Don't forget the election supper at the Austin church on November 7th, given by the Austin school. Will serve oysters beginning at noon, until in the evening. General supper at 6 o'clock. Come all.

Neath The Orange and Black.

Can our boys play basket ball, Well I should guess
When they play under colors,
Of the A. H. S.
Our girls too are mighty fast,
In anger they abound,
When they get mad at us poor boys,
They tramp us in the ground.
They say they going to Rockville,
And when they reach that dock,
They won't only tramp 'em in the ground,
But tramp 'em in the rock.
That old orange and black,
The flag of Austin high,
Will win victory after victory,
As the time passes by.
—Pritch's dope.
Homer Ogle visited at the Rentfrow home Sunday.
Wilbur Daddow is enjoying the chicken pox this week.

Miss Ella Werner left on the afternoon motor of last week for Alliance, Scottsbluff and Potter to visit with friends and her brother, Dutch, who is working in a bank at Scottsbluff.
John Hehnke is sick in bed this week, the results of a runaway which he had in the forepart of this week and which might have resulted in a more serious accident than it did.

Thomas Morris passed away to the Great Beyond Wednesday morning of this week after an illness of about a year. The remains were shipped to Morseville in the eastern part of the state.
Another snowfall prevailed in this vicinity last Tuesday. There was no wind accompanying it this time and consequently it did not drift. This is a mighty fine thing for the fall crop of wheat.
Quite a few members of the Royal Neighbor lodge of this town went to Dannebrog on the morning motor last Saturday, where they were entertained by the Royal Neighbor lodge of that place. They returned again on the evening motor.

CLEAR CREEK SAND.

Quite a snow storm for the first one.
Virgil Weller bought some colts at the Ralph Allison sale.
Mr. Burtner and Mr. Mendenhall hauled hogs to town, Saturday.
Ralph Teters will farm the W. F. Spencer farm the coming year.
Ivan Mendenhall lost a few cattle from turning them in corn stalks.

Miss Edwards and Miss Dixon, who have been boarding with Mrs. John Heapy and holding gospel meetings in the school house in District No. 25, closed their meetings Sunday evening.
Ross Hager returned from the west Monday, here he has been holding down a claim that looks like a good chance to win a home, girls, and it is leap year too, but don't all speak at once.

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP.

Have you got your potatoes dug yet?
J. H. Welty was a county seat visitor, Tuesday.
Ed. Welty has been working for Oscar Jewell the past week.
Emil and Albion Malm visited at A. P. Malm's place Saturday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cochran visited at the R. P. McClarey home last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Jewell and Roy Leininger returned Monday from up in Polk county, where they spent a few days visiting with relatives and looking over the country.
Miss Ellen Anderson of Gillette, Wyoming, is visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity. She accompanied Edgar Fowler on his return from an investigation of the western country.
"Old Pa Winter" has put in his appearance a little early and his fine assortment of snow balls will make cornhusking very disagreeable and the majority of the farmers have just got nicely started to harvest their long eared crop.
Frequent visits to the chicken coop and the occasional disappearance of a few bushels of grain in this vicinity are good evidence that some one like Billy Sunday had ought to visit this country and convince some one to change their ways.

BARLEY CROP, 1916.

99,650 acres of barley were grown in Nebraska in 1916 as against 93,480 in 1915. The yield this year was 33.5 as against 32.1 last. The total crop amounted to 3,344,222 bushels worth $2,006,533 as against a crop in 1915 of 3,002,011 bushels valued at $1,200,804.
There are good qualities in all people, but some appear to be making desperate efforts to convince the public that they are the exceptions to the rule.
And here's wishing you unlimited prosperity—with hopes that a little of it may wander around our way.
