reother note to Germany. It repeated convention, signed and ratified by Ger- sult depends directly the question whether our republic can endure.

> What Are People to Expect? But what are the people to expect if the Republican party is restored to power? This much we can say now:

They may expect, with confidence, that their government will meet the

They may expect that the government will be administered with the honesty and efficiency which have marked Republican administrations in

They may expect that the best possi-

AT THE OPERA HOUSE Revival Meetings Every Evening

W. A. Erwin, Evangelist.

FRIDAY: "Self Destruction, or Moral Spiritual Suicide."

SATURDAY:

"The Moral Man."

They may expect that their govern-ly to be talked about with weak and flabby sentiment, but are to be maintained and safeguarded by the practical power of a virile and patriotic people. It is clearsighted enough to see that preparation for defense must have due relation to the possibilities of attack: that under the conditions of or all preparation will be impossible

petent by training to perform the freeman's duty of defense for his country.

It stands for a regular army no larger than is necessary, but as large as is necessary to serve as a first line, a nucleus, a source of instruction and of administration for the army of American citizens who may be called upon to defend their country. And the Republican party stands for the gospel of patriotic service to our country by every citizen, according to his ability

It is not content that while the people

Our Power For Peace.

They may expect that the power and will of a united people to defend their country will prevent the application to

They may expect that the manifest.

potential strength and competency of destruction of our security by the es-

in our neighborhood.

the rules of justice and humanity.

of other lands are rendering the last

SUNDAY: 11 A. M.—"The Resurrection of Jesus."

TUESDAY:

7:30 P. M.—"The Divinity of Jesus"

"The Second Comng of Jesus, and the Relation of that Event to the Present Crisis in the World's History, Especially the Great European Wars."

WEDNESDAY:

"The Relation of the Lodges to the Church and the Betterment of the World."

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP ment will stand for full and adequate preparation by the American people Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Anderson visited for their own defense. The Republican party loves peace and hates war; it at R. P. McClarey's place Sunday. abhors and will never submit to mili- Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jewell visited tary domination; but it is composed of at C. C. Darrow's place Friday even-men who love our country and who ing. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Fowler visited ty, the honor and the opportunity of at Milton Kee's place one day last the American democracy are not mere- week.

> Mrs. W. H. Jewell and daughter, Pearl, visited at William Minne's one Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jewell and Miss

> Amanda Carlson, visited at Hans Pederson's place Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Welty and Mr. modern warfare much preparation and Mrs. J. W. Darrow visited at C. must be made before a possible attack | C. Darrow's place Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leininger and after the attack. The Republican par-Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jewell visited ty stands for a citizenship made com- at Pearl Slawson's in Lee Park on Sunday.

> James Martin of Polk county, and Oscar Thelander, of Lee Park, took dinner at G. W. Anderson's place on Saturday. Alfred Malm and Misses Edith.

> Bettie, and Marie Malm and Miss Katie Fagan, visited frineds in Valley county Sunday.

James Turvey returned last Saturday evening from Corning, Iowa, in peace and in war. It stands for a where he had been called on account reawakening of American patriotism. of the death of his mother.

The "scribe" of these items hates very much to confess that he ever full measure of devotion in sacrifice makes mistakes, but a great mistake and suffering and dying for their coun- was made last week, as an article tries America shall remain alone dull appered stating tahat a number of the to the call of country and satisfied in neighboring women had helped Mrs. the comforts and pleasures of pros- John Anderson clean house, but it should have been "Mr." as John is still a bachelor and has not yet an-They may expect that assured readi- nounced any intentions of entering ness for defense will give power to into any matrimonial contracts, but our diplomacy in the maintenance of this is leap year, so it is hard to tell what may happen before Christmas.

War has so greatly increased the our peaceful and prosperous land of cost of quinine and whiskey, the poputhe hateful doctrine that among na- lar remedy for a cold, that many of tions might makes right regardless of the sufferers have been obliged to do without the quinine.

"Elasticity can often be restored to the nation will maintain the effective- rubber by soaking it in a mixture of ness and reality of that great policy of one part of household amonia to two national safety which in the declara- of water," chirps an exchange. This, tion of President Monroe forbade the however, does not include the masculine neck when a pretty ankle is in tablishment of hostile military powers | sight. The m. n. is perpetually elas-

They may expect that their govern-The National Housewives' League ment will not forget, but will ever maintain, the principles of American has hopped into the preparedness freedom, the duties of America to the arena by inaugurating a campaign for elevating the food question and buildpeace and progress of the world and those ideals of liberty and justice for ing up the health of the men in order all mankind which above all else make that they may become physically fit the true greatness of the American for service. We're a patriot! Pass the