College Students Conference

(Mo.), Bennett, A & T (Greensboro), N. C. State college, Johnson C. Smith, S. C. State, Fisk and Hampton. Among the white institutions that sent interracial delegations were Columbia university, Hunter college, the University of Chicago and the University of Michigan. In all, 50 Negro students were in attendance.

Three of the Negro students were members of the American delegation to the World Student congress at Prague last summer. William Ellis, a recent graduate from Harvard where he was treasurer of the student council and a track star, was elected an international vice president of the International Union of Students. As a leader in the student section of the YMCA and a member of the National Intercollegiate Christian council, he will go to Europe again this winter to attend the executive committee meeting, and also to represent the student protestant movement at the World Student relief.

Walter Wallace, one of the group from Columbia university, represented Youthbuilders, Inc., at the congress last summer and is a member of the International Council.

Charles Proctor, formerly of Fisk, but now serving as an instructor at the University of Illinois where he is working for his master's degree in chemistry, was vice chairman of the delegation to the congress last summer. He is a prominent member of the Committee for the Chicago Students' congress which acted as host to the group.

This is what Mr. R. T. Malone, president of the Lincoln Urban League has to say:

There is certainly a need in the community for such a publication to cover the things not being covered by the existing mediums of publication.

It is the only way of getting the complete coverage of news in order that the public may be informed as to the economic, social and educational welfare of the negro people.

I am a subscriber and have read every issue of "The Voice" and commend the staff on a fine job.
