More than 300 citizens have joined the foundation and provided funds to operate the nursery for one year. It will be located at the Centennial Christian church.

Royall to Quit If Army Drops Bias
WASHINGTON — Secretary of Army Kenneth C. Royall recently showed his true Southern colors, according to Drew Pearson in his Tuesday morning "Merry Go Round" column.

Pearson revealed that in a secret hearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee last week, Secretary Royall repudiated the anti-segregation views of his Commander-in-Chief, President Truman, and told the senate committee that if the President's recommendation on eliminating segregation in the armed forces were put into operation "I will no longer be Secretary of Army."

According to Pearson, Secretary Royall, a native of North Carolina, made it clear that he would never cooperate with the President's Civil Rights message which directed armed services chiefs "to eliminate the remaining instances of discrimination as rapidly as possible."—Selected.

Negro Bus Company in Baton Rouge Ordered to Quit
BATON ROUGE, La. (ANP). Also the city of Baton Rouge has ordered the Negro buses off the street by May 15, they are still running, it was reported last week. Because these buses have reduced racial friction on city buses and has provided good service to members of both races, many citizens have protested the edict.

General Smuts Suffers Defeat In South Africa

Gen. Smuts was defeated for reelection from his constituency of Standerton.

Smuts, who had taken a leading part against the British in the Boer war, became one of the world's elder statesmen. He led the Union of South Africa on the British side in both World wars. He was a strong advocate of the United Nations and was a leading advocate of the League of Nations after World war I.

Announcement of the defeat of Smuts by 224 votes in his own district came with startling suddenness Thursday night and was followed swiftly by a swelling of the anti-government trend in other districts. Smuts, 78, has been prime minister since 1939 and also served in that post from 1919 to 1924.

ance that married couples would never be separated and that people who have lived in Australia for a long time would have the right to remain."

The reconsideration of the race question by the United Nations Committee on Human rights in its proposed bill for human rights should be made now. A clause similar to the 14th amendment to the U.S. constitution should be incorporated into this bill.

"White" South Africans must remember that the natives outnumber them four to one. Australians should remember that they were saved from being conquered by the Japanese not by Europeans, but by Asians, Pacific peoples and Africans. They should reflect that no color bars exist in the U.S.S.R.

By all tests of manhood colored men have proved their claim to all the rights, privileges and immunities of a citizen of any country.

Supreme Court Covenant Ruling Stirs Empire

LONDON. (ANP). The recent U. S. Supreme court ruling outlawing racial restrictive covenants is causing many repercussions in the British empire, especially here in Great Britain, in the Union of South Africa and Australia.

This decision spotlights South Africa, Britain and Australia as the only countries in the world in which the color bar is a legal principle enforced by state action. It may have far-reaching effects upon "white supremacy" legislation in South Africa where the Ghetto act is in force, and in Rhodesia and East Africa where similar color bars exist.

Things are already happening in Australia. In Melbourne university students met and condemned the action of Arthur Caldwell, immigration minister, in deporting and threatening to deport non-white citizens. The Evening Standard here wrote:

"Resolutions held that such action was inconsistent with friendly relations with neighboring countries and asked the government to alter its policy and make amends for the wrong already done.

"The students asked for assur-

Educator of South Africa Likes the States

BY R. W. SHAKESPEARE.

The Rev. E. A. Lawrence, minister and educator of South Africa has consented to write a feature article at least once a month for the benefit of "The Voice" readers.

He was born in Capetown February, 12, 1895, where he received his education and was qualified to teach in 1913. The Rev. Mr. Lawrence was married in 1918 and gave an interesting account of his 7 children; three of whom are qualified teachers; one who is a trained maternity nurse and three who are learning trades.

The Rev. Mr. Lawrence entered the ministry in 1922. He is at present principal of the largest A. M. E. School in the Cape Province with an enrollment of over 500 children and a staff of 14.

"This is my first visit to the United States although my second election as delegate to the General Conference," the Rev. Mr. Lawrence stated in an interview at Kansas City, Kans. "I am much impressed by the country and its people and am looking forward to my next visit in 1952."

The Rev. Mr. Lawrence was among the prominent members of the foreign delegation and served on several committees. He was a great influence in passing much of the legislation at the A. M. E. General Conference. He will be happy to answer any questions and to write on any subjects of interest dealing with South Africa.

Wisconsin City Invites Negroes To Settle There

SHEBOYGAN, Wis. (ANP) Negro citizens are welcome to the town of Sheboygan any time, Editor C. E. Broughton of the Sheboygan Press said last week in a letter to Dan Travis, Milwaukee editor of the Chicago World.

According to Travis, the Newspaper man complained that very few colored people come to Sheboygan. He said in that town there are no anti-Negro laws of any kind. "The Sheboygan Press and Sheboygan certainly present an invitation for Negro veterans to settle in a community where the majority of the people are just and peace loving," the message said, according to Travis.

Dr. Tobias Wins Medal

Dr. Channing H. Tobias, won the thirty-third Spingarn Medal awarded annually to a Negro American "for distinguished achievement." Another likely candidate might have been Walter J. Edwards of Oklahoma City who erected a $300,000 hospital out of his own funds and has erected 500 FHA homes for Negroes. Perhaps he'll get the sixty-third Spingarn Medal! Selected SCHYLER.

Writes Book on Change to Negro

CHICAGO — (ANP) — Eight months ago a white clergyman, the Rev. Kenneth L. Patton, of Madison, Wis., startled the world by crossing the racial line and declaring himself a Negro.

Today, the Rev. Mr. Patton who changed over to fight racial prejudice in the United States, is still a Negro. He is writing a book, "Come on Over," of his life as a colored man.

"I have no regrets whatever," he said. "Some 300 persons, about two thirds of them white, wrote to me, and they approved my action about three to one."

Two New York state legislators introduced a bill making it unlawful for a motorist to drive so slowly as to exasperate other motorists into recklessness.
