AS OTHERS SEE IT

Conducted by Mr. Gaitha Pegg, 1942
Vine Street, Lincoln

(Send letters to W. Gaitha Pegg, 1942 Vine St., Lincoln. Letter writers will please sign their names, but they will not be revealed if so desired.)

Dear Sir:

Before the last election I was constantly worried by some communist seeking to convert me to his atheistic religion or beliefs. It seemed strange to me that these people would lower the capitalists as much as possible, yet everything they wore and all the modern conveniences which they seem to enjoy as much as anyone were due to production by capitalism. I am also wondering why it is that these radicals seem to choose the ignorant and the dejected to practice upon. A little smooth talk will easily beguile an ignorant man and a vivid imaginary picture will influence a disheartened man as does a mirage fool the thirsty. It seems a bit absurd at this day and time to try and picture communal ownership and people herded together and being driven about as cattle, not having the intelligence to recognize a supreme king.

When I spoke of religion and cited examples of destruction of churches in Russia and asked if they believe in God, the reply was, "We question that," and with that the argument broke up.

Yours truly,
JOE CABELL

Dear Sir:

I know a number of people in this town who do more talking after an election about who should have been put in office and why, than do the executives in office. I had listened to just a lot of such stuff one day, and I happened to ask the "jawer" whom he voted for, and he replied that he hadn't registered and could not vote.

As foolish as this is, it is done time and again by those who are too lazy or disinterested to take their rightful part in an election, yet they expect things to turn out as they desire them.

I noticed in last issue of the paper a reminder that it was time for eligible voters to register. I think this was a very timely reminder and that if it were heeded, it would lend more weight to the self-esteemed politicians talk and would make better citizens out of a lot of us.

I believe that the people should be constantly urged, through your paper, to vote.

South Africa's Headquarters

The seat of government in the Union of South Africa is Pretoria, in the Transvaal, while the seat of legislature is Cape Town, Cape of Good Hope province. The Dutch, who founded South Africa, seemed to favor the separation of the executive and legislative branches of government in two different cities. The Kingdom of the Netherlands, which in point of blood is one of the mother countries of the South African state, has the same arrangement—The Hague, in South Holland province, being the seat of government, while the legislature sits at Amsterdam.

Taxi Telephone Number Big

Taxi users in Budapest, Hungary, have gotten what they desired—a central taxi station for all machines. But the number given it by the telephone company, they say, is just too much. It is 4444. Imagine, declare those who enjoy Saturday nights, feeling that you need a taxi, and then have to tell central you want "four-double-four-double-four."

Originators of Patents

Thomas A. Edison received more than a thousand patents and was regarded as the most prolific of American inventors. John F. O'Connor has been granted over 850 since 1904, and Dr. Elihu Thompson, Carleton Ellis and Dr. Reginald Fessenden each has over 500.

Cause of Blushing

Blushing is merely a form of "side-tracked" thinking, says a professor of philosophy at Swarthmore college. Blushing, he asserted, is caused by blood rushing to the face. Thinking is caused by the same process, only that the blood rushes to the brain.

How Mantles Protects Eggs

The mantles (predatory insects) employ the same principle as that which makes the thermos bottle effective, when they protect their eggs from changes in temperature by surrounding them with masses of air bubbles.

"Be Sure You're Right"

The origin of the phrase "Be sure you're right, then go ahead," is attributed to David Crockett, one of the intrepid defenders of the Alamo, Texas, who was shot under the direction of Santa Anna March 6, 1836.

Rabbit Takes Desperate Chances

"A hunter," said Uncle Eben, "hates a pore little rabbit dat's trying to git away. De rabbit don't mean no harm, but is compelled to act like he thought he was smarter dan a shotgun and a dog and a man, all three."

Rifle Bird Is Colorful

An Australian forest bird related to the birds of paradise is called rifleman, or rifle bird, because its colors and ornaments reminded the Colonists of the old uniform of the British rifle brigade.

More Females

The actual male and female population of the earth is not known, but it is estimated around two billion persons and it is also presumed that females slightly outnumber males.

Artery

The word "artery" harks back to time when men thought that these blood vessels contained air. The word is taken from "aer," meaning "air," and "terein," to keep.

Enameling Improved

An improved enameling iron is said to have exceptional bonding qualities, reducing imperfections and giving greater resistance to chipping and flaking.

Eskimos' Height, Age

Eskimos are usually between 62 and 64 inches in height. They are a short-lived people, individuals rarely attaining an age much beyond sixty years.

Central Heating

"Central heating," by means of heaps of leaves and other decaying matter, is used by the termites, or white ants, in warming their nests.

Lets Dogs Ride Free

Foreign Boxers Won Much Cash

Starting with Georges Carpentier, foreign boxers have earned some $5,000,000 in fights in the United States.

Grape Production

California produces over 85 per cent of the country's grapes, New York ranking second with 9 per cent.
