WHEN THE WORLD REVISES TARIFFS.

Professor Henry C. Emery, formerly chairman of the tariff board appointed under a republican administration, has an interesting article in the New York Annalist entitled, "When the World Revises Tariffs." Dr. Emery discusses the "most favored nation clause" and its interpretation in America and in Europe, the American interpretation demanding a quid pro quo, while in Europe a concession granted to a third country, under the clause becomes ipso facto extended to the other party of the treaty. "It is highly probable," says Dr. Emery, "that this great principle will be abandoned when the war closes." He thinks the adoption of the American interpretation in Europe will be general, and those who have read the proceedings of the recent trade conference held in Vienna, looking to a commercial alliance between Germany and Austria, after the war, will recall that tentative provisions were adopted looking to this very thing.

Dr. Emery closes his article with a discussion of a bargaining tariff, by which fair exchanges may be made, giving favors in return for favors. He states it as his conviction, "that in the great readjustment after the war the only way in which we can properly safeguard our export industries is to make a wide extension of this (bargaining) principle so as to be in a position to offer concessions in exchange for similar favors."

One thing is certain, and that is that no such safeguards can be applied to our exports under the present democratic law, for the reason that there is nothing remaining in the law with which to bargain. For instance, nearly every dollar's worth of goods imported from South America enters our ports free of duty. What concession, therefore, could we make to those countries which would give us a better chance in their markets? What have we with which to bargain? The duties exacted by the Underwood tariff law on manufactured products are so low that European countries and Japan had no difficulty whatever, prior to the war, in hopping over the wall and selling in our market. What concession could we make to them in return for similar favors under the present law?

The truth of the matter is that the republican policy of protection not only encourages industry at home and provides sufficient government revenue, but it makes provision for bargaining with other countries and extending our foreign trade along such lines as commercial policy may dictate, having always in mind the best interests of our domestic producers.

LEEDOM IN THE RACE.

Joe W. Leedom, editor of the Gordon Journal has filed for the republican nomination for land commissioner. Mr. Leedom, one of the young newspaper men of the state, graduated from his father's print shop at Osmond and has been going it alone ever since. He is said to be one of the live wires of the north part of the state, which has not furnished many state officers so far. He is editor of the Gordon Journal and very popular with the newspaper men of that part of the state.—Omaha Bee.

The result of the movement in Nebraska to "write in" the name of Charles E. Hughes for president, despite the fact that it does not appear on the printed ballot, will be watched throughout the country. If a majority of the republicans of this state go to this much trouble to let it be known that the popular demand is for Charles E. Hughes as their presidential standard bearer, other states are bound to sit up and take notice.

Every republican should vote his real preference for president. If he is for Cummins, or Ford, or Estabrook, he should put his cross opposite that name, but if he is for Charles E. Hughes, or anyone else whose name is not printed on the ballot, he should "write it in" on the blank line provided for that purpose.

"CLEAN UP WEEK."

Governor Morehead has issued a proclamation naming the week of April 10th as "Clean Up Week" throughout the state. This "Clean Up Week" should interest every citizen in the state. The mayors of every city and village should issue local proclamations asking their citizens to co-operate in cleaning up and removing all fire dangers. The city or village should furnish men and teams free of charge to haul away waste and rubbish; this would cost only a few dollars, and would probably save the city thousands of dollars from fire waste.

During "Clean Up Week," all fire chiefs should make a special inspection of their territory and compel the change of any conditions which would tend to eliminate the possibility of a fire.

Every commercial club in the state should have a fire prevention committee. The committee should send out a call, asking all citizens to co-operate in making "Clean Up Week" a success.

Woman's clubs should take an interest in the day and ask every member to look into their home conditions with a view of abolishing every possible fire danger.

Never allow old rubbish, waste paper, excelsior, paints, oils, or greasy rags to accumulate in kitchens, attics, closets, cellars, barns, sheds, yards, or alleyways. All old rubbish should be gathered together now during "Clean Up Week" and hauled away and burned.

Asches should be taken away and disposed of.

Gasoline, naphtha, and other volatile oils should not be kept in buildings.

Open flue holes should be covered and protected with metal caps.

Electricity, when improperly installed, is a dangerous fire hazard.

Lamp cords should not be hung on nails or wrapped around any piping; confer with your city electrician when changes are contemplated. Do not allow employees or inexperienced persons to tamper with electrical installations.

Never make a bonfire or a fire to burn rubbish within twenty feet of any building or near a wooden fence or shed. Never make a fire to burn rubbish on a windy day. Great conflagrations have been caused by "sparks" from bonfires and from "burning rubbish."

On March 22nd, the city of Paris, Texas, was almost wiped out of existence by a conflagration which destroyed property worth over $7,000,000. We have no assurance that Nebraska will never be visited by a like calamity.

The Fire Commission Department of Nebraska is interested in making Nebraska have the lowest fire loss possible, and every citizen of the state should be interested in assisting us in this worthy purpose. Seventy-five per cent of our fire loss is due to carelessness and neglect and can be materially reduced.

The fire losses in Nebraska for the last six years show the following amounts:

|      |                |
|------|----------------|
| 1910 | $2,181,058.00 |
| 1911 | 1,788,123.00   |
| 1912 | 2,251,774.33   |
| 1913 | 1,715,676.10   |
| 1914 | 1,873,071.25   |
| 1915 | 1,789,269.00   |

Almost $10,000,000 consumed by fire and relegated to ashes in a short period of six years. This is surely an appalling situation and should make every citizen feel the necessity of curtailing this terrific drain upon the wealth and progress of our state.

We hope "Clean Up Week" will receive the interest of the citizens of the state that it deserves.

W. S. RIDGELL,
Chief Deputy Fire Commissioner.

A Few School Policies.

As the duties of county superintendent are various, the voter has a right to know the opinions of the candidate relating to the duties of that office. In view of that fact I wish to state my policies.

I believe in a hearty co-operation of superintendent with teachers and their work.

I believe in a correct interpretation of all school law as being the best as well as the most economical method of settling all school disputes.

I believe that every teacher should feel free to seek the advice of the superintendent on all questions of school work without fear of criticism from that office.

I believe that a law providing for county uniformity of text books would be beneficial. Under such a law the county superintendent could provide a course of study adapted to the text books in use and comprising the work required by the state course of study, and could supervise the carrying out of this work with some degree of accuracy.

I believe in consolidation of rural schools, when practical, to the end that rural districts may have high school privileges at home at minimum cost.

I believe that a county superintendent should be absolutely just in his dealings with everyone free from the use of the political club on the one hand and from political favoritism on the other.

Yours truly,
J. F. NICOSON.

Seed Corn.

I will have a car of yellow seed corn here within a few days. Will ask you to test out this corn yourself and our price will be $1 per bushel for Nebraska grown corn. Also expect a car of white seed corn in the near future.—E. G. Taylor.

Chase's for fresh groceries.

MAN.

Man is a two-legged animal, but has been known to walk on all fours. He is found in all parts of the temperate region, as far west as Reno, as far east as Newport and as far south as Easy City. He ranges in height from 3 to 7 feet and in importance according to the brands carried by his favorite barrel house. He is often bald-headed on his father's side. He is animal, vegetable and mineral and when soused assays about 4 pounds of brass to the ton. His origin is lost in oblivion, but he is supposed to have come from Kentucky via Boston Back Bay. He came here naked and bare; he goes through with trouble and care and out of here we know not where.

During his stay here he is subject to one continuous round of difficulties and misunderstandings. In his infancy he is a darling and angel. In his boyhood he is a devil, and in manhood he is everything from a lizard up. When he is little, the big girls kiss him; when he gets big the little girls kiss him. If he raises a family, he is a chump; if he raises a check, he is a thief and the law raises Cain with him.

If he is poor he is trashy; if he is rich, he is a rascal.—If he goes to church he is a hypocrite and if he stays at home, he is a sinner. If he dies young, he had a bright future. If he grows old, he lives only to save funeral expenses.

Life is indeed a rocky road, but man likes to travel it just the same.

THE DEVIL HAS QUIT HIS JOB.

The Devil sat by the lake of fire on a pale of sulphur kegs;

His head was bowed upon his breast, tail between his legs;

A look of shame was on his face, but sparks dripped from his eyes,

He had sent his resignation to the throne up in the skies.

"I'm down and out," the Devil said—

He said it with a sob;

There are others that outclass me, and I want to quit my job.

Hell isn't in it with the land that lies along the Rhine;

I'm a has-been and a piker and, there fore I resign.

"One ammunition maker, with his awful shot and shell,

Knows more about damnation than all theimps in hell.

Give my job to Kaiser William or to the Russian Czar,

Or King George, or J. P. Morgan, or such men of war.

"I hate to leave the old home, the spot I love so well;

But I feel that I'm not up-to-date in the art of running hell."

And the Devil spit a squirt of steam at a brimstone bubble bee,

And muttered that he "guessed he'd go and hunt up young John D."

—Henry M. Tichenor in the Rip-saw.

The Logical Candidate

"Nebraska republicans look to the record of Governor Aldrich with some degree of pride when they remember that he has been a man who has accomplished something for the people of this state by way of legislation. It would require almost a column to fully enumerate the reforms and many points which he has accomplished in this direction. Suffice to say, that almost everything looking to a lower passenger, freight or express rate bears the imprint of the efficient work of Governor Aldrich."—Friend Telegraph.

"Governor Aldrich possesses many qualities to make him a popular candidate. He never fails to state definitely where he stands on all public questions. He has the courage of his convictions and stands ready at all times to defend his position."—Albion News.

Governor Aldrich is the logical candidate to nominate because of his strength with the common people, and the fact that the large majority of the voters in Nebraska are familiar with his record and know just where he stands. Republicans who have no axes to grind know that Mr. Aldrich is no experiment as an effective and efficient public servant.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of sale to me directed from the District Court of Sherman County, Nebraska, upon a decree of foreclosure rendered in said court on the 8th day of June, 1915, in an action wherein the Keystone Lumber Company, a corporation, was plaintiff, and Katie Zoucha and Stanislaw Zoucha, her husband; John K. Placek; Joseph J. Placek and Bronislav Placek, his wife; Charles Placek; Stephen Placek; Frank Placek, a minor; Stanley Placek, a minor; Louis Placek, a minor; Joseph J. Placek, administrator of the Estate of Martin Placek, deceased; C. C. Carlsen, Administrator with the will annexed of the Estate of Sophia Placek, deceased; and C. C. Carlsen, were defendants, I have levied upon the following described tract of land, to-wit: The West Half (W<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub>) of Section Sixteen (16), Township Sixteen (16) North, Range Fourteen (14) West of the Sixth P. M. in Sherman County, Nebraska, and I will on the First day of May, 1916, at 2 o'clock P. M. of said day, at the south door of the Court House, in Loup City, Nebraska, offer for sale and sell said real estate at public auction to the highest bidder for cash to satisfy the sums of $377.77 with interest at 7 per cent from June 8, 1915, and $1,835.70 with interest at 10 per cent from June 8, 1915, with costs of action and accruing costs, which amounts were adjudged to be due the plaintiff above named and the cross-petitioner, C. C. Carlsen, respectively, and to be valid liens upon said premises.

Dated this 28th day of March, 1916.

L. A. WILLIAMS,
Sheriff of Sherman County, Nebraska.

Feed Out Your Hogs Six Weeks Earlier.

In every lot of hogs on feed two or three weeks quickly and actually eat less than others. If all would fatten like these, the entire drove would be ready of the market six weeks earlier and to save six weeks feed is an item that you fully understand.

The hog that fattens easily must be in prime physical condition. The B. A. Thomas Hog Powder is a conditioner for hogs. It keeps their system clean and healthy and enables them to fatten quickly without falling a prey to the usual diseases of hogs. The B. A. Thomas Hog Powder is not stock food. It's straight medicine, and we took the agency because it enables you to feed out your hogs much earlier.—J. J. Slominski.
