West Africa is Next Hopping Ground for White Domination

According to the Ashanti Pioneer, a daily newspaper published in Kumasi, Gold Coast, West Africa will soon be the next hopping ground for white domination and colonial exploitation after the Indians have wrested freedom from the British.

The Pioneer's article has created quite a sensation in African educated circles. It says: "The bones of such pioneers as David Livingstone, Mungo Park, etc., must be turning in their graves for the abuse by their successors of the sacrifices and the moral basis on which they founded the British Commonwealth of Nations.

"Freedom is in the blood. No race of people could be ruled by aliens forever. The day of reckoning inevitably breaks. The master flees and the servant comes into his own. This is the verdict of history.

"As British domination of India and the middle east comes to an end, West Africa should be considered the next hopping ground for white settlement and white domination. Whether this is dismissed as mere guess work or whether it is among the undeclared plans of imperial policy, it is inevitable that unless the present self-styled master races change their attitude towards the other colored races of the world, there can be no lasting anchorage for them in any other part of the world.

One wit has said that governments never grow wiser from past experience. The British government is no exception. No one is deceived that the British government had learned its lessons from what is happening in India, the middle east and elsewhere. When India's demand for her independence was at one time being discussed in parliament, one statesman is reported to have said that Britain will not repeat her mistakes. But this was mere lip service. In every corner of the empire the same exploitation, subjugation, oppression and repression continues.

But West African nationalism is on the rise; it is being spurred on and there is every reason to believe that in the very near future it will surely establish itself firmly. It is realized how more than ever before that West Africans can never gain independence gratis. They must fight to win it; they must struggle as all others have struggled to overthrow the yoke of imperialism, serfdom and exploitation.
