On May 13, the assembly accepted the following amendments presented by Charles Goolsby and co-authored by Bill Broden, both University Y.M.C.A. delegates. They read:

No organization under Student Council supervision or occupying university build-ings or property, which discriminates against students because of their race, religion or national origin, shall receive the approval of the council after one year following the acceptance of this section.

No organization or group shall be de-nied existence and particlipation in the student body activities because of their race, religion, national origin, or for political views not denied by statute. The council shall not discriminate against organizations because all or a part of its members belong to any par-ticular race, religion or national origin. No activity of a college or department which discriminate against students be-cause of their race, religion or national origin, shall receive the support of the council.

Congressional Committees Hear Civil Rights Bills

WASHINGTON. (ANP). The much talked of civil rights bills are now bobbing up here and there on Capitol hill, in spite of the dreary outook on the possibility of getting favorable action in this session of Congress.

Poll tax hearings began in the committee on House administration last week, while hearings on the FEPC bill scheduled to begin May 3 were postponed until May 10, and the federal anti-lynch bill which passed the Senate Judiciary subcommittee last week is now resting in the full committee

Coast Teams

SAN DIEGO. (ANP). Power Hitter Luke' Easter, sensational first sacker for the San Diego Padres, a Cleveland farm team, of the Triple-A Pacific Coach league has a serious knee injury that pains him to even walk to the plate, but he is still being used as a pinch hitter.

All he has to do is stand there and threaten to hit a home run. Last week against San Francisco, he hobbled to the plate in the eight inning to pinch hit for John Ritchey, Negro catcher. With the count three to two and the bases loaded, Pitcher Dempsey blew up and walked the crippled man to score the tie-breaking run.

Previously against Portland, he limped out in the ninth inning to pinch hit for Pitcher Lyman Linde and rapped out a good double, although his ailing leg stopped him at first base.

The tremendous batting power of Easter has become legend not only among the fans, but among players-if Pacific the Coast pitching is 'a yard stick.

Gordon Lippitt, Executive Secretary of the University of Nebraska YMCA, announced at the University YMCA Board of management meeting, Tuesday, May 9, his resignation to take a position with the National Educational Association in Washington, D, C. His resignation at the University YMCA will become effective on August 31st of this year. Mr. Lippitt will assume the duties of co-ordinator of the Duke and Duchess National Training Laboratory on Group Development, sponsored by the National Educational Association and the University of Michigan. The laboratory serves as a training experience for social workers, teachers, ministers, psychologists, industrialists, and others interested in the field of group dynamics. The laboratory becomes a full-time program this year through a recent Carnegie Foundation grant to the sponsoring groups. es at the University YMCA, h

College chapters were established by the association two years ago and have been accepted in 69 colleges and universities in 23 states and the District of Columbia. Approval of a college chapter is still pending administration action at the University of Nebraska. Other schools in the north-central area which have recognized chapters are Cornell college and Drake university in Iowa, and the University of Wisconsin.

An "Encampment for Youth" is being held by the NAACP from July 1 to Aug. 23 at Fieldston school, Riverdale, N. Y., this year. Other summer training projects include the Eastern Co-operative Recreational school at Goddard college, Plainfield, Vt., Aug. 14-27, and the College Summer Service group in New York City. Additional information is available from Charles Goolsby, college chapter president.

The Nebraska legislature might do well to take another look at the ancient provision on our statute books," says Theodore Sorensen in the March issue of "The Nebraska Law Review." The present law, which was last amended in 1913 reads in part:

"Marriages are void when one party is a white person and the other possessed of one-eighth or more Negro, Japanese or Chinese blood." (Nebraska Rev. Stat. (1943) 42-103).

"Despite everyday application, this law has never been interpreted or tested," says Sorensen. "All state regulation must provide equal protection of the laws, as guaranteed by the 14th amendment. This Post-Civil War amendment was adopted especially to prevent state legislation discriminating against individuals on the basis of color. So one simple test of constitutionality that the amendment provides is whether (Continued on Page 2.)
