Minnesota Asks Negroes in Guard

ST. PAUL.—Gov. Luther W. Youngdahl Saturday asked Defense Secretary James Forrestal for permission to integrate Negroes into the Minnesota national guard without segregation.

Youngdahl said he has been advised that only the state of New Jersey has received such authorization, "because of a provision in the constitution of that state prohibiting discrimination."

"Since 1885," he wrote, "we have had a civil rights statute in our state which prohibits discrimination in public places. Obviously, if the state of Minnesota forbids citizens to discriminate in public places, then the state should not be asked to countenance the contrary policy in one of its official agencies—its armed forces."

Church Appoints Negro Minister

NEW YORK. (ANP). The first Negro to head a church in the Moravian Protestant Episcopal church in America was installed last week as minister of the Fourth Moravian church of New York.

The new pastor is the Rev. Winslow A. Beckles, a former A.M.E. minister. Moravians and members of other denominations packed the church to see the installation. The Fourth Moravian church has property valued at over $25,000.

Medical education at Meharry Medical College, Nashville, Tenn., has been advanced by a National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis grant of $67,670 for training in pediatrics, orthopedic surgery; and to underwrite a teaching program in physical medicine.

Sunday School Lesson

Subject: "The Temple in the Nation's Life."
Scripture Text: Ezra 3:10-13, 5:16-17, Zach. 6:9-15.
Golden Text: O, come, let us worship and bow down; let us kneel before the Lord our Maker. Psalm 95:6.

APPLICATION

Did you ever ask yourself why folks go to church? Do you go from force to habit because mother thought it was right, to see the latest styles, or do you go because you have and want to worship God? Do you find a joy there you can not find anywhere else?

We are taught in this lesson that on the day when the builders laid the foundation of the temples of Jehovah they sang praises and thanksgivings, saying, "He is good."

The heart of every Christian home is centered around the church. In ancient times—the patriarchal period—men build altars wherever they might be and offered sacrifices, but today, in order to keep religion alive, we must have a common need for public worship.

There should be in every Christian's heart an undying love for the Church of his choice. His church should be clean, the grounds well kept.

The Christian who neglects his church worship is robbing himself of joy and retarding the progress of God's Kingdom.

League Fights Subtle Terrorism

Henry Wallace announced he was organizing a "Freedom League" to combat "the subtle terrorism" he said was being spread through the country by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Proposing an "informal" league with headquarters at the New Republic's offices, 40 E. 49th St., Wallace urged "everyone who has a specific instance of how the Federal Government or businessmen have abridged our freedom to write" to the League.

"Give the name of the man who put pressure on you or who asked an un-American question," he said.

The Third Party candidate for President said in his column in the New Republic that he knew of instances where "young men have been fired because an employer saw them wearing a Wallace button." Businessmen have kept donations to his campaign anonymous because they feared retaliation from their associates, he said.

Greetings From Los Angeles

By Mrs. Ester White Green.
Yours truly is back on the job again now that my cold is better. Sunday May 9th, was Mother's Day. I hope that all Mothers were well-remembered. We should not wait for this day, which comes but once a year to tell Mother our true feelings for her . . . every day should be Mother's Day.

Mrs. Margaret Lee Foster was rushed to General Hospital last week where she underwent a major operation. She is now doing nicely. Mrs. Foster is the journalist for the Business and Professional Women's League of America. Her mailing address is Ward 10-400.

Mrs. Anna Ray, who has been moved to General Hospital here in Los Angeles, was well remembered last Thursday by Mrs. Josephine Gaines, Mrs. Bertha Johnson and Mrs. Melva White. Her mailing address: Ward 6200, Los Angeles General Hospital is at 1200 No. State Street, Los Angeles 33.

Mr. David Lee is now studying Pre-law. David always was progressive, even in his earlier school days.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gaines were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jones at their club. Mrs. Jones is the former Hazel Maryen King.

Mrs. T. Beck was entertained with a lovely dinner Sunday May 9, by her daughter and five sons and their families.

Adams-Brown Wedding Told

Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Ferguson have announced the marriage of their daughter, Corinne (Mrs. C. Ferguson Adams) to Mr. George H. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Brown of Riverside, Calif. The Fergusons are formerly of Lincoln, Nebraska and now live in Chicago and St. Augustine, Fla. The bride was society editor for the Los Angeles Sentinel until the event.

State black fear is creeping," Wallace wrote. "So far it doesn't shoot people. Its method is to stifle every progressive thought by subtle terrorism."

Culture and Study Club Holds Regular Meetings

The J. M. Jackson Culture and Study Club met at the home of its president, Mrs. J. M. Jackson, at 8 p. m. April 21st. Guest speakers were Mes. C. E. Brookshire and F. L. Wilson (white) poet members of the Ennis Writer's club. Both ladies told how they were inspired to begin writing and read many of their own poems. Their talks aroused the desire of many of the members to write. The speakers enjoyed their visit and expressed a desire to come again.

On April 28, the club held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Greta Swinney. After unfinished and new business were attended to, the roll was called, each member responding with a poem. Members responded to roll call in the following monthly order:

- 1st Thursday—Bible verses.
- 2nd Thursday—Household hints.
- 3rd Thursday—Current events.
- 4th Thursday—Poetry.

Pre-Meds to Enroll as 'A'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (ANP). In a letter to colored newspaper, Dr. John S. Hirschboeck, dean of the Marquette university school of medicine, advised prospective Negro medics to enroll in standard approved pre-medical course in the United States.

Such enrollment, he said, would put them on the same footing with a majority of white students in applying for entrance to a Class A medical school.
