

Teen Age Chatter

By Dorothy Green

Hello There:
Last week you might have noticed a few important articles were missing from TAC, but I will try and make up for it this week.

We are all glad to see Eugene Graham in civies again. He was looking most sharp Saturday night.

Some of the important items left out of TAC last week were Jimmy Myers was in our fair city the same Sunday "Nate" Harvey was, but not for the same reason because he came to see none other than Joyce Williams.

Bernadine Napue had a real goon party the other night. Some of the guests were Nellie Wilson, Johnnie Duncan, Ruby Harper, Johnnie Vaughn, Vernita Napue, and Ernie Cruder. A nice time was had by those attending.

The Teen Age Club had its Hallowe'en party Saturday night I heard. If I were to name all the teen-agers who were there I would be writing from now until next month, so I won't try, because there is something else I want to say: The TA Club has planned a Vice Versa party for Saturday, November 8, so all of you girls better get you a nice boy to take.

Keeping up with the fashions—Betty Wilson looked most great in slacks and hooded coat.

The boys are fashion-wise too as was evident when I saw Jerry Thomas (N.U.) looking sharp in a sports jacket and trousers and Ben Ali looked neat in his grey suit.

Answers to last week's "Guess Who."

1. Motorcycle King, Lavanda Hill.
2. Blue Streak Sunday Man, Ralph Wilson.
3. The Eyes on 20th St., Lopy Finley.
4. The Switch on T St., Lois Hatcher.
5. Sulfa-Sulfa Gal, "Tony" Smith.

Seen around the N.U. campus quite a bit nowadays are Floratine Crawford and Otis Brown.

If an egg breaks while boiling, put a small amount of vinegar in the water. This will seal the egg back in the shell.

When shaking out a small rug, hold it by the sides, as the weight of the rug will pull the threads apart if it's held by the ends.

Warriors vs. Clippers

BY HUBERT H. WHITE
HONLOULU. (ANP). The Hawaiian Warriors, professional football team, have convinced this writer that they are capable of taking on the Chicago Bears. In the opening game last week they slapped the San Francisco Clippers with a score of 12-12, while 13,000 fans cheered.

This week the Warriors came on to the field and gave the Clippers one of the severest lashings ever seen here. They walked away with a 42-12 victory before 12,500 well pleased fans.

The San Francisco Clippers' mainstays are Mel Reid, Al Alston, Walt Gordon and Don Welcher. These Negro stars left no doubt in the minds of the fans as to their playing ability.

Dark Merit
BY KATHRYN FAVORS.
Poems by Negro Poets.

Other people do not believe the Negroes have sorrows. They think that Negroes are continuously happy because they can laugh and appear cheerful. The following poem expresses this thought:

I like this poem:
Violets.
I had not thought of violets of late,
In wistful April days, when lovers mate
The wild, shy kind that spring beneath your feet
And wander through the fields in raptures
sweet.
The thoughts of violets meant florists'
shops.
And bows and pins, and perfumed papers
fine;
And garish lights, and mincing little tops,
And cabaret and songs, and deadening
wine.
So far from sweet real things my thoughts
had strayed.
I had forgot wide fields and clear brown
streams:
The perfect loveliness that God has made—
Wild violets shy and Heaven mounting dreams
And now unwittingly, you've made me dream
Of violets, and my soul's forgotten gleam.
Mrs. Alice Dunbar-Nelson.
My people laugh and sing
And dance to death—
None imagining
The heartbreak under breath.
Charles Bertram Johnson.
We travel a common road, Brother—
We walk and we talk much the same:
We breathe the same sweet air of heaven
Strive alike for fortune and fame;
We laugh when our hearts fill with gladness,
We weep when we're smothered in woe;
We strive, we endure, we seek wisdom;
We sin—and we reap what we sow.
Yes, all who would know it can see that
When everything's put to the test,
In spite of our color and features,
The Negro's the same as the rest.
Leon R. Harris.

Botts. Also that Mrs. Anna Allen is back after spending a few days in Hannibal, Missouri with friends and relatives.

Mrs. Vernon Lawer spent the week in Sioux City, Iowa and Stevens, South Dakota. In Sioux City she visited Mr. and Mrs. John Barber. Mr. Barber and his mother accompanied her to Stevens.
