Flanagan Estate Is Worth $1,000

OMAHA. (AP). The late Msgr. Edward J. Flanagan, founder of Boys Town, left an estate valued at "about $1,000," according to an estimate made as his will was filed in county court Friday. Boys Town, which he founded in 1917 on $90 of borrowed capital and pyramided into a home for boys valued at more than $10,000,000 is held by a non-profit corporation. A non-secretarian board of trustees heads the corporation.

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. R. E. Handy
 Subject: Bezaleel, the Craftsman.
 Lesson Text: Exodus 31:1-11, II Cron. 1:5.

Golden Text: "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might."

Application for Today.
 The worship of God has been a progressive movement with a steady growth. In the beginning men of old set up their altars by the sides of the roads, in the dells or on the hillsides and made their sacrifices, each for his own immediate family. Today there is much said about a call to the ministry or to mission work, but in today's lesson we find God making a call to a man, skillful in mechanics, to labor with his hands and build one central place of worship for all the people of Israel. Furthermore, God gave Moses the exact blueprint by which this builder was to work. The tabernacle was to be erected and furnished in a way that would reflect the glory of the coming Christ. Priests were to be ordained and clothed and carry on the public worship.

Nothing like the tabernacle had ever been built before and great mechanical skill was needed. Ministers are not the only ones needed to build the kingdom of God. The laymen in the pew also has his part to play . . . and what a part: to walk circumspectly before the world, to visit the sick, to pray with the dying, to feed the hungry, to lift up the fallen, to visit the widow and orphan, to pray with those in prison and to visit them often, and everywhere speak a word for Jesus.

Again, the worker is to abide in his calling, unless God clearly shows otherwise. Each in his own field can find a chance to plant a seed for Christ.

"Brethren abide with God." If you are called to work with your hands, then witness as you work.

Movie Stars And Truman

A vain effort was made to contact Hattie McDaniel, one of the few Negro stars who is supposedly backing President Truman.

It had been rumored that the academy award winner had been invited by a leading Negro democrat to come down to Washington, D. C., to have a conference with the president.

Due to a tight radio schedule, Miss McDaniel was forced to decline the invitation.

Teen Age Chatter

By Dorothy Green

Greetings Gates:
 Now back to the old grind since the fireworks and vacations are over.

Miss Leslie Blackwell of Omaha, Nebr., arrived Wednesday, June 30th, to spend a week with Mrs. Spann. I asked her what she thought of our fair city and she replied, "I like Lincoln fine, but there isn't much to do." I see what she means.

Kathryn and Betty King journeyed to Denver, Colo., recently after a short visit with their sister, Mrs. Frances Lewis.

Mrs. Birdie Artis held a very lovely open-house tea for all the teen agers, July 4th, in honor of Doris and Birdie Powell. The table was decorated with lovely garden flowers and candles. For refreshments there was punch, ice cream, cake, assorted cookies, candy and nuts. Everyone that attended spent a wonderful afternoon.

Miss Lois Hatcher left Friday night for a summer vacation in Kansas City, Mo. I know she will be having a real crazy time by now.

Ionna Adams, Kathryn and Betty King and Richard McWilliams went to Omaha, Nebr., during the week, with other members of Christ Temple Church.

Phyllis and Beverly Holcomb journeyed to Omaha with their parents to celebrate the Fourth.

An interesting visitor in the city for the summer is Larmon Brane, son of Mrs. Ed Todd. Larmon has just completed his high school work at Crescent, Okla., and we would be happy to see him on the campus here this fall.

We are very sorry to see two more of our teen agers leave Lincoln to help Uncle Sam. They were Mitz Woods and Billy Mosby. They left Wednesday for this great journey.

So long until next time.
 DOTTY.

Student Wins Award at Univ. Of Colorado

BOULDER, Colo. (ANP). By popular vote of the student body of 8,000 Anthony Ray, 21, has been awarded the first Dunklee Citizenship award at the University of Colorado.

Considered one of the school's outstanding graduates, Anthony was chosen for the award because of his many school activities and high scholarship. The Dunklee award was established May 8 by Edward V. Dunklee, Denver attorney, Colorado, '13.

Ray holds a membership in the oldest honorary fraternity on the campus, the Heart and Dagger, which includes as members such men as former Governor Carr of Colorado, Robert L. Stearnes, president of Colorado, and "Whizzer" White, Rhodes scholarship student and football all-American.

Besides playing the bell lyre and the alto clarinet in the band, he is an active member of Psi Mu Alpha, honorary music fraternity; Alpha Phi Omega, Kappa Kappa Psi, former vice-president of the Independent Student association, largest organization on the campus, the Players club, Viking club, and the Cosmopolitan club, formed to further relations and create better understanding among the students.
