Depleted 24th Infantry Ranks Filled By 23 White Replacements

WITH THE 25TH DIVISION IN KOREA. (ANP). The army, lagging far behind the navy and air force in following the president's integration order, seemingly is undecided on which course to follow—the path to complete integration of Negroes and whites or the old-line segregatory pattern.

Recently, the Eighth army assigned 23 white replacements to fill the depleted ranks of the 24th Infantry regiment, which has proudly worn the "all-Negro" label since its formation in 1889. At the same time, the Eighth began funneling Negro replacements in hitherto all-white units.

Although the action did not create much of a stir among the highly-keyed, battle-weary troops in front-line action, its significance is not lost upon home-front watchers.

This marks the first time in history that white soldiers have been assigned to a Negro unit. In the past, it has been the other way around—there are many Negro soldiers serving and who have served in white outfits throughout the army.

No explanation was given for the assignment of the white replacements. It is said, however, that they are combat veterans and not the usual quartermaster or service unit replacements. They may be earmarked for promotions as non-commissioned officers, since the 25th Infantry division is sorely in need of NCO material.

The 24th has been on the front lines longer than any other unit in Korea, and just as in World War II, has a serious problem in replacements. The unit is just below half its normal strength.

Though the army seems to be taking up the integration policy in Korea, at Fort Dix induction center in New Jersey, Negro recruits from New York are finding that the segregatory pattern of the army is still in evidence. Recently 108 Negro and white recruits arrived at the induction center. The color line was immediately drawn, with Negroes and whites being assigned to different barracks and outfits.

This situation is the direct opposite of that being maintained at Fort Ord, Calif., where the two races sleep and train together.

Jamaicans Want to Join British Army

KINGSTON, Jamaica. (ANP). The recent call for army volunteers issued by Britain's Prime Minister Attlee elicited many inquiries from Jamaicans about the possibilities of getting to Britain to join up, it was reported here last week.

However, despite the preparedness for the gathering clouds of another world conflict, the British government has given no hint that the services of Jamaicans will be needed.

Texas Negroes Try to Enter White School

FORT WORTH, Tex. (ANP). Fort Worth Negro youngsters seeking an education equal to that offered whites in local public schools tried to enroll in a white school last week when classes began.

Their spokesman said they did not expect to be successful in entering the white education center, but through their action did hope to let the people know they wanted better facilities.

An estimated 35 colored children with their parents and spokesmen went to the Eules school for whites when school opened. At the same time about 150 whites gathered in other groups on the school grounds.

Nothing happened but the Negroes said their aim was to "require the school board to do something about remodeling the Negro school." After their demonstration the Negro pupils enrolled in the Mosier Valley school.

Victor Anderson, Havelock merchant and banker, was unanimously chosen by the city council Thursday night to serve the unexpired term of Mayor Clarence G. Miles, who resigned to become a candidate for congress.

Thursday night's council meeting was the fourth session held in an effort to select a mayor to fill the term which ends next May.

In addition to being president and controlling owner of the Havelock bank, Anderson is in the hardware business. He is currently a member of the state legislature, having been elected in 1949.

After being invited to the city hall after the council decision was reached, it was necessary for him to check with bank executives as to whether he could spare the time to serve as mayor.

Anderson was assured of council co-operation but he said that from a practical standpoint, he should not accept.

"We have a fine city and if I can help in way of leadership, I should try to do my part," he commented.

Nebraska Senator John Adams in the city for special committee meeting Friday spoke of Mr. Anderson as 'tops.' "He has the right spirit, you can't go afield on him. My association with him has been most pleasant. The council has made an excellent choice," he said.

Prominent citizens mentioned for the office were: John Lawlor, Robert L. Ferguson, Dr. Clayton Andrews, Elmer Magee, Wilton Van Sickle, John T. McGreer, Lester Dunn, John Agee, Oren S. Copeland, C. Petrus Peterson, C. W. D. Kinsey and Gus Prestegard.

Licenses Asked For Taxi Firm By Louis

CHICAGO. (ANP). Another of the business enterprises of Joe Louis and associates a new taxicab corporation, is all ready to go into action as soon as a final phase of its operation is settled. The outfit bears the name of "The Champion Cab company."

The final obstacle to the opening is the matter of securing licenses for its cabs—a feature which the corporation hopefully looks to being solved on or before Jan. 1, 1951. On that day, present cab licenses in the hands of southside jitney owners are up for renewal.

Club to Vote on Racial Clause

ST. LOUIS. (ANP). Members of the Advertising club of St. Louis will vote Sept. 19 on whether or not to drop the club's "whites only" membership clause.

Under present rules the club, established in 1901, "any male white person of good moral character, a citizen of the United States, 21 or more years of age, interested in advertising, shall be eligible to membership."

No Negroes or members of another non-white group is seeking admission, according to C. L. Thomas, president. The group plans to delete the word white from the membership requirements.

Thomas said the club's rules are "outmoded in many respects" and the new changes were more "in line with 1950 thinking."

'Racial Barriers Crumbling Daily'

PHILADELPHIA, Pa. — Racial barriers in the United States are crumbling, especially in the South, the National Baptist Convention in the U.S.A., Inc., was told.

Approximately 10 thousand delegates, representing one of the largest Negro religious groups in the nation, are attending the session. A report by the convention's social service commission said:

"It is heartening to the Negro to see the walls of injustice and inequality crumbling daily before our eyes. This is seen in employment, education, housing, travel, entertainment and, occasionally, in religious circles.

"Do not listen to the soap-box orators in Harlem. Go to Atlanta, Memphis or Houston and your soul will shout 'Hallelujah, the walls are tumbling down!'"
