BY MISS FREDDIE POWELL.

Greetings:

Brr—Since nothing interesting happened this past week, I had to rake and rake my brains with something to fill my column. As a result, here is 'The Phophecy' of you young people ten years from now.

Entering the City of Prosperity which was laid out and planned by Ernest Taylor and Spike Brown, I inquired the whereabouts of a hotel for lodging for the night and was directed to the Community Center House where I found Miss Jeanne Malone the busy and efficient head of the organization. She directed me to the Wilson Hotel where I found Ralph and Verne Wilson as proprietors. During my evening at the hotel I met many of my friends who were now famed in their fields.

Staying at the hotel were Miss Winifred Winston well known soprano with the million dollar voice. Upon entering the dining room of the hotel I saw many beautiful murals and paintings on the wall painted by Jeannette Vinegar and Birdie Powell. While eating my dinner I saw a young lady beautifully dressed entering the dining room. Upon coming closer I recognized Delores Bowen who was now a model for the Warner Brothers Studios. While talking to her I found out that Lopy Finley was also out in Hollywood singing those torch songs in the movies.

The next morning I decided to look the town over and was walking down the street when I saw a modern well to do shop with a sign reading: 'Trust your furs with two good furriers' with Albert Bowen and Richard Holcomb names signed. I entered the shop and saw Joyce Williams sitting behind the desk. All four of us had a merry chat together and they told me to go to the College of Prosperity where I would find many of my old friends. Upon glancing at the directory on my arrival I saw some familiar names such as Dr. Robbie Powell—head of the history department, Mr. Howard Bean instructor in history; Nate Casteel, director of the athletic department under whose leadership the team had been very successful. I looked up these old friends and then went to the City Hospital where I found Dr. Curtiss Buster directing the activities there with Jeanne Ivory as head of the nurses. Then they told me of the successful business Dr. Robert Taylor has as a dentist. I looked him up in his modern up-to-date office.

Since it was lunch time by then, he took me to the beautiful Glaze Room owned and operated by Betty Wilson. There I saw Dorothy Greene who was now head of the leading newspaper of the town, who was lunching with Rev. John Foster pastor of the largest church in the town. Looking at one of Miss Greene's newspapers I glanced through the Sports Section and saw some familiar names and pictures of famous fighters. There were: Frank Nevels heavyweight champion, Bobby Finney lightweight champion and many more. They invited me to stay over so I could see more of my old friends with their wives and homes, but I had to go back to my position in Nashville as superintendent of nurses at Meharry Medical school.

Upon driving from the City of Prosperity with my chauffeur, Eugene Graham, I was well aware that all of us had done well in our chosen fields.

S'long for now, Freddie.

COOPERATION

also pays on the telephone party line

Repairing little Mary's broken doll is the sort of cooperation she expects from Dad. And he is always well repaid with happy smiles. Cooperation will work well on the telephone party line, too. Use your telephone as you would like to have others use theirs. You'll be well repaid—with better telephone service, and telephone neighbors who appreciate your cooperation.
