The Sports Front

with Howard "Smoky" Molden

With baseball just about to make its last bid for the season Lincoln fans have one more big treat of the season. On Sept. 24th we find the Ind. Clowns and Kansas City Monarchs mixing it up at Sherman Field in what should be one of the best ball games of the season. Those who thrilled to the playing of their favorite star Goose Tatum will once more get to see him in action again with the Clowns.

Roy Campanella who has been catching for the Montreal Royals for the last couple of seasons has won himself a place on the all-star team. His hitting has averaged about 300 for the season. It's rumored that he is to report to the Detroit Tigers next spring. Watch Taliaferro, Towler and Robinson

Now that the great grid game is rapidly moving back into the sports spotlight and the big teams are in their camps getting set for a banner season, here are a few sparkling stars in the collegiate picture who will bear watching when the opening whistle blows.

While Coach "Bo" McMillan is rubbing his hands in glee, George Taliaferro is back home in Indiana. Watch for his name in the headlines for the Hoosier hustlers.

At Pitt, good old Jimmy Joe Robinson, rated by Coach Wes Fesler while he was the Panther tutor as the Pitt's best back, is back in the harness after a stretch in the Army, and rarin' to go. Teamed up with Jimmy Joe will be another promising sepiu back from last year—Robert E. (General) Lee.

While up at Washington Jefferson, the brilliant Deacon Dan Towler, halfback extraordinary, and now named "Mr. Inside," will be dominating the spotlight again. But this season he will have a capable little backfield scooter named Cooper who has already gained the title of "Mr. Outside."

So just watch the headlines for names like Taliaferro, Towler, Lee, Robinson, and Cooper when the leaves come tumbling down.
