House Favors Repeal of Deficiency Judgments

Cone Bill to Combat Unfair Prices in Foreclosures Ordered to Its Third Reading.

By George W. Kline. Lincola, Nebr .- After several hours of oratory Wednesday, the house advanced to third reading Cone's ball. H. R. 10, to ban deficiency judgments in foreclosure sales. The vote was 84 to 12

House Roll 11, providing for a moratorium, has also been reported out after a prolonged tussle with the judiciary committee. This bill is also by Cone

Progressive action by the senate and house is expected to have the effect of decreasing the number of holiday marchers next week. Among the people there have been reports of lobbying in Lincoln and decisive gains made by the forces of reaction. The report has gone out that nothing will be done in the way of immediate relief in tax reduction, stopping foreclosures or cutting high salaries. The outcome of the debate on the deficiency judgment bill was awaited with interest throughout the state

A carefully drawn bill to prevent deficiency judgments was the measure prepared by representative Chase of Omaha. H. R. 161 prevented the confirmation of a sale bringing less than the face of the mortgage, and thus eliminated all chances of law judgments on notes in addition to or before foreclosure.

A powerful effort is being made to defeat all legislation aimed at placing lodge and church property now exempt on the tax lists. Van Kirk's bill to place fraternal property on the tax Wednesday afternoon.

The house has passed the jury service bill for women with the optional the bill, but wanted compulsory jury service for women.

DINNER TO VICE PRESIDENT White House

At a table set with golden knives and forks, the president and Mrs. Hoover were dinner hosts to Vice President Curtis and his sister and official hostess, Mrs. Dolly Gann. Around the huge golden laden table in the state dining room were 69 other guests, many of them of national prominence and in cluding John D. Rockefeller, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edsel Ford, and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey S. Firestone, Jr. To Mrs. Gann went the seat of honor at Mr. Hoover's right, while the vice president sat at the right of Mrs. Hoover. All ate from the gold laid plate used on state occasion

Others prominent among the guests were Will H. Hays, former postmaster general, and Mrs. Hays; Myron C. Taylor, steel magnate, and Mrs. Taylor; Governor Buck of Delaware, and Mrs. Buck; Robert P. Lamont, former secretary of commerce, and Mrs. La-

Is Blue Monday

While the storm wa son last Monday, several chills of reaction ran I. B. Smith. along the spines of the wheelhorses of democracy. The progressives in the state looked askance at the failure to inaugurate real code repeal last week. However, they were reassured by promise of more aggressive action against duplication in the senate.

Three political short circuits happened in a row on this stormy Monday The house ordered H. R. 281 to third reading, despite the appeal from Muir for further consideration. This bill effectually wipes out the advances made in the handling of first offenders in penal institutions and places reformatories on the same basis as penitentiaries. It developed that Mrs. Benson of the board of control had urged the Kans. passage of the measure and printed copies of the bill were not available until Monday morning.
