EIGHTEENTH YEAR.
NEBRASKA STATE JOURNAL
Pronounced by all Nebraska's Leading Republican Newspaper.
PUBLISHED AT THE CAPITAL.
THE DAILY JOURNAL.
Eight Large Pages, with Sunday Supplement.
The year 1888 will be one of almost unprecedented importance to the American people, in that it will witness one of the most interesting and exciting political campaigns in the history of the country. It will be of great local interest to the people of Nebraska, as several engrossing issues in the state will demand their attention for intelligent decision. The submission question and the election of a United States senator are questions that every intelligent voter should most squarely and decide for himself. In view of these facts it behooves every citizen to select wisely his source of information for the coming year. For the year 1888 THE NEBRASKA JOURNAL will be such an epitome of current events that no intelligent citizen can afford to be without it, no matter of what shade of political belief. Since our last announcement extensive arrangements have been perfected by THE JOURNAL, for receiving and handling the news of the day and the publishers are pleased to announce that for the year 1888 THE JOURNAL will be second to no paper published west of Chicago as a general newspaper. With the reports of the Associated Press and the United Press associations, and with telegraphic news leading direct to its editorial rooms from all parts of the world, its telegraphic columns will be found each day replete with the latest intelligence. In addition to these facilities THE JOURNAL maintains an able corps of special correspondents distributed all over the state, besides those located at Washington, D. C., Chicago and other of the principal news centers of the country. Published at the state capital THE JOURNAL will always contain the latest news from the state departments and proceedings of the supreme court which are of special interest to Nebraska readers. The news of the day will be discussed and commented upon in its editorial columns. In addition to these special articles will appear from time to time from the most gifted writers in the country, our market reports from the principal trade centers of the world will be complete and accurate, and in many other respects THE JOURNAL will be found to be the leading newspaper of the West.

THE SUNDAY JOURNAL.
