Sunday School Lesson

Theme—Jeremiah Denounces False Prophets
Scripture—
Jeremiah 8:8-13;23:26-28
The prophet held a unique place in the life and history of Israel. The priesthood was hereditary, but not so with the office of prophecy. Throughout the history of the Hebrews, beginning with Saul and David, men called prophets held an important place in the life of the nation. In theory they were the acknowledged spokesmen of the Eternal. We recall that when Jeremiah was commissioned, he was placed not only over the people of Israel, but also over the nations. They rebuked kings and princes. But many false prophets had multiplied, until King Ahab had as many as four hundred to appear before Jehoshaphat and predict the victory of Ahab when Ahab was killed in battle—False prophets!

Frederick D. Jordan says false prophets seem to be as much a part of our world as the pests that eat up our harvests and crops of fruit and the spiders and mosquitoes which sting us, and any other creatures which seem to have no credentials to justify their existence. They represent some of the manifold hurdles which we must not stumble over if we are to make a successful journey of life. They belong to the mysterious disciplines that prepare the faithful soul with a fitness for Heaven. Satan is always able to make bad things look good, to make sin look like pleasure when it brings only disappointment and sorrow. False prophets usually are bent on arguing and have a well beaten path through the Scriptures to some favorite texts which they use for proof. A man of faith can quote Scriptures also, but will give a testimony, not an argument, and remain serene. A man cannot use God's Word successfully unless he is qualified in his own heart.

Teen Age Chatter

By Elois Finley.

Hi Teens
I am your new reporter.
* * *
Saw a number of teens at the Urban League Friday night.

* * *
About that Saturday night over to Vonna Finley's house did you teens and your dates have a nice time? When you left you left smiling didn't you Betty and Hazel Wilson??

* * *
And the surprising date of the week was none other than, Betty Bowman and Warner Lightner.

* * *
Ernestine Burns, who seems to be your latest heart throb? We thought you were the lone wolf.

* * *
Jean Burns why did Frank King walk in the Cuddle Inn alone Saturday night?

* * *
Birdie Powell, who seems to be your latest interest?

* * *
Friday night at the football banquet, which was held at Cotner Terrace, Vonna Finley and Albert Bowen reported having a wonderful time. Swell kids.

* * *
Lincoln High school gave its first vesper concert Sunday November 20th, Winifred Winston was soloist, She had the lead in the spiritual, "I'm So Glad Trouble Don't Last Always."

* * *
I hear that Winifred Winston had a successful recital in Atchison, Kansas on Friday November 11. After leaving Atchison, Winifred and her teacher drove up to St. Joseph, where Winifred spent the rest of her week end with Gladys Casteel.

* * *
Sunday morning I met some of
