The Value of Thrift

Extravagance and waste should be changed into the right sort of thrift and economy.

Statistics show that of the 878,798,325 acres of farm land in the United States, but 478,451,750 are now improved, leaving over four hundred million acres unimproved. These farms average 138 acres, with 54 acres improved and 45 acres unimproved.

Statistics show that in the United States 66 out of every 100 people that die leave no estate whatever. That out of the remaining 34 only 9 leave estates larger than $5,000, and that the average of the balance of 25 is less than $1,300.

That at the age of 65, 97 out of every 100 in America are partly or wholly dependent upon relatives, friends, or the public for their daily bread.
