Methodist.

The Epworth League of the M. E. Church are going to have a social on Wednesday evening, July 18. Everybody come! We will endeavor to show you a good time. Come! Come!

We had our first taste of spring chicken last week through the kindness of Mrs. Ling. We are the official tasters for this vicinity and if you want your spring chickens graded high we are ready to sample them. Those brought us by Mrs. Ling are the finest we have eaten this spring. There are surely some more around here that need eating.

172 was a good attendance at Sunday school for so warm a day and the morning audience was correspondingly large. Elsie Oltjenbruns led a very interesting League meeting. Every body seemed to enjoy the evening discourse at the Presbyterian church by Rev. Powers. The Ladies' Aid society is not dissolved by the hot weather and meets with Mrs. Hayhurst this week.

Next Sunday at 10:30 we want to deal with some of the realities upon which we can all base our confidence in these times when we are specially in need of such assurances. Subject: "The Remedy for Uncertainty." Rev. Dunn will preach at the union service at the Methodist church at eight o'clock. Come on time if possible to all services. Epworth League led by Lila McNulty at 7 o'clock. Topic: "What I Would do with a 'fortune.'" What is your standard young people and which is Christ's, the devotional meeting or the ball game?

Sunday, July 22 at 10:30 we will have a baptismal service. We invite all the parents who have little folks they would like to have baptised to please be present on that occasion. We would be glad to learn of older ones desiring baptism. We will receive new members that morning by confession of faith or by letter. We will also have our third quarterly communion service and folks of all faiths are cordially invited.
