Sunday School Lesson

BY R. E. HANDY.

Subject: The Town Clerk at Ephesus.

Scripture Text: Acts, 19:29-41.
Golden Text: To do justice and judgment is more acceptable to the Lord than sacrifice. Prov. 21:3.

The Lesson:
Read the first half of Act 19 to fully understand this lesson.

Paul is now in Ephesus, here he finds twelve men interested in Old Testament Scripture and seeking salvation, but they had not heard of the atonement and resurrection of the Lord Jesus nor of the gift of the Holy Spirit.

Paul quietly enlightened them and led them into full salvation. For three months he preached of Jesus in the synagogue, but many hearts were hardened so he turned to a new center—the school of Tyrannus. Here many Jews and Gentiles heard and believed.

But the people of Ephesus worshiped idols, the principal one being Diana. Silversmiths made images of this goddess and made much profit by their sale.

The Holy Spirit, in order to break down this idoletry wrought many miracles through Paul so that handkerchiefs and aprons that he touched healed the sick and evil spirits were cast out. Idol sales fell off alarmingly, so the silversmiths started a riot against Paul. Paul was a brave man and wished to go into the mob and talk to them but was restrained by the town clerk, one Asiarchs.

After the mob had rioted two hours the clerk took the platform and addressed the people. He was able to quiet them. His speech was peaceful and tactful and the crowd disappeared.

This is a lesson with a temperance application. This town clerk, before he could control others had to be sober himself. No one under the influence of wine could ever succeed in such a situation. All public officials and all drivers of cars should be dead sober, any other course means death for some possibly the driver himself.

Our Children

BY MRS. W. B. DAVIS.

The next job was to set about finding homes to entertain the children during the two weeks stay in the state. It was understood from the very start no one was to be paid for doing this. Everything was to be voluntary. First I made an announcement from the pulpit of our United Church in Johnson (Congregational Methodist). I pointed out the opportunity such a visit would bring us to help build goodwill between white and colored people. Next I wrote pieces for Vermont newspapers and magazines saying the children were coming from New York on such and such a date and, because the number coming was limited, to avoid disappointment, readers had better offer their hospitality early. It worked. When the youngsters came they were 79 instead of 75 strong and had we had more Negro boys and girls we could have placed them easily. How did the children from Harlem get along with the white youngsters in our Vermont villages and towns and cities where they were entertained? One little word tells the story. Swell! They were friendly, cooperative and as full of old Harry as your children and mine. We had two boys in our home. When we sat down for our first meal I asked them to tell me their names. Up to then we'd known them as Billy and Tommy. "My name," said Tommy who spoke first, "is Thomas Wills. They call me Tommy." He was older of the two, about twelve. Next was William his brother.

Campanella Day To Be October 2

BROOKLYN. (ANP). Baseball fans will honor Roy Campanella, work horse catcher of the Brooklyn Dodgers, here Oct. 2 at Ebbetts field. This day has been designated as Campanella day.

Campanella, considered by baseball experts as the best catcher in the National league, will team up with Jackie Robinson after the playing season as a member of the West 135th Street YMCA's physical department, Al Moses announced last week.

The appearance of these two stars at the "Y" is expected to be a great boost to the Harlem kiddies as well as adult members of the professional and business men's gym classes.
