WHAT IS CHRISTIAN LIVING?
Scripture—Matthew 5:1-20; 18:21-35; Acts 11:19-26; Romans 12:9-21. Philippians 1:27-30; 1 Thessalonians 5:15-23; James 1:22-27.
Memory Selection—Let your conversation be as it becometh the gospel of Christ. Philippians 1:27.

Present-Day Application

By Frederick D. Jordan
Los Angeles, Calif.

Christian characters are usually presented to us as illustrations after they are full grown. We present Paul at Mars Hill or before Agrippa. We cherish the full flower of his faith as expressed in the letter to Timothy, "I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I am ready to account for the deep rooted belief that the change from a sinful life to a righteous one should be instantaneous, complete and permanent? To be sure Class Meeting testimonies are sometimes misleading, also when we speak of our conversion and then say that "ever since that day I have been on my steady march."

True, the rate of growth is more rapid in some persons than in others, and perhaps the intensity of the conversion experience is an effective factor in determining the rate of growth. What we shall be learning this quarter is that spiritual growth can be cultivated. If a newborn infant did not grow, the fact that it remained alive would only heighten the tragedy of its pitiful existence.

Sentence Sermons

By Rev. Frank Clarence Lowry
(For ANP)

BROTHERHOOD
1. There are many things by man, yet misunderstood; the one very important subject is that of Brotherhood.
2. Some would try to convince others that, the proper way to spell Brotherhood is by putting "hood" in front, then actually fitting a white hood over the head and face and accepting it as no disgrace.
3. But that is truly a travesty upon the sacredness of a thing so noble and grand that, to think of it as anything less, one certainly could not understand.
4. Real Brotherhood is the answer for many of America's ills; she cannot prosper and thrive upon hypocrisy and frills.
5. Sincerity and truth must characterize the rank-and-file of her population—true brotherhood cannot exist when there is hatred and deception.
6. A nation must be fair in all of its dealings; Brotherhood is all too high and sacred for individuals and states to place on it their own ceilings.
7. God meant for all men here on earth in harmony to dwell, and by virtue of a heavenly Brotherhood, in all things to excell.
8. But look at the awful picture today, unworthy of God's art gallery, with a background of hate and prejudice, touched up with artistic chicanery.
9. Certain men and women are being denied an equal chance because of color, and though a part of God's great Brotherhood, they are not treated as a brother.
10. This robs our own proud America of the matchless name

Teen Age Chatter

By Eloise Finley

Hi-ya gang!
Well we are back to the old grind again.
From what I hear and see everyone enjoyed their summer. Delores Bowen journeyed to Kansas City, Missouri, for a week. Vonna Finley went to St. Joseph, Missouri, for nine days. Ionna Adams journeyed to Des Moines, Iowa, where she reported being a real crazy time. Charles Botts was home during the summer. Betty Binwoman ventured to St. Paul, Minnesota for the summer. Loretta McWilliams worked all summer and bought a fine fall wardrobe; she also journeyed to Topeka, Kansas.

Lincoln was really on the ball this summer. Parties, swimming, skating, picnics and many other things supplied recreation for the teens.

I have a cousin here going to school fellows (marie). Her name is Darlene Marie Whitten. Darlene is about 5 ft. 2 inches tall. She has pretty brown eyes and brown hair. She is a freshman at Nebraska U.

Going to stay in our fair city for a while are a few students, first of all you know that Clara and Bettie Scott, sisters of Chester Scott from Omaha, will be here during the school year.

Then we have Lowell Smith; he drives the gray Pontiac from Hastings.

As we go on we find a stranger in our midst; he is Charles McAfee from Wichita, Kansas. All of them are students who will be freshmen at U. of N. Let's make them welcome.

Some of our home town girls are freshman students on the campus this year. They are Loretta McWilliams, Birdie Powell and Delores Bowen.

Now that we have covered N. U. let's go over and see what's happening at Lincoln high school. New sophomores are Beverly Holcomb, Betty King, Ray Gattus, Kenneth Butler and Ted King. Oh yes, while we have already mentioned Ted King, he made the Varsity squad his first year. I think all of you guys and gals who can, ought to make the most of the games. Whatcha say hummmm???

See you next week.

Eloise.

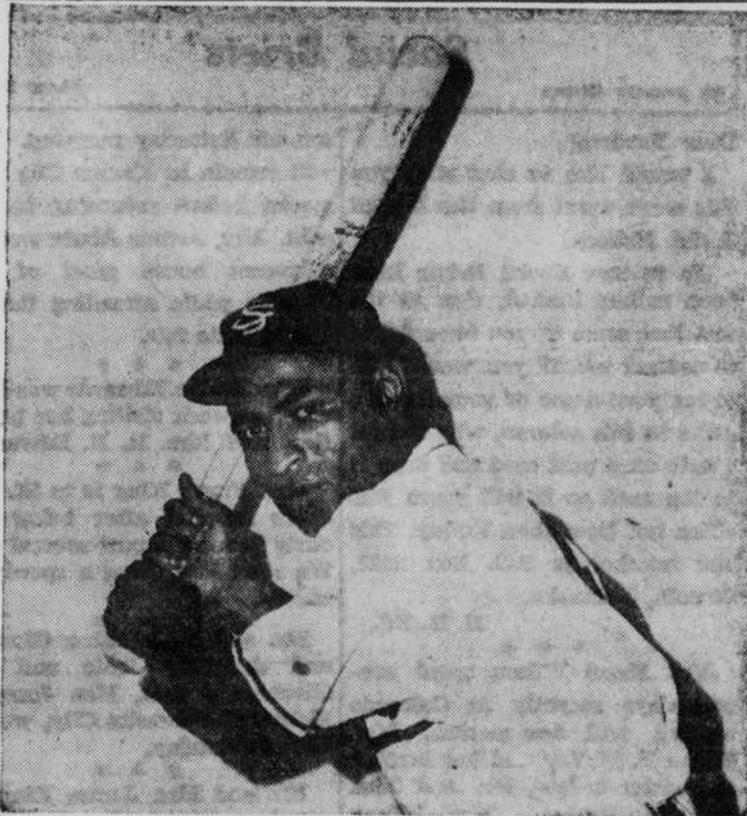

Jethroe Steals Bases

BOSTON. (ANP). The Boston Jet, Sam Jethroe pounded out his 17th home run with a man on base and stole his 34th base of the season as the Boston Braves shut out the St. Louis Cardinals 5 to 0 last week.

Pitcher Warren Spahn allowed only two hits as he notched his 21st victory of the season. Jethroe settled the game in the first inning when he pounded the ball out of the park after leadoff man Roy Hartsfield had walked.

In the third inning Jethroe smashed out a double, and in the fifth, he stole his 34th base after receiving a free pass.

she above all nations should possess, and lowers her prized American way of living, we are sad to have to confess.

Future Chicago White Sox Catcher?

Slugging Sam Hairston, catcher during the final week of the season with the Colorado Springs club of the Class A Western league, is looking toward a future in the major leagues with the Chicago White Sox of the American league.

Although he played only a part of the season with the Indianapolis Colts in the Negro American league, Hairston led the loop in batting, 424, total hits, 100, total bases, 176, and home runs, 17. He was second in doubles with 23, and ranked first in runs batted in with 70. No other player in the league compared with him on offense.

Coming to the Colorado Springs farm of the Sox in August, Hairston has maintained an excellent batting record in organized baseball. He plays both third base and behind the plate, but the Chicago club ordered him to catch only. The Sox of the future will need a catcher sooner than they will a hot corner man.

Hairston is the first Negro player signed by the White Sox. Also playing in Colorado Springs is Bob Boyd, formerly of the Memphis Red Sox. He may become the future White Sox first baseman.—(ANP)

Louis-Charles Title Bout

Louis, full of age and with no valid challenger in sight, announced on March 1, 1949, that he had reached the end of his brilliant career. He had, since winning the championship from Jimmie Braddock, defended it on 25 occasions and had won 22 times by knockouts.

Most of those who saw the Brown Bomber at his best hoped he would stay retired. They preferred to remember him as he was—the fighter with animal-like grace and reflexes who caused their pulse to race.

But it wasn't to be. A few months ago the word got around that Joe needed a rough $200,000 to settle arrears on his income tax, and on Aug. 17 he announced that he was coming back.

There probably will be close to $300,000 in the house when the bell rings at 9 (CST) Wednesday night.

Television and radio rights will add some $200,000 to the gross receipts. Counting the TV audience, many times more spectators will watch the fight than ever before sat in on any bout. Possibly a million will witness Joe's comeback.

Just what they will see, nobody can safely predict. It could be a good fight or it could develop into a sad spectacle—the latter if Louis tires and Charles finds it possible to step around the old warrior and chop him up in the latter rounds.

Joe insists it will never go the limit. He declares, somewhat flatteringly, that Charles is a man who will stand up and fight, and that "It'll end in a knockout, one way or the other."

Some fight men feel that Louis will have to collar his young adversary fairly early if he is going to win. The older a fighter gets, they say, the more prone his flesh is to cut and puff.

Jackie Has Chance

BROOKLYN. (ANP). Jackie Robinson still has a chance to win the National league batting championship which he won last year. With 13 games left to play the Brooklyn Dodgers second baseman ranks second in the league, only 11 points behind the league leader, Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cards.

Since coming back to the team after his injury, catcher Roy Campanella of the Dodgers has done little with his bat. Both he and Jackie are playing as often as possible while the Dodgers cling desperately to their mathematical chance to retain their championship.

Pitcher Don Newcombe last week gave up two home runs to slugging king Ralph Kiner of the Pittsburgh Pirates, but he won his 18th game of the season anyway. The Dodgers did a bit of slugging of their own.
