THE BOY OR THE HOG.

For some weeks our farmers all over the states and counties have been flocking to the local fairs, some to exhibit to the public the results of their efforts and others to see and observe and profit by the results achieved by their fellows.
 Among the many attractions to be seen at these fairs is the inevitable big fat hog. His hogship usually tips the beam around one thousand pounds, and we stand and marvel at the labor and patience it must have required to develop such swinish perfection.
 Then if we are thinking men our thoughts will probably pass on to wonder if the owner of this marvel has sons of his own, and as to how great an effort he is making to develop them to the highest type to which they are capable of attaining. The hog's owner has been careful to eliminate from its progenitors all that would tend to take from its full and complete development. Has he been just as careful to weed out of his own life habits and traits of character that would militate against the development of his son?
 Often we have seen a boy succeed in life despite the shortcomings of a derelict father, and we have contented ourselves with the simple remark that the boy is a great improvement on the father. The tribute is weak and paltry. Little do we reckon of the fight the boy has waged in order to rise above his surroundings and over come his handicaps.
 Environment is might and powerful for good or evil. The greatest blessing a boy can have is parents who can point and guide him toward higher things, higher heights even than those to which they have attained.
 At the risk of seeming to preach we wish to say to the fathers of this section that when you look up the big hog you have seen the ultimate. Nothing further is obtainable unless, possibly, it be a little more of the same porcine perfection. But when you look upon your small son, how little you can see of the limitless possibilities for good and ill that lie in that small mind and heart, and how your care of him is going to mould his life into almost whatever you may will to make it!
 Why not think less of the big hog and more of the small boy?
JUST NEIGHBORLINESS.
 Stop a minute! Think of the great humanizing quality of neighborliness. Contrast a community where it thrives and flourishes with one where it is a negligible quantity.
 Consider how gregarious a creature is man, and how his very nature demands intercourse with his fellows.
 Sit down and reckon up the percent of your comfort and happiness that depends in whole or in part on the good will of your neighbors.
 Think what you would be without neighbors—a modern Robinson Crusoe, a hermit.
 Honestly, now, don't about nine-tenths of the enjoyments of life come either directly or indirectly from your neighbors? They certainly do.
 Well, now, are you doing your part as a neighbor? Remember, your neighbor needs a neighbor as badly as you do—and you as he. Are you doing your full part to pass along the little acts of neighborliness and kindness that are extended to you? Or are you like the sponge, absorb until you are full and never give up until you are squeezed?
 Now ask yourself this question: "What would this world be if every other man were just like me?"
 Are you a neighbor, or a sponge? Be a neighbor.
WESTERN NEBRASKA AND THE STATE TICKET.
 It has been often said that the entire west end of the state will go for the democratic candidate for governor this fall because he is a western man. Most of these reports, however, come from democrats who wish it were true instead of knowing anything about it. Here is what Mr. A. B. Wood, editor of the Gering Courier, said in a recent issue of his paper:
 "Both political parties had headquarters on the fair grounds. I visited both, too, for I have some friends on the democratic ticket. But it is amusing to hear the foolishness of some of the democratic rooters who are telling the folks down that way that Keith Neville will carry the west end of the state because he is a western man. Take it from me, there is nothing to it. No man who is closely allied to the booze interests and who owes his places on the ticket to that fact alone, can or will carry this section. I know dozens of democrats, and can name them, who will vote for Judge Sutton because of that fact, and when it is considered that the normal republican majority out this way is brutal in size, the fallacy of such a claim becomes apparent. They might claim the wet republican will cross the line to balance the score, but the trouble with that claim is that there are not a corporal's guard of wet republicans in this whole end of the state."—Bloomfield Monitor.
 Rev. E. M. Steen and E. G. Taylor returned home Saturday evening from Hastings.

A man in Washington has made a bust of the President, thus anticipating Mr. Hughes by several weeks.

Discussing the indorsement by the Democratic convention of Texas of Mr. Wilson's Mexican policy, the Houston Post (Dem.) flatly declares: "It is not believed anything like a majority of the people of Texas indorse our Mexican policy, and those in a position to know seriously doubt that the platform adopted expressed the real sentiments of the convention itself."

The Omaha Bee couples woeful waste with watchful waiting as a Democratic failing.

Boiled down, the best that has been said of President Wilson's Mexican policy was that he had good intentions. We've often heard of a road paved with this kind of material.

The President is deceived if he believes that the history he has written is not more praiseworthy than that which he has made.

President Wilson signed the Philippine bill as moving picture cameras clicked. There is one man who is not afraid to have his mistakes recorded!

WILSON CONSISTENT ONLY IN HIS VACILLATION.

As it is with "war," so it is with "intervention." President Wilson has again and again said he would not "intervene" in Mexico. As a matter of fact he has intervened continuously . . . but as he never followed any policy of either intervention or nonintervention with any resolution—always yielding at the critical moment to some bandit chief of whom he became fearful—both his spasms of intervention and his spasms of nonintervention have alike been entirely futile.—From the speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

UNITED STATES SENATOR GILBERT M. HITCHCOCK
CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION

During his service in Washington Senator Hitchcock has helped to give this country: Popular Election of Senators; The Income Tax; Postal Savings Banks; Government Powder and Armor Plants; the Good Roads Act; Government Railroad in Alaska; Tariff Reform; Federal Reserve Act; Farm Loan Act; Clayton Anti-Trust Act; Anti-Child Labor Act, and numerous other reforms.
 He has fought for the guarantee of bank deposits.
 He secured passage of the bill to give the Philippines a larger share in their own government, with a view to Philippine independence.
 He fathered the resolution that saved to the people the coal lands of Alaska.
 He has supported President Wilson in the great policies that have distinguished his administration.
