

Women Outline Plans to End Segregation in Church

BUCK HILL FALLS, Pa. (ANP) — Representatives of more than 1,500,000 Methodist Church women last week adopted a resolution to end segregation within the church, and condemned the killing of Harry Moore in Florida.

At the final session of its nine-day meeting, the Woman's Division Service voted for a detailed and explicit "charter of racial policies," designed to wipe out segregation and discrimination in the Methodist Church.

The group also pledged itself to "build in every area it may touch a fellowship and social order without racial barriers."

Church spokesmen said the move might eventually break down the church's Central Jurisdiction which includes most of the Negro Methodists. All other areas of the church are divided on a geographical basis.

The following specific policies were included in the charter:

1. Selection of staff personnel would be made solely on the basis of qualifications without regard to race.
2. Racial ornamental background would not be considered in the employment of missionaries, deaconesses and other workers.
3. Projects and institutions supported by the division would be open to all persons without discrimination along racial lines.
4. Projects and institutions supported by the divisions would be open to all persons without discrimination along racial lines.
5. All meetings would be held in localities where racial groups could have access to all facilities without discrimination in any form.
6. Where law prohibition or custom prevented the immediate achievement of those objectives, workers and local groups would be charged with the responsibility of "creating a public opinion" that could result in changing such laws and customs.

OMAHA, Neb.—Dr. Fred Niehaus of Omaha, president of the Nebraska Heart Association, announced today that the goal of the 1952 Heart Fund nationally will be Eight Million dollars, while Nebraskans will be asked to raise only $60,000 of that amount.

"Heart disease is the greatest killer in America," said Dr. Niehaus. "Hardly a family in America is not touched by it. There are 23 distinct types.

"Thanks to the research program being carried on by the American Heart Association, we are beginning to find some of the answers to what causes it and how it can be checked.

"In Nebraska at the local level we have heart research programs going on daily at the University of Nebraska College of Medicine and at Creighton University School of Medicine.

Two weeks ago the board of Nebraska Heart Association voted $5,000 to be shared equally by the two fine schools in heart research. We also provided $1,000 in December for bringing an eminent heart specialist from Philadelphia to Nebraska, to participate in six clinics for doctors, sponsored

Band Leader Establishes Student Fund

PHOENIX, Ariz.—The establishment of the Louis Jordan Student Loan Fund available to high school graduates of Arizona, regardless of sex, race, religion or national origin, was announced recently by the Phoenix Urban League. The noted band leader, a supporter of the League's program, and who maintains a residence in Phoenix during the winter, started the fund to be administered by the League with his initial gift of $500.

The League is one of fifty-eight branches of the National Urban League, the nations' only interracial voluntary service agency designed primarily to promote equal economic opportunity.

"The purpose of the fund is to offer assistance, through the medium of higher education, to young people to enable them to make a greater contribution to their communities, and to demonstrate how effective education is in promoting the ideals of Americanism, teamwork and inter-group fellowship," Jordan said.

"Jordan has shown continuous interest in youth opportunity programs and has assumed responsibility for arranging a March concert, from which the League will receive the proceeds," said Alton W. Thomas, the League's executive secretary. In addition, the band leader will solicit cash contributions from other musicians.

The League's Committee on Education, chaired by Mrs. George Rogers, deans of girls at Carver High School, will supervise the awarding of loans to students seeking further training allied with sound vocational guidance.

Applicants will be required to show ability, need and promise, and must be willing to participate in a counselling and budgeting

Following are a few facts about the Lincoln Urban League whose 1952 Campaign Slogan is: BETTER JOBS, BETTER HOMES, BETTER LIVES . . . BETTER JOINS!

THE URBAN LEAGUE OF LINCOLN is "An Interracial Service Agency, using the Methods of social work to improve and adjust the living and working conditions of Negroes and other minorities."

THE URBAN LEAGUE OF LINCOLN is "An Interracial Service Agency, using the Methods of social work to improve and adjust the living and working conditions of Negroes and other minorities."

A Reputation Founded on Service

In 1911 a group of New Yorkers—Negro and white—organized the Urban League movement to promote a better life in the city for the expanding Negro population. The League has fought against unemployment and helped thousands of unskilled Negroes to equip themselves with a trade; helped thousands of skilled Negroes to find jobs. The Urban League everywhere has come to mean opportunity and interracial cooperation.

Founded in 1931, the Lincoln Urban League is dedicated to the removal of barriers that keep Negroes and other minorities from making their full contribution to Lincoln, and has continued its attack both on job placement and living conditions.

Something You Can Do . . .

Membership in the Lincoln Urban League is open to anyone who, in principle, supports its program. Your membership contribution of one dollar helps continue the work described in the foregoing paragraphs.
