Sunday School Lesson

SUNDAY, JUNE 19, 1949.

THEME: Jesus' Death and Burial. Matt. 27:57-61; Mark 15:15-47; Luke 23:26-47; 24:1-6; John 19:23-37.

On the Way to the Cross. All three Synoptic Gospels record the fact that the physical strength of Jesus had been so exhausted by the tortures to which He had been subjected that He could not carry the cross. A passer-by was pressed into service, and the fact that he had two sons who were well-known in the Christian community (the mere mention of their names is sufficient to identify them for Mark's readers) indicates that on that day Simon of Cyrene found a service which was life-long.

Luke tells us the lament of certain women of Jerusalem as they looked on and of the dignity and unselfish sorrow of Jesus' reply. Matthew and Mark tell of His refusal to drink the drugged wine which charitable ladies of Jerusalem provided to ease the agonies of those who were to be crucified. He faced the end with unclouded mind. All three of the Synoptics relate the crucifixion of the two robbers, common criminals, whose company in death was intended as an added degradation for the Man on the central cross. Luke tells of the penitence and faith of one of them and of the tender assurance of pardon in heaven which came from Jesus who, even in His last agony, could recognize and respond to the voice of faith.

Jesus' Prayer of Pardon for His Executioners. Luke alone records Jesus' prayer for the ignorant instruments of the Jewish and Roman authorities. The whole spirit of Jesus' life make it unlikely that His prayer was limited only for the executioners. For the Jewish authorities, too, were blind to the true nature of their action. The prayer of Jesus should have prevented the cruel hatred through the ages of the Jewish people as guilty of the death of Jesus. Only a small group of Jews were guilty, and for them the Lord pleaded their ignorance as a pardon. Dare we refuse to join with the pardoning Christ in His attitude to the people He dearly loved? Anti-Semitism is anti-Christian.

How Little Children Were Told of the Reason that Christ Was Crucified. Dr. Alexander Macleod had a friend who was teaching a school in Jamaica. This teacher had made a rule that every one who told a lie in school should receive seven strokes on the palm with a strap. One day a little girl named Lottie Paul told a lie, and was called before the school to receive her punishment. She was a sensitive little thing, and the teacher was very sorry to strike her, but he must carry out the rule of the school. Her cry of pain when she received the first stroke went to his heart; he could not go on with her punishment. Yet he could not pass by her sin, and this is what he did. He looked over to the boys, and asked, "Is there any boy who will bear the rest of Lottie's punishment?" And as soon as the words were spoken up started a little fellow called Jim, who said, "Please, sir I will."

Alliance Life Mirrors Typical Community

By Beatrice Motley.

ALLIANCE, Neb.—Participating in an enjoyable hike Monday, were Misses Theresa Motley, Stella Woodlee, and Delores Young. The girls hiked to Lake Bronco where they enjoyed a swim and picnic lunch.

A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Woodlee, Monday. Refreshments were served and all had an enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nelson have moved to Omaha. The Nelsons motored to Omaha Thursday, June 2, to set up housekeeping.

The Omaha Rockets Baseball Club spent Thursday in Alliance. The Rockets were on their way to participate in a game in a nearby town, Minatare, Nebraska.

Seen busily gardening this week were Mr. Mills Lear, Mr. M. C. Woodlee and Mrs. M. P. Motley. We shall all be waiting for harvest time.

Mr. Edward Meehan has been ill for some time and is recuperating at St. Joseph's Hospital. Mr. Meehan's brothers, Dennis of Omaha and William of Chicago were recent visitors during his illness.

Mr. M. C. Woodlee was among those motoring to Minatare, Nebraska, to enjoy a pleasurable baseball game played by the Omaha Rockets.

Mr. David Taylor entered the Veterans' Hospital in Hot Springs, South Dakota. We are hoping for his speedy recovery.

And Jim went to the desk and received without a cry the six remaining strokes.

Dr. Macleod tells the story, and adds: "And it was the vision of a Heart gentler still than that of this brave boy, but gentle with the same kind of gentleness, which filled the master's eyes with tears that day, and made him close his books and bring his scholars round about his desk, and tell them of the Gentle One, who long ago bore the punishment of us all." The story he told is ours today.

Omaha Dist. AME Missionaries Meet Here June 10

Friday, June 10, missionary workers of the Omaha district gathered at the Quinn Chapel for their third quarterly inspirational meeting. After organization was completed in the morning, Rev. C. C. Reynolds of Kansas City, brought the sermon in which he asserted that "man can rise no higher than his inner self."

Mrs. Mary Kidd, Kansas City, Nebraska Conference Branch president for the missionary society, spoke briefly about the scope of the work being done in Kansas and Nebraska and in the Omaha district by AME churches.

At the afternoon session, music was furnished by a girls quartet made up of Elois and Vonna Finley, Barbara Moody and Winifred Winston. Miss Winston also sang "Ave Maria" (Schubert), accompanied by Miss B. Kelley. Mrs. Eugenia Brown led the quartet. The main speaker was Mrs. Minna Harriot, Kingston, Jamaica, who emphasized that there is still a great need in our time for more brotherly love. Mrs. Harriot told in some detail about the manners and customs of the Caribbean island. She said that there was still a great need for evangelists and Christian social workers there, especially to reach the less learned peoples that live in more isolated mountain areas.
