Sunday School Lesson By Rev. R. E. Handy

Paul Ministers to the Thessalonians Scripture Text—Acts 17:1-11; 1st Thess. 1:2-8 Memory Selection: "Be not weary in well doing" 2nd Thess. 3:13 Topic: How Christ Changes People.

Present day application: Thessalonica was the chief sea port city of Macedonia. For many hundreds of years commerce of the whole province had poured through its portals, both imports and exports.

The population had prospered and gained great wealth.

Paul, Silas and Timothy poor Jews came into their midst preaching the gospel. Poor men and Jews did not receive a welcome.

Paul, just out of prison, dusty and be-draggled was scorned most of all. But he was a tent maker and he went to work at his trade to support them.

After many heart breaks and aches they succeeded in forming a church in the home of one Jason. The start of the church was accomplished by personal Evangelism.

Integrity, personality, faith and spiritual power in preaching, won out and the entire city began to come to hear the gospel.

Paul behaved himself as became a Christian. Christians today should take Paul's example and practice what they profess and let their deeds demonstrate their creed.

In this way we will have power both with God and man.

Things Worthwhile

J. T. Wright

What a pleasant thought comes to my mind, When thinking of those who are passing from time; from this world and its strife through the wilderness of sin and shame, when we can say with open hearts the Lord has taken his own.
