Indiana to Get First Court Star

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (ANP). Bill Garrett, captain of the Shelbyville state high school basketball champions in 1946, will cavort on the Indiana university cage squad this year and become the first Negro to play regularly on a Big Nine basketball team. Garrett starred on last year's freshman squad and is playing regular center in the practice drills of the I. U. cage squad. A good way to stretch hamburger is by adding one beaten egg and some cooked noodles. For added flavor, season with a minced onion, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce, or serve with tomato sauce.

Teen Age Chatter

By Dorothy Greene.

Greetings Gates!
This week finds a lot of interesting things happening, such as—

Phyllis Holcomb had a gathering at her home Sunday evening. Many people were there and everything jumped like mad.

Doris Roberts, of Kansas City, spent Thanksgiving vacation with her cousin, Louis Hatcher. By the way they tell me that she is the latest authority on the Be Bop "I'm hep."

The Teen Age club, with Verne Wilson as president, has made plans to charter a bus to Omaha in the near future. I hope every teen gets aboard and has a real crazy time.

Boys Only

Here is a little reminder to all young gentlemen. It's nearing the time for all the many fine Christmas parties, so here is a couple of things to remember.

1. If the invitation you receive says R.S.V.P. (Repondez s'il vous plait—French—which means Answer if you please), answer it promptly and tell her yes or no, so she won't be disappointed at the last minute.

2. If corsages are in order by all means take the girl one. What do I mean—Well I mean just this: if the party is Formal or Semi-Formal take a corsage and don't be late. One more thing, if you are in doubt about what color dress she will wear why don't you ask her best girl friend; I'm sure she would be able to tell you.

Peanut Butter Custard

2 eggs
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup peanut butter
2 cups milk (or one cup evaporated milks and one cup water)

Beat eggs slightly and add the sugar and salt. Combine peanut butter and half a cup of milk, and beat with a rotary beater until smooth. Add remaining milk and egg mixture and stir until well mixed. Pour custard into individual custard cups and place in a shallow pan containing one inch of hot water. Bake in a 350-degree oven for about an hour, until a silver knife inserted in center comes out clean.

White Mountain Icing

Put one cup sugar in one-fourth cup hot water and boil until it threads. Whip whites of two eggs to stiff forth and add syrup, beating constantly. When nearly cool, add vanilla.

Frosting-Filled Graham Cracker Sandwiches

4 teaspoons butter or margarine
1 cup powdered sugar
4 teaspoons milk
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
1/4 cup finely chopped nut meats
Graham crackers

Cream butter or margarine; add powdered sugar gradually, creaming well after each addition until thoroughly mixed. Add milk, a little at a time, and only enough to make mixture easy to spread. Add vanilla and nut meats; mix well. Spread between graham crackers. Makes 10 to 12 graham cracker sandwiches.
