Mr. and Mrs. James King of Broken Bow spent the week end with Mr. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. King.

Mrs. Anita Smith arrived Saturday to be with her mother, Mrs. Lillian Miller who is a patient at St. Elizabeth hospital. Mrs. Smith is dean of women at Bethune Cookman college, Daytona Beach, Fla.

100 Attend Urban League Annual Volunteer Party

About 100 volunteers, board members and guests were in attendance at the annual Urban League Volunteer party which was given Saturday night in the auditorium of the league.

An impromptu program furnished the entertainment for the evening. Several songs with original words written by Mrs. Jennie R. Edwards were sung by the group.

An announcement was made by executive secretary, Clyde W. Malone, that awards of merit, approved by the National Urban League, would be presented Friday night, March 17, as a part of the annual Vocational Opportunity program which is sponsored by the Lincoln Urban League.

Former Californian Luncheon Hostess

Shrimp and Crab casserole, French green beans, frozen fruit salad, hot rolls and heavenly pie were a part of the menu served at a 1 o'clock luncheon given by Mr. Mary Burden Davis, who, until recently, made her home in California. Mrs. Davis' guest list included Mrs. Leona Dean, Mrs. Odessa Patrick, Mrs. Doris Bowen, Mrs. Edna Page, Mrs. Marie Copeland, Mrs. Marie Bond, Mrs. Dorothy Lewis, Mrs. Virginia Brown, Mrs. Ida Hightower, Mrs. Jennie R. Edwards, Mrs. Evelyn Irving, Mrs. Brevy Miller, Mrs. Rubie Shakespeare, Mrs. Sara Walker, and Mrs. Izetta Malone.

The Rev. P. R. Stevens of the Four Square Gospel church will be guest speaker for the Pew Rally to be given by the steward board of Quinn Chapel A.M.E. church, Sunday, March 19, at 3 o'clock. Clayton P. Lewis is chairman of the board and Alfred E. Simms is program chairman for the day. The public is invited.

Models are needed for the annual Urban League style show to be held at the League, Saturday, April 8, according to Miss Frances Lewis, office secretary. Call Miss Lewis if you would like to show off that beautiful Easter outfit.

The Rev. and Mrs. B. T. McDaniels and children, Booker and Patricia were visitors in Lincoln on Sunday. While here they attended services at the Church of God in Christ.

Miss Joyce Williams was the week end guest of her sisters in Omaha, Mrs. M. J. Bradford and Mrs. B. T. McDaniels.

Chester Scott, freshman at the University of Nebraska, figured prominently last semester in the Intramural Interdenominational Indoor Track Meet. He won three races, broke two track records in the 60 yard dash and two lap runs. At the present time he is the only Negro running on the freshman track. Although freshman are not eligible to run in the Varsity track, he has hopes for the coming year. Should he make the grade he will be the first Negro to run in the Big 7 conference.

Mrs. William B. Davis was hospitalized Saturday as a result of a fall on the ice. She is reported improved.

Mrs. C. O. Bruce, house mother at Bryan Memorial Hospital, left Wednesday to make her home with a son. Mrs. Brevy Miller, friend for many years, accompanied Mrs. Bruce as far as Omaha.

La Motta's Chicago Bout Halted By Injury

CHICAGO. (ANP). The Southside's Bob Satterfield will have to sit out an indefinite wait before he shows his improved left hook against Middleweight Champion Jake La Motta.

According to the International Boxing club, La Motta has suffered a shoulder injury which rules out the non-title bout slated for March 22.

Teen Age Chatter

Hi Teens:

Here I am with more news. Sunday, March 5, some Lincolmites were seen strolling around town; they were Jean Burns, Frank King, Winifred Jones and Jeannette Venegar.

Sunday, March 5, seen at the Student Union were a number of Lincolmites who reported having a nice time.

Other persons seen strolling, Sunday afternoon, were Doris Powell, Arnold Tarpley, Birdie Powell, Willie Ricks, Bettie Rose Huston and Curtis Buster.

Well, we have another boy and girl of the month. They are—Girl of the month—Hazel Wilson. Boy of the month—Werner Lightner.

We are adding two new articles. We will have best dressed girl and boy of the week and nicest couple. For this week, best dressed girl—Peggy McRuffin. Best dressed boy—Curtis Buster. Nicest looking couple—Chester Scott, Winifred Jones.

Say! Boys, what's going on, girls walking around with no escorts. How come?

Tuesday, March 7 wasn't that an awful wind? I wonder if any one was lost in the storm? (Smiles.)

Thursday, March 9, Mrs. Malone's glee club had a nice practice at the Urban league.

Friday, March 10, the Amaranth Chapter No. 3, O.E.S. gave a Variety Show. They had musical, comedy acts and juvenile jury. It turned out very well.

Listen, teens, there is one of our teens who is sick, and if we could just send her a card or call to find out how she is I know it would help her to recover. That's all for now. Her name is Dorothy Greene.

ELOISE.

The recently completed Henry F. Schulte Memorial fieldhouse is fast becoming an integral part of Nebraska athletics. In its construction no tax money was involved. Its cost was paid for from athletic receipts only.

It was once only a coach's dream; now it is a reality. Begun in the fall of 1941, it was only partially completed when the Army Air Force requisitioned it for troops' quarters. During war-time, it served as a barracks for more than 500 Air Force men at the Lincoln Air Base. Shortage of steel immediately following the war caused further delays in construction. Finally, after nine long years of waiting, the fieldhouse was completed and pressed into immediate service.

With a 90x200 dirt-covered indoor playing field, it can be used for practice by Coach Bill Glassford's 80-man football squad when the weather is bad. The floor, a special composition of clay and sawdust, is designed to keep the dust at minimum and the surface from packing hard. The ceiling is high enough for the best of the kickers.

When Bill Glassford and his football team are not using the field, Tony Sharpe's baseball candidates are getting in some early limbering-up exercises. In one corner, a rope mesh batting cage is rigged up. In another part of the field the pitchers and catchers work out.

Although the field is the outstanding feature of the structure, there are other rooms that make the building a truly great athletic establishment. Piles and piles of equipment for all the varsity teams occupy a section of the first floor. The equipment manager is kept busy the year around keeping the gear in repair and in readiness for the coming seasons.

Rev. L. S. Goolsby Returns From Meet

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Rev. Lewis S. Goolsby, pastor of St. Paul AME church here, returned last week from Jacksonville, Fla., where he attended the Council of Bishops of the AME church. Rev. Goolsby is Missouri conference trustee of Wilberforce university at Wilberforce, Ohio.

Next door to the equipment room is the training room, ably handled by Blaine Rideout, former champion miler for the Texas Aggies. In it is the most modern equipment needed to keep athletes in the best shape. Down the hall is a movie projection room where the players can view movies of games played by the coming opponents or of the game they have just played. Locker rooms also take up a large amount of the space. Here each man out for a varsity sport has his own locker in which to keep his equipment.

Upstairs there are nine enclosed handball courts open to any man on campus. Faculty, as well as officials', dressing rooms, occupy the second floor. And down in the basement the groundskeeper has his headquarters and equipment rooms.

From top to bottom, athletics is the byword. Here Nebraska's greats and near greats will be training for the competition that lies ahead. And when they dash outside, passing under the horseshoe nailed over the door, they are always ready because they have been training, working and learning to do their best in the best of surroundings.
