Woman Trapped by Fire Saved at Last Minute

Mrs. Emma Davis, 104-year old ex-slave, fought a destructive fire alone at her son's home at 2048 U Street Tuesday.

Three rooms of the house owned by Gurt Davis, were gutted. Nobody was home except Mrs. Davis and her grandson, David 5. A little neighbor girl was just coming up from an errand to the basement at the time of the fire. After pushing the children to safety Mrs. Davis tempted to put out a blaze near the back door with a pan of water. Unable to subdue the flame she went to the dining room telephone, but could not reach the fire department. Unable to go further she fell to the floor and had given up hope when the door opened and someone entered to pull her outside.

Mrs. Davis is staying with another son, James Fuller, 2244 S Street. Cause of the fire is unknown.
