Union Stock Yards, South Omaha, Nebraska, May 8, 1917.—There was a good lively trade in the market for fat cattle, but prices were not much higher than the latter part of last week. All the local packers wanted the cattle and there was a healthy demand for shipping account, so that trade was fairly active all forenoon at steady and in some cases stronger prices. Quality was hardly as good as it was the early part of last week, but right good beefs sold around $11.75@12.75, fair to good, 1,000 to 1,200-pound beefs going around $10.75@11.50, and the common to fair warmed up and short fed selling all the way from $9.25@10.25 and on down. Supplies of the stock were just moderate and the demand was very good from both local packers and outside butchers.
Quotations on cattle: Good to choice beefs, $11.00@12.75; fair to good beefs, $10.50@11.50; common to fair beefs, $9.90@10.25; good to choice heifers, $9.75@10.25; good to choice cows, $9.50@10.50; fair to good cows, $8.50@9.50; canners and cutters, $5.50@7.75; veal calves, $9.00@12.50; beef bulls, $6.50@9.75.
The week opened out with the largest Monday hog run for some time, supplies being estimated at 117 cars, or 8,500 head. Shippers bought a few hogs at figures that were about a dime lower and in the end killers got their hogs on about the same basis, however, their early bids ranged from 15c to in extreme cases 20c lower, but they finally raised their hands and bought the big end of the supply at a big 10c lower prices. The general market was not very active, and most of the sales were made at figures that were around 10c lower.
Packers started talking lower prices on lambs right at the outset, while sellers were asking a fresh advance, and while everything pointed to a fully steady trade, not much had been done up to 11 o'clock. Packers got a few old sheep at fully steady prices, buying clipped ewes up to $11.00@11.85, and also bought a load of prime native spring lambs at $17.50, but aside from these sales, not much had been done.

Proper Food for Weak Stomachs.
The proper food for one man be all wrong for another. Every one should adopt a diet suited to his age and occupation. Those who have weak stomachs need to be especially careful and should eat slowly and masticate their food thoroughly. It is also important that they keep their bowels regular. When they become constipated or when they feel dull and stupid after eating, they should take Chamberlain's Tablets to strengthen the stomach and move the bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect.

CANNING BEGINS.
The 1917 canning season has begun. Asparagus, rhubarb, and dandelions are now ready for the housewife to put up for winter use, and other products from the garden will also be ready soon. The present food shortage, which promises to become acute next winter, will be overcome in some degree if each family has a large supply of canned stuffs for winter use. Products which would otherwise go to waste will thus be saved. Full directions for canning will be sent free upon application to the Extension Service, University Farm, Lincoln.

NOTICE TO DOG OWNERS.
Dog licenses are now due and payable to the city clerk. The city marshal has been instructed to impound and kill all dogs that do not have the license tag required by the city.
PETER ROWE, City Clerk.
