Owing to the light receipts, and the good demand from the dressed beef men, the cattle market was about 10c higher than at the close of last week, except on the less desirable and more or less grassy cattle there was some uncertainty and unevenness in the trade, although in many cases prices looked better than the close of last week. Good yearlings sold around $9.60 to $10.15. There was only a few bunches of cows and heifers here and they found a ready sale at strong in higher prices, everything going in good season. Prices ranging from $2.75 to $8.75.

Shippers bought moderately, paying about steady prices for their hogs on Monday's market. The packers also came out at the start of the market with bids that were as much as 5c lower. Before the bulk of the hogs began to sell, however, values got up to a steady basis, and in some instances stronger. The general market was fully steady, average cost being a little stronger. Bulk of the sales were made at $9.60 to $9.75, the top reaching $9.80, also the top for Saturday.
Monday's sheep and lamb run was moderate, arrivals amounting to 25 cars, or about 6,800 head. The demand was good and trade opened in good season on a fully steady basis. The bulk of the good lambs sold at $10.50, while one two-car bunch of Idaho's reached a top of $10.55. The old mutton supply was light, and with a good demand for anything in the ewe, whether or yearling line trade was active at steady prices.
