James Edwards Given Ax By Darryl Zanuck

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (ANP). James Edwards is out, and Sidney Potiere is in on the lead role in Twentieth Century-Fox's "No Way Out." The change came as the result of a decision by Darryl Zanuck, who recently returned from Europe. He had the last word on casting.

Jimmie has left the movie capital for a personal appearance tour. His first stop was in Chicago where he took over the male lead in the touring cast of "Anna Lucasta" at the Regal theater. In other appearances, however, he will be backed by a stage show which features David Anderson.

David, who is the brother of Rochester, calls himself "Winchester." He sings a melodious baritone, and also does well at comedy.

Heading the list will be the pre-Halloween Mardi Gras party at the Urban League the night of Oct. 28. Everyone is invited to come and be sure to wear a costume for there will be prizes for the best costumes and fun galore.
