tions are jimcrow, and the church also uses racial employment practices, this section praised certain advances made by some churches but concluded:

"The churches in the United States, while earnestly striving to nurture and develop individuals of good will, have not dealt adequately with the fundamental pattern of segregation in our society which thwarts their efforts. This must be corrected."

3. In "The National Council and Segregation" the Council took this stand on segregation:

"The National Council of the Churches of Christ in the United States of America in its organizational structure and operation renounces and earnestly recommends to its mem-

Sunday School Lesson

Present Day Application
By Bishop Frederick D. Jordan

This final commandment is the "capstone" it tells us that to be right with God, a man must not only be free from unlawful deeds, but he must be free from the spirit which tends to these deeds. This deals with our problems at their source. Rid of a spirit of covetousness, filled with a spirit of love, the fulfillment of all laws concerning our relationship with God and with man are possible. Legitimate desires are normal, having created in us as a part of our personality. This is when we desire something which we need and are due to have, the gaining of which does not deprive anyone else. Jesus did not condemn the quest for riches, the sin is in the way a man sets his heart on his wealth and loses interest in the true riches. Possession of the comforts of this life is legitimate, but when we exaggerate their value, by allowing them to interfere with our duties to God and humanity, they become for us an evil. Christians must guard against setting their hearts upon property and material wealth, it is a good thing to invest our worldly goods freely in the advancement of Christ's kingdom. This is not impractical, for Jesus makes it very plain that it will make us richer in those treasures which will never perish.

ber churches that they renounce the pattern of segregation based on race, color or national origin as unnecessary and undesirable and a violation of the Gospel of love and human brotherhood.

"While recognizing that historical and social factors make it more difficult for some churches than for others to realize the Christian ideal of non-segregation, the Council urges all of its constituent members to work steadily and progressively toward a non-segregated church as the goal which is set forth in the faith and practice of the early Christian church and inherent in the New Testament Idea of the Church.

"As proof of our sincerity in this renunciation, the National Council of Churches will work for a non-

Mrs. Roosevelt Addresses Final Rally of UNCF

BROOKLYN (ANP)—Speaking at the final rally in the Brooklyn campaign for the United Negro College Fund, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt paid high tribute to Negro colleges in America, but predicted that the day is on the way when there will be no Negro colleges as such.

The United Nation's Human Rights Commission head said successful legal assaults on racial barriers in higher education preclude the eventual end of jimcrow colleges.

An eloquent appeal for support of the fund made by Dr. Gardner C. Taylor, honorary chairman, netted $1,394 which was expected to put the locals over the top with their quota of more than $5,000.

"We were as helpless as children in the invisible bonds of segregated church and a non-segregated Society."

The section is the meat of the resolution. The second paragraph as worded influenced opponents of the statement to abstain from voting rather than vote against it.

4. "The Churches should ascertain the facts about their own practices." Under this factor the churches would use as standards for membership, fellowship, worship, outreach of the minister, educational and welfare services, and employment only the bases of spirituality and proper qualifications.

5. "The churches should eliminate segregation from their own practices." These are to be eliminated on the principles as utilized in No. 4.

Joe Black Wins First Victory for Brooklyn

Robinson was injured by two spike wounds from Ted Kluszowski who slid into him at second base, but played the whole game.
