Last Sunday the Happy Hollow ball team preambulated in a southeasterly direction for a distance of several miles where they crossed bats with Cole Creek and we are sorry but not ashamed to say that we got trimmed to the lively tune of 13 to 1, but circumstances nearly always alter the case, as our pitcher run off to Rockville to play second base for Arcadia, leaving us without a 'slat artist' compelling us to try out all the rest of our players to find out which one could pitch and we are not sure yet as to whether any of them can pitch or not, because there were some awful long hits pulled off and our best fielder having a "game" leg and not able to play his position as usual made nearly every hit a safe one, our batters, well there was only one of our men that was able to get in direct communication with the "old horsehide pelt" and he in some unknown way got around to cause the only straight mark on our side of the score board, and their pitcher, we are not exactly certain as to where he hales from but undoubtedly lives in this country and we believe he was "German" as his name begins with "Mc." He stands up somewhere between six and seven feet in height, well muscled and so long armed that some of our less experienced batters would dodge, actually believing that he was making an attempt to slap them when he was only delivering the ball.

LIVE STOCK PRICES AT SOUTH OMAHA

Cattle Market Steady to Lower, Receipts Fair

HOGS ABOUT 10c LOWER

Sheep and Lambs Lower; Large Supply Causes Crash Similar to Last Monday's. No Early Market; Few Clipped Lambs Sell Around Noon at About $10.00.

Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Neb. June 6, 1916. The week opened with a fairly liberal run of cattle, 254 loads or about 6,400 head. Prices seemed to be lower for everything but the strictly good to choice heavy beefers. Owing to the advices from other markets being of a bearish nature, and although the local dressed beef men and shipping buyers had pretty good orders to fill, they wanted the cattle lower, their bids being 10@15c lower. Real choice heavy beefers brought $10.00@10.65, and very good cattle brought $10.15@10.35. The fair to good 1,000 to 1,250 pound beefs sold largely at $9.50@10.00. The supply of the stock was small, and went at about steady prices, the range being from $4.75 to $8.25, bulk of the fair to good butcher and beef stock going at a spread of $6.50@7.50.

Quotations on cattle: Good to choice beefers, $10.20@10.65; fair to good beefers, $9.50@10.10; common to fair beefers, $8.25@9.40; good to choice heifers, $8.00@8.75; good to choice cows, $7.75@8.50; fair to good cows, $6.75@7.75; canners and cutters, $4.50@6.50; veal calves, $9.00@12.00; bulls, stags, etc., $6.50@8.50.

With the exception of a few sales, Monday's hog market was about 10c lower. One or two of the packers needed a few hogs early, and paid prices that were not much more than 5@10c lower, however, there were only a few scattered loads sold this way. Shippers had some orders, but they were not urgent, and were filled at about a 10c reduction after the packers got started. Most of the offerings moved at $9.20@9.30, the top reaching $9.40.

The supply of sheep and lambs for Monday was liberal, some 21 cars, or about 5,300 head. The break at Chicago on last week's close seemed to have a tendency to lower prices here, and as the packers have been protesting for some time that prices were far too high, they promised to get them down to a working basis at the first opportunity. That today was the chance they have been looking for was evident right from the start. Buyers came out at about the usual time, but refused to make a single bid, confining themselves to the prediction that prices would be lower than at last week's close.

Quotations on sheep and lambs: Lambs, spring, $8.00@11.00; lambs, fair to choice, handy, $9.00@10.00; lambs, fair to choice, heavy, $8.50@10.00; yearlings, fair to choice, handy, $8.25@9.00; yearlings, fair to choice, heavy, $7.00@8.25; wethers, fair to choice, $6.75@8.00; ewes, good to choice, $6.50@7.00; ewes, fair to good, $5.00@6.50.

Don't let the flies pester your horses, but go to James Bartunek and get fly nets at lowest prices.

Occasionally we run across a fellow whose mind feeds only on itself. And, forsooth, it's blamed little on which to feed.

It begins to look as though the crowned heads of Europe had grabbed a great big bear by the tail and don't know how to let go.

We can imagine no more distressing sight than to see a beautiful complexion disappearing with the perspiration on a hot summer day.

There is a new calendar out that covers twenty centuries, from 100 to 2,100. And, incidentally, we hope the war will be over by the time a new one is in demand.

Japan is preparing to bite off another slice of hina. But, then, China has 400,000,000 people who can not fight because they have nothing with which to fight. How would you like to be the Chink?

In France medical prescriptions are written in the language of the country, but in the United States they are written in a tongue that has been dead these hundreds of years and which no one understands but the doctors and the druggists. Why?
