PAYS FOR 160 ACRES OF LAND

From the Crop of Wheat on 53 Acres in Western Canada.

This story of paying for your land out of one year's crop is fully authenticated by a great many farmers in Western Canada.

And now, all that the farmer makes is velvet and you find him going more extensively into stock raising, for all authorities agree that in a short time there will be a demand for live stock, such as even will tax the vast resources of Western Canada. They will go into stock raising because of the adaptability of the country to provide food and fodder without feeding grain if necessary. They will go into stock and improve their places. They will install steam and heating plantsin fact, many are now doing it. They will have automobiles, in fact in many districts there is not a farmer but has one. They will beautify their homes and erect fine barns until the whole country will be as attractive as many of the counties in the best states in the Union. But we started out to tell you of the farmer who paid for 160 acres of land from the crop of wheat off of 53 acres. The Holden district on the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific does not appear to the ordinary observer to be any better than many department anonunced. other districts along that line, and probably isn't. It was in this district that John Larcome, a settler, purchased in 1915 160 acres of raw prairie land. He broke and seeded 53 acres. His crop turned out well, and ed by Secretary Daniels. he sold the greater portion of it for $2.970. His land cost him $16.50 per acre, or $2.640. So that the crop from the 53 acres paid for the land and left a balance of over $300, which with part of the crop left over would just pay for the cost of operation. This is not really an unusual case, hundreds of other farmers in Alberta and Saskatchewan having been able to do the

WAR DECLARATION EXPECTED

Government Decides to do More Than Merely Attempt to Protect Ships -Unsparing in Money.

Washington.-The American government has decided upon sweeping measures to be put into effect following the expected declaration by congress, soon after it meets, April 2, that a state of war exists between the United States and Germany. Fully appreciating Germany's policy of acting in war first and talking afterward, the government has determined to provide against every possible emergency. Broad questions involved were discussed at a long cabinet meeting, to which heads of departments carried reports on preparations already made and others contemplated. Details are being taken up between President Wilson and the individual cabinet members Regretfully the government apparently has decided that since Germany is making war upon the United States through its ruthless killing of Americans and destruction of their ships, the issue must be met with steps much more far-reaching than mere attempts to protect individual merchant If anything is ahead to prevent this it is not now foreseen. Once a state of war is declared to exist, aggressive measures are expected to be taken.

The exact measure of American participation in the war is not expected be revealed until after the president addresses congress and until public sentiment crystalizes. So far as is known no political alliance with the entente allies is contemplated, although military as well as naval cooperation is possible and the government will be unsparing in both money and supplies for the allies.

The president in his address to congress, is expected to make clear that the American government and people have no quarrel with the German people, but cannot tolerate the acts of the German government.

Whether an army will be sent abroad is one of the questions of the future. It would take many months to train an army for such service and many things may happen in that pertod. But this possibility is being taken into consideration and the government proposes to be ready as soon as practicable.

Just how much money will be asked of congress has not been revealed. A movement is well under way for furnishing the entente allies with an encredits or money. It also is under- the kind the cop carries stood the supply of munitions for the allies will be augmented, rather than Roads Seek Rate Increase.

Washington-The chief railroads of the east have petitioned the interstate commerce commission to amend its rules to permit a general increase in all freight rates. Western railroads notified the commission that they, too, would ask for a general increase and probably will follow the eastern roads in asking for a suspension of the rules. Southern roads are expected to take similar action. The proposed increases probably will range between 10 and 15 per cent, according to location of the roads, with indications pointing to a flat increase of 15 per cent being requested in the case of the eastern roads which carry the great volume of the country's traffic.
