ular profession.

STAR VAN MOVES MAN

HARRY A. SHABEN

Candidate for City Commissioner

I am not a politician and have never held a political office. Therefore, I am not influenced by any political group, and if the voters of the city of Lincoln nominate me as a councilman at the primary election April 4th, I pledge myself to carry on the duties of the office appointed to my charge in a careful, honest and business like way. To discharge my official duties in harmony with the expressed wish of the voters, to stand fearless and firm as a representative of the citizens of Lincoln, regardless of color or creed, and in each and every problem that may come before me, they will be given rigid and careful consideration from every business angle before action is taken.

MRS. GEO. H. WENTZ CANDI- DATE FOR RE-ELECTION TO SCHOOL BOARD

Mrs. Geo. H. Wentz, the only woman member of the Lincoln Board of Education is a candidate for re-election. Mrs. Wentz, who is also an active church and civic worker, has held many important positions in local, state and national educational activities.

She has served efficiently one term on the Board of Education. Being the wife of a successful business man and the mother of three grown children who went through the Lincoln schools, she naturally has more time to give to solving the many problems that face the School Board, than would others who have business to look after.

Mrs. Wentz has served as State Chairman of the American Child Health Association—this appointment being made by the State Department of Health. She was the first State President of the Parent-Teachers Association and held this position four years. She also served four years on the Board of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Mrs. Wentz has had ten years of practical business experience.—Political adv.

GOB HUMOR

They were sitting in a restaurant in San Francisco, the sailor and his sweetheart, when suddenly she pointed to another table.

"Who's that officer over there?" she asked.

"Why, that's our chaplain," he replied.

"Why don't you ask him to join us?" she suggested.

"It's O. K. with me, sweetie," said the gallant tar. "Just name the day."

—U. S. S. Texas Steer.

Nice Missus

Mother (calling on daughter in new situation)—Well, how d'yer like yer new missus?

Daughter—She's quite affectionate. She called me "Dear, dear," when I dropped a trayful of tea things this afternoon.—Weekly Telegraph, Sheffield.

Source and Mouth

A fourth grade teacher recently asked, in an examination, for the source and mouth of the Mississippi river.

One paper contained the following answer: "The source is in Minnesota and the mouth is at the other end."

How to Know Your Soul Mate

Joe—How come you go steady with Eloise?

Hal—She's different from other girls.

"How is that?"

"She's the only girl who will go with me."—Border Cities Star.

MIGHT BE WORSE

"Misfortunes never come singly."
"Oh, I don't know; Henry VIII had only one wife at a time."

No Wonder He Was Poor

Blinks—You say the old-fashioned blacksmith was a dumb egg?

Jinks—He certainly was. When a horse was brought in to be shod he didn't find forty other things it needed to have done to it.

Natural Query

Teacher—Are there any more questions you would like to ask about whales?

Small Girl—Teacher, what has the prince got to do with them?—Washington Star.

Disillusioned

Admirer—I will give you a gold coin if you get me a lock of the famous author's hair.

Barber—How many coins if I get you the whole wig?—Sigurd Ex Zof-naen.

Salesmanship

"I'd like some soap, please."

"We have just the thing, miss, for that delicate peace blossom complexion—"

"It's not soft soap I want."

Look Out for the Big Boss

Mr. Bigmitt—You're a hen-pecked little shrimp!

Mr. Peewee—I'll bet you wouldn't dare say that in the presence of my wife.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Postpone All Endearments

Mrs. Nagger—Darling, I'm sorry I've been so mean to you lately.

Mr. Nagger—Well, this is a fine time to be sorry, I'm dead broke.— Pathfinder.

BREVITIES

Haiti recently increased all taxes.

Czechoslovakia has placed a consumption tax on yeast.

Football at Sing Sing returned $10,000 profit last season, more than many college teams earned.

TIMELY THOUGHTS

"Competition is between human beings, not sexes."—Anne Morgan.

"No man is great until all other men are small."—G. K. Chesterton.

"The use of land is the best form of unemployment insurance."—Henry Ford.

"The attainment of an ideal is often the beginning of a disillusion."—Stanley Baldwin.

"I do not look for a boom. Gradual prosperity is often better than a boom."—Otto H. Kahn.

"Russia is concentrating on air power as no other country in the world."
—Lady Drummond Hay.

"It is apparently easier to grow old gracefully than it is to keep young gracefully."—Fannie Hurst.

"To become an opera star is no pink tea, but means the hardest kind of uphill work."—Claudia Muzio.

"We need a new type of institution distinct from hospital provision, namely, a health hostelry."—Lord Dawson of Penn.

"The world will emerge from its present economic ordeal healthier, stronger and happier than before."— Sir Arthur Keith.

FLYING CHIPS

A day of hard productive work is the best satisfaction.

Father Time and Death travel together and compare notes.

Send those you like away with a smile and they'll come back.

Their blows are worth money.

What makes Russians patriotic is that they are all in the same boat.

all the coal you put in your cellar.

Is life worth living? Well, isn't it worth living, better than you live it?

lots of people will think you're showing off.

Don't encourage a son to defer to your judgment too much or he won't have any spunk.

ble falsehood, but after that you need a whole chain of them.

One may be one of those who cannot get over preferring the old-fashioned gold wedding ring as thick as a $20 gold piece and nearly as heavy.

MEN AND WOMEN

Beauty draws more than oxen.

Pretty faces are often masks for vacant minds.

No man so ignorant but may teach as something.

When a man "doesn't know what to say," he generally turns red.

There is tact in letting a lady talk if she wants to; also discretion.

A woman hater simply hasn't met the right woman and won't allow himself to.

The paint a middle-aged woman puts on her face never fools the rheumatism in her joints.

First thing many an angry woman does when she has a flare-up with another woman is to plan a party and leave her out.

Trapping of Beavers

About one hundred years ago trapping of the beaver constituted one of the foremost occupations of the early settlers, and one report on record shows that in 1825, a trapper on the San Francisco river in Arizona, caught 250 beaver in two weeks. Prices paid for beaver pelts in those days were small but steadily increased with the shortage of the animals until in 1920, during the fur boom, a first grade beaver pelt brought as high as $100.

Red-Tailed Hawk Gets Chickens

The red-tailed hawk is the real chicken snatcher among hawks. He has a large wing spread and his length from head to tail is almost two feet.
Seen from below he appears whitish or tawny, with brown streaks, the tail gray, with a band of black near the end and "tipped" with white. From above he is a dull brown, streaked with grayish or rusty red markings, the tail chestnut.

Prettier Than Pearl

The abalone shell is by many artists considered more beautiful than the pearl, to which it bears a certain resemblance. It presents an immense variety of beautiful, iridescent tones on a pearly substance. Moonstones, which though only semi-precious, are of exquisite delicacy, are cast up by the ocean on its shores.

Use of Postage Stamps

Each man, woman and child in the United States uses one postage stamp every other day if he or she is an average person. More than 16 billion stamps are printed every year by our government. It is stated that the cost of printing these stamps is 6½ cents a thousand.

Flies Breed in Zero Weather

Just as there are insects that can survive a great deal of heat there are others that can withstand a remarkable amount of cold. Certain flies in Alaska conduct their nuptial ceremonies in deep ice-crevices where the temperature is below zero.

Harvest Throughout Year

Harvesting the world's crops continues throughout the year. In January Australia is at work, February finds Egypt and southern India at work while March continues with Egypt, Africa and India.

Colored Snow

Red snow has been reported at various times from such places as Greenland, Italy, Germany, etc.; other colors such as green and yellow have also been observed. These colors are said to be due to minute organisms.

Making Prisons Homelike

If prisons were fitted up with libraries, center tables, rag carpets, and canary birds, maybe they would look so much like home that people would try to keep out of them.—Cincinnati Times-Star.

Beginning of Glass Making

America's glass-making industry first got its start at the beginning of the Seventeenth century at Jamestown, Va., where an English company operated for a few years.

Has Highest Church Tower

The Ulm Minster is famous not merely for its history and beauty, but also for the fact that it has the highest church tower in the world, rising to a height of 529 feet.

When Highway Work Booms

The operation of the highway transport system and related industries in the United States are responsible for the employment of approximately 3,500,000 workers.

Noiseless Hammer

Called a "noiseless hammer," an invention in Germany forces a nail through a metal channel as pressure is applied with the aid of a handle.

20,000 Mennonites in Kansas

Kansas has 213 Mennonite churches, with 20,000 members. Mennonites in the states west of the Mississippi number more than 150,000.

Eel Swallowed Cod

When a 50-pound conger eel was opened at Lowestoft, England, recently, a cod weighing 8½ pounds was found inside.

U. S. Mail Is Heavy

The United States handles as much mail as the nations of Great Britain, Germany, France and Russia combined.

Lion Cubs' Eyes Open at Birth

Although most members of the cat tribe are born with their eyes closed, lion cubs are born with theirs open.

Black Postage Stamps

A black postage stamp is issued only when a President dies in office, as in the case of President Harding.
