Sunday School Lesson

April 3, 1949.

Theme: Turning Toward The Cross.

Text: Mark 8:27-34; Luke 9:28-35, 51.

Jesus Foretells His Suffering.
In the first section of our lesson for today Jesus polls his disciples as to public opinion about who he is. Whether he really wanted to know, or not, or whether he was only testing the faith of his disciples, we can only guess. They reported that people thought he was a prophet returned to live among them—Elias or John the Baptist. Peter, as usual, affirmed his faith in Jesus as the Christ, which means "the anointed." While, in the scripture, it tells us only that Peter believed, it is likely that Jesus knew that Peter was not alone in his thinking and that many of the people from Caesarea Philippi in the far north to Bethsaida also believed Him to be the long-promised Messiah. Jesus then begins a lesson to his disciples on the prophecies about him, outlining the suffering through which he must pass, and asks his followers not to tell people who is—perhaps lest some assassin prevent all the prophesy from being fulfilled. Peter rebuked Jesus for speaking thusly of himself, inasmuch as he was looking forward to Jesus setting up a kingdom on earth in which he would have a high place. In return, Jesus reprimanded Peter for his worldly, mortal ambitions—which obscured for him the glorious concept of the heavenly kingdom until the fulfillment of Christ's atonement. Luke also records this event much the same as Mark.

On the Mount of Transfiguration. About eight days later Jesus took Peter and John and James and went up into a mountain to pray. Here these three mortal witnesses saw the glorified shades of Moses and Elias talking to Jesus about his coming death in Jerusalem. What happened to the Old Testament characters, we do not know, for the three disciples went to sleep, even at such an eventful hour. When they awakened, they saw Jesus only and a cloud descended over them, blotting out the scene. God affirmed the kinship with Jesus when a voice from the cloud spoke, "This is my beloved Son; hear him."

Big Leaguers Warm Up By ANP.

Established stars Jackie Robinson, Larry Doby and Roy Campanella are doing all right in spring training, but a few rookies are making the headlines in major league spring training camps.

Out in Tucson, Ariz., an unannounced pitcher who just walked into the Cleveland Indians training camp and asked for a tryout is the big news. Two days in a row he halted the murderous bats of the New York Giants in the final innings to win two exhibition games for the world champions.

This new twirler is left-hander Roy Wellmaker. Wellmaker has pitched for the Homestead Grays, now disbanded, of the Negro National league for several years. During the past winter season he hurled in the Venezuelan winter league.

In his first game Wellmaker held the Giants hitless in the ninth inning to gain victory. He struck out one. In the second trial he allowed only one hit in three frames. He fanned three men and walked one.

Oreste Minoso at third and Art Wilson at second have done all right in the hitting department for the Indians, but they have not shown major league fielding yet.

Leroy (Satchel) Paige has reported to camp. He was given permission by the club to report two weeks late.

Sparkplug of the Indians camp is Larry Doby whose fielding in center has been terrific. His sensational catches and throws have robbed several opposing batters of sure hits. He is hitting consistently, too.

Robinson to Hold on To Welterweight Title

In Chicago for his bout with Bobby Lee, Ray (Sugar) Robinson, welterweight champion, said he will hold on to his crown until he is assured of a middleweight title match.

His next defense will be against the winner of tomorrow's Kid Gavilan-Ike Williams bout in New York, he said. He may also accept an offer of $100,000 to defend his title against Vince Foster in Chicago this summer, Robinson added.

"Good opponents who'll draw paying crowds are hard to find; that's why I've got to keep my title until I can get a shot at Cerdan. Maybe that'll come in the fall, but I can't afford to wait. They've offered me $60,000 for a title match in Honolulu. Let 'em put it up, and I'll fight all contenders."

HOLLYWOOD. (ANP). "The Goal is Freedom," a special half-hour drama on human relations will be presented by the Columbia network Wednesday, April 6. The broadcast commemorates the presentation of America's Democratic Legacy award for 1948 to President Truman by the Anti-Defamation league of B'nai Brith. President Truman is the sole recipient of the 1948 award.

The previous year five persons received the honor: Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt for her human rights work in the UN; Barney Balaban for his work in connection with the Freedom train; Charles E. Wilson of General Electric as chairman of the President's Committee on Civil Rights; Dore Schary for the film "Crossfire" and Darryl Zanuck for "Gentleman's Agreement."

Written by Arnold Perl, "The Goal is Freedom" broadcast will be our nation's balance sheet of progress in the field of minority group relations during 1948. Actual incidents will be woven into the script, such as the family that was persecuted by neighbors simply because its name sounded Jewish; the Mexican-American war hero who could not be buried in his home town because of prejudice by some of the townspeople, and was finally interred in Arlington National cemetery; the Negro woman who died in childbirth because no nearby hospital would admit her; and the college fraternity which interpreted the word "fraternity" as meaning just that, and elected a Negro student to membership.
