Jones' Loyalty To J. F. Wilson Told Elks

WASHINGTON. (ANP). Loyalty of Herbert E. Jones to J. Finley Wilson, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, was verified this week in a public statement by Anton S. Lloyd, chief district deputy of the national organization.

Lloyd made this statement as an answer to certain rumors crediting Jones with heading a movement against Wilson since his illness. Jones as head of the public appearance committee is a member of the national cabinet. He is known as the "tall sycamore."

Commenting on Jones, loyalty, Lloyd said:

"No one is more zealous in the performance of his trust as a member of the grand's cabinet than the 'Tall Sycamore'."

lone, and Mrs. Ralee Harris and Mrs. Eugenia Brown, have selected Mrs. Kathryn Favors, Omaha school teacher, for their speaker. Mrs. Favors is well-known in Lincoln, her husband having pastored Mount Zion Baptist church here for some years. Mrs. Favors, who received her M.A. degree from the University of Nebraska, is at present writing a history of the American Negro for children.

Following the morning service, the ladies of the church are serving dinner in the church basement for those who do not wish to make the trip to more distant parts of the city.

Jackie, Camp, Lead In Poll

CHICAGO. (ANP). Second Baseman Jackie Robinson and Catcher Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers continued to hold their leads in the poll for the 17th annual All-Star game to be played July 11 at Comiskey park.

Larry Doby fell to fourth place in the American league voting for outfielders, and Luke Easter, Doby's teammate with the Cleveland Indians, fell to fourth in the ballot for first baseman.

Back in the National league Henry Thompson of the New York Giants rose to third among hot corner men, and Sam Jethroe of the Boston Braves moved up to eighth among outfielders.

Robinson, who took the league leaders in batting with an average of .361, has a total of 192-704 votes, to rank third among all players in total vote. Campanella, who lost his lead for a day, has 168,347 votes for a slight margin over Walker Cooper of the Braves.

Integrated Armed Forces Show Might In Far East

By BRADFORD LAWS.

TOKYO.—One of the mightiest exhibitions of integration of Negro troops and unification of Army, Navy and Air Force organizations was staged here in the Far East with the day-long observance of the first world-wide United States Armed Forces Day program.

Mixed units, soldiers, sailors and airmen participated throughout the Orient, showing the Far East an example of President Truman's "equality of opportunity and treatment in the armed forces" program as well as the military strength of the United States.

Several thousand United States nationals and military personnel of all races visited the display of equipment and witnessed a two-hour "live" demonstration of varied service activities on the huge Kaneda Air Base on the outskirts of Tokyo.

IMPRESSIVE DISPLAY

The Haneda show was the center attraction of several observances in the Tokyo-Yokohama area, with major military organizations pooling their efforts for an impressive "Teamed for Defense" demonstration.

In addition to the observance, General Headquarters, Far East Command, held varied festivities throughout Tokyo, while Eighth Army and Yokohama motor commands staged exhibitions during the day in Yokohama, in addition to participation at Kaneda.

The appearance of the famed Twenty-fourth Infantry Regiment, veteran of many years overseas service, in full battle dress, was among the top highlights of the parades staged throughout the Japanese islands.

All-Negro units from the Yokohama Motor Command were impressive as they passed in review along the main streets of the Japanese seaport city.

JET PILOT IN SHOW

The observances extended from Tokyo-Yokohama to other U. S. military installations throughout Japan, while organizations across the expanse of the Pacific, at Guam, Okinawa, in the Philippines and in remote places held ceremonies and demonstrations suitable to this occasion of national importance.

In the Philippines, at Sangley Point near Manila, the mixed units of the Navy played host to the Army and units of the Thirteenth Air Force, each joining demonstrations, maneuvers and displays of equipment, to which the American colony that includes many Negro ex-GI's and their families were invited.

The Thirteenth Air Force's jet instructor pilot, First Lieut. Dan (Chappie) James, Miami, Fla., a former member of the celebrated all-Negro 332nd Fighter Wing, rated as one of the top Negro pilots in the services, headed a formation of fighter planes in the air exhibition.

MIXED 20TH SCORES

At Okinawa, the Twentieth Air Force was host to the Army at Kadena Air Base in staging a review that saw the veteran all-Negro Ninety-third Engineers and the 822nd Engineer Aviation Battalion showing their wares.

True to form, the famed Twentieth Air Force, with all of its units containing mixed personnel, took the spotlight as Capt. Eldridge Williams, Kansas City, Kan.; First Lieut. Samuel W. Watts,

Lena Horne Reveals She Wed in 1947

By Lem Graves, Jr.

PARIS.—Relaxing among period furniture of an expensive five-room suite in the Raphael hotel, right off Paris' famed Arch de Triomphe, Lena Horne recalled some, but not all, of the details of her marriage to Hollywood conductor Lennie Hayton two and one-half years ago right here in Paris.

Vague and non-committal on some aspects of the wedding, Miss Horne resisted all efforts to pin down the exact date and place of the nuptials. She admitted that she was married in December, 1947, but refused to fill in the date. She said that her marriage followed the usual pattern which, in Paris, means a civil ceremony followed immediately by a short church ritual.

Miss Horne hinted that the civil ceremony took place in the same Raphael hotel, but declined to confirm this fact. At any rate, she admitted that her return to the same hotel in beautiful and romantic Paris largely inspired her belated public acknowledgment of the marriage which most newspapermen had known about for some time.

Asked why she had denied the marriage for so long, Miss Horne was equally vague and unconvincing. At first, she said, she felt that for a woman in her profession it would be more glamorous to be regarded by the general public as unattached.

Miss Huston Works For Church Groups

Miss Bettie Rose Huston, daughter of Mrs. Kathryn Huston, 2420 Holdrege, has been employed since June 10 as a secretary for the Nebraska State Council of Churches, of which Rev. L. Carol Lemon is executive. Beginning July 3, however, she will assume similar duties with the Christian Rural Overseas Program office which is also located in the YMCA building.

Miss Huston is a senior student at Lincoln high school where she is majoring in arts and sciences. There she has been on the student Assembly committee. In the community she has also been active, participating in several Urban League activities, and is Princess Matron of Rising Sun youth fraternity. She is also a member of Quinn Chapel AME church.

She hopes some day to become a social service worker.

Jackie Robinson May Lecture For State Department

NEW YORK. (ANP). Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers will not barnstorm this fall after the baseball season, it is being whispered these days. It is being reported that Jackie will go overseas instead as a representative of the state department as an example of American democracy.

He is to be sent abroad by the government to lecture and discuss baseball with Europeans.

These rumors apparently are substantiated by the state department magazine distributed in occupied European areas. This journal reprinted in its entirety the full text and pictures from a Negro magazine of Jackie preparing to go to training camp.

New York; Ulysses Toatley, Washington, D. C., and William A. Lewis, Springfield, Mass., passed the reviewing stand among some 10,000 troops.

Lieut. Sydney Johnson, Springfield, Ohio and Eugene A. Briggs, Trenton, N. J., were among the flyers participating in an aerial review of display of equipment.

DAVIS AIDE ACTIVE

Most of the American island personnel at Guam attended the giant picnic which was held at Tumen Bay. Units of the Nineteenth Bomb Wing, with the Nineteenth Air Base Group, headed by its executive officer, Maj. Gen. George A. Webb, Washington, D. C., former executive officer for Col. Benjamin O. Davis, Jr.'s 332nd.

The nattily dressed mixed Marine and Navy units were among the most picturesque sights in the Guam program.
