Campus News

Lincoln is again the scene of activity especially in its institutions of higher learning. All over the country colleges and universities are crowded to capacity and the University of Nebraska is no exception. This is evidence of the fact that young America is truly taking advantage of its educational opportunities in order that it can cope with this modern atomic world. Young Negro America with its double problem to cope with has to be doubly prepared.

Frequently the actual number of Negro students enrolled in the university and colleges at Lincoln are never generally known. But this year we are going to start you out right with the complete list of students (at least I tried to make it complete.) Through the school year we will try to keep you informed of college happenings.

The following are a list of students attending the university of Nebraska.

Lydia Melsena Goolsby, Charlotte, Preston, Betty Jean Patrick, Juanita Hanger, Elouise Jones, Ruth Norman, Jeanne Malone, Stanley Cooke, Joyce Williams, Pamana Banks, Lynwood, Parker, James Broxton, Louis Carpentier, Robert Weston, Courtland Bivens, Felix Williams, Bernard Grice, Frank Hale, Ira Gibson, Henry McWilliams, Ernest Cruder, Price Terrel, Daniel Pipkins, Richard Harrison, James Cole, Joseph Casmer, David Schnitger, Thomas Modler, Mr. and Mrs. Granville Coggs, Mr. and Mrs. Ruby Shakespeare.

These are the names of the students attending Union College this year.

Ignacio Carrillo, Sydney O. Beaumont, J. Davis Butler, LeCount Butler, Samuel E. Gooden, Roy F. Mathews, Jimmie Valentine, Gaines Partridge, Ambrose Mason, Krishma Lamname, V. M. Barrea, A. L. Hobby, A. W. Donnelly, William Vidats, W. Bryant, Ruth Saddler, M. D. Valentine, Mr. and Mrs. H. Salexander, Mrs. Bernard.

One student at Wesleyan University.
Roland Delaney.

In an effort to acquaint the students attending the University and Colleges in Lincoln with each other and the community the Lincoln Urban League is giving a party Saturday, October 12th which you can read about next week in this column.
