Quinn Chapel Begins Face-Lifting Drive

Following action of the Quinn Chapel church conference March 7, a church improvement committee has been set up to carry out the details of redecorating the interior of the church and to do needed exterior painting. As part of the general improvement plans, a stoker was installed last week to aid in providing a more comfortable and dependable heating arrangement.

Eventual plans call for repair of sidewalks and building repairs for the parsonage. The properties are located at 9th and C streets.

Laymen heading the drive are Mr. Wyatt Williams and Mr. Ray Holcomb, trustees, and a number of persons have been named to the committees and as captains for contact with the congregation. Rev. J. B. Brooks is pastor of the church.

Sunday School Lesson

SUNDAY, MARCH 20, 1949.
THEME—Special Training of the Twelve. Mark 6:7-12, 30-44; Luke 11:1-13.

The Twelve Sent Out To Put Into Practice What They Have Learned. And he called unto him The Twelve and began to send them forth by two and two, and he gave them authority over the unclean spirits and he charged them that they should take nothing for their journey, save a staff only; no bread; no wallet, no money in their purse; but to go shod with sandals; and, said he, put not on two coats. And he said unto them, whosoever ye enter into a house, there abide till ye depart thence. And whatsoever place shall not receive you, and they hear you not, as ye go forth thence, shake off the dust that is under your feet for a testimony against them.

And they went out and preached that men should repent. And they cast out many demons and anointed with oil many that were sick, and healed many.

These verses 1-13 from the Gospel of Mark give the directions which The Twelve received from Jesus as they were sent out by their Master on their first preaching and healing mission. No wonder that on their return they were eager to tell Him how they had succeeded. What was Jesus' word to them? "Come ye yourselves apart into a desert place and rest awhile."

Well did their Master know how exhausting was such a mission tour and His sympathetic heart thought first of all their need for rest. How thoughtful He always was for everyone!

Jesus would call the youth of today to be His helpers. There is a painting by Margaret Tarrant which she entitled "Behold, I Send You Forth." A writer in The Quiet Hour refers to the painting and says: "In this picture Jesus is represented as standing in the midst of a group of children. For perhaps the first time in the history of religious art, most of the children are not facing Jesus, looking up at his face. The assumption is that they have already done that. Now their backs are toward him. His arms are outstretched, waving them from him, urging them to go forth and help him wield his kingdom."

HOLLYWOOD. (ANP). Drew Pearson's Sunday evening ABC commentaries was selected by Ebony magazine as the best radio show of 1948 in promoting interracial understanding. The editors of Ebony selected Pearson because of his "steadfast and uncompromising campaign against Ku Klux Klan and because he has been in the forefront of the fight for the Civil Rights program." A board of judges composed of John Crosby, New York Herald Tribune columnist, Nick Kenny of the New York Daily Mirror, Norman Corwin, noted radio writer, Don Foster of the Chicago Sun-Times, and Dan Burley of the New York Age, assisted the editors in making the selection.

Arthur Godfrey also received a citation for contributing to good race relations. Godfrey was one of seven persons selected by the Negro Newspaper Publishers association for "impressive contributions to the advancement of Negroes." President Truman headed the list for his stand on civil rights.
