The Sunday School Lesson

By R. E. Handy.

Subject: "The Prince of Peace."
Scripture Text: Isa. 9:2-7 Rev.

8-15.
Memory Verse: "Glory to God in the Highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men." Luke 2:14.

Application.

For our Christmas lesson we have "The Prince of Peace." A human story that will never grow old.

The first half of our scripture is taken from Isaiah that great prophet who foretold the first coming of Jesus, and his virgin birth.

This season of the year in particular, should be a season of peace and joy, but sad to say we give our gifts to those who give us.

Too often we give more than we can afford.

Seven-eighths of the world is hungry today. Millions of little boys and girls will not have bread this Christmas let alone a sled or doll.

As you eat your turkey and gather around your gaily lighted tree, can't you see the gaunt eyes and hollow cheeks of these little tikes and think of the "Prince of Peace who was born in a manger, and lived to say: "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

The last half of our lesson takes up the second coming of Jesus, not on a mission to teach men how to live, but as King to all the faithful.

Then, there will be no gaunt eyes, or hollow cheeks. All will be well fed. Peace will abound, for the trouble makers will be "Cast into outer darkness."

Gang here's hoping Old Santa will bring you everything you want this Christmas.

The Teen Age Club will have its Christmas party December 20th. It will be formal and some very beautiful girls will be clad in some fine formals. The boys won't look so bad either.

The 4-H Club will have its annual Christmas party December 19th. There will be many guests invited. Refreshments will be served and we will spend the evening informally.

Mary Bass is planning a trip to California for the Holidays and I know she will have a nice time.

The Y-Teens of Lincoln High School had its annual Christmas party Monday, December 15, at the Y.W.C.A. The girls brought gifts and entertained several boys and girls with games and singing. After the party for the Children, the girls had a dinner followed by games and singing carols.

The 4-H Club will go Christmas Caroling December 24th after they go to their different churches for their Christmas programs.

Nolen Davis and Bill Burns, Jr., were doing some boxing at the center the other evening. I wonder if they were getting ready for the Golden Gloves or something?

Say, kids, I'd like to have answers to those questions about The Girl of the Month and Boy of the Month. How about that?

Julie Ette Hamilton has been under the weather lately. Seems like old man flu is catching up with us again.

Bye Now,
Dotty.

God means for you to be happy, healthy and free and you must not accept anything less. Who did hinder you that ye should not obey the truth?

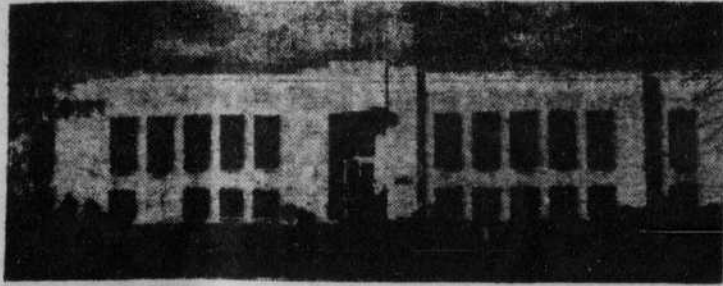

"The most lovable quality that any person can possess is tolerance. Tolerance is the vision that enables us to see things from another person's point of view. It is the generosity that concedes to others the right to their own opinion and their peculiarities. It is the bigness that enables us to let people be happy in their own way instead of our way."

Urban League Activities

URBAN LEAGUE CENTER—This is the building around which centers activity of the Lincoln Urban League. It is located at 2020 T. —Courtesy Lincoln Journal.

By Mrs. Pansy Beard.

The Urban League will be closed December 24 to December 29.

Mrs. Roma Henderson was ill but is back on the job.

Girls athletic class is forming a volleyball and basketball team and will participate in the city tournament.

It was organized last December 9. Mrs. Roma Henderson is sponsor of the group. Registration is open to junior high and high school age.

The Christmas Tree party will be the 23rd of December.

We of the Urban League—The Board of Directors, Staff and Membership—wish to do our share in sowing the seeds of Peace and Joy, in a world sorely in need of Peace and better understanding.

We hope for You and Yours,

A VERY MERRY CHRISTMAS

Too Busy!

By Delight Killinger.

This is a busy world in which we live! Although this seems to be a trite statement, I wonder if we shouldn't think about it as it applies to each one of us individually. Are we TOO busy?

On the first of the month, did we pay the hired girl her salary promptly, or was she asked to wait until the next day because we didn't think we had time to make out her check? She has given her services generously and promptly, can't we do as much?

Did we give the newsboy a "promise of later payment" so he'd have to make another trip in the cold, or did we invite him to step inside a minute and warm himself while we gave him his faithfully earned few pennies?

Did we go to church, or was there a meeting at the lodge which forced us to stay at home and get dinner over early; or did we stay at home because of the late party at the club last night? God is not neglectful in giving us of his blessing, nor will He be too busy to give us what we justly deserve if we neglect our worship and service to Him.

Did we go over and greet the stranger in the corner and invite him to come again, or did we have to spend half an hour trying to find Mrs. Jones to see if she had forgotten the ribbon to tie around the flowers for the banquet?

Did we teachers give Johnny a pat on the back for a 95% in his arithmetic test, or did we scold him because he chewed the eraser off the top of his pencil? Are we so busy pushing across a schedule that we do not take time for a friendly chat, or to offer praise for something well done?

Did we offer to help the little old lady who carried a large sack of groceries as she struggled to get off the street car, or did we fuss because she was so slow just when we were in a hurry to get home to read the evening paper before Father got it?

Did we offer to give help or counsel to the unhappy child, or did we just have to be at the Woman's Club tea to exchange newsy bits of information with Mrs. Gad About?

Many homes today are unhappy because they are used as hotels by the various members of the family who come only to eat, sleep or to get fresh clothing. Each member seems anxious to hurry to his place of individual interest instead of availing himself of family love and companionship by spending some time at home.

We all rush and hurry, and what do we accomplish that is really worthwhile? I'm convinced that I'm too busy! Are you?

What are problems? Problems are sign post on the road to God.
