CHRIST'S NEW COMMANDMENT

Scripture . . . Mark 12-28-34, John 13:34,35; 15:10-14.

Memory Selection . . . A new commandment I give unto you, That ye love one another as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. John 13:34.

Present Day Application
By Bishop Frederick D. Jordan
Los Angeles, California

This commandment of Jesus was given at the close of His ministry. He was about to make the greatest manifestation of love that the world has even known. We have studied this quarter the commandments given by Moses. We have seen how Jesus endorsed and stressed their importance, adding the "spirit" to each of them. We come to His summation of them all—Love. The first of the ten commandments concern our relationship toward God. Jesus sums them up in His first words,—love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, etc. The last of the ten commandments concern our relationship with our fellow man. Jesus gives them all to us in the one statement—love thy neighbor as thyself. Supreme love belongs to God. One loves God with his whole heart, all other love, desires, hates and aversions are subordinate to our love for God. Love of God should be the governing principle of our entire life. Love of oneself is a duty that one is not likely to forget or neglect. This regard for self is our measure of our regard for others. When each cherishes good for the other, all will be well. Love of oneself is not the attitude of selfishness that is unchristian, it is not to give oneself priority over others, but on the other hand to desire for others the same good that we desire for ourselves. Let us remember also that Christ's love in us is not to be realized apart from our manifestation of love to one another. The life you live is an expression of your love. How do you live?

OUTDOOR NEBRASKA

By DICK H. SCHAFFER
NEBR. GAME COMMISSION

LINCOLN, Neb.—Application forms for the recently announced 1952 deer hunt are now available at County Clerks' offices, the Nebraska Game Commission office in Lincoln and from district conservation officers.

All applications for the seven-day buck hunt and the seven-day doe season must be made on the official application forms. Applications should be sent to the Nebraska Game Commission, State House, Lincoln. No applications postmarked after Aug. 30 will be accepted.

Sportsmen who successfully drew permits for the 1951 hunt are not eligible for deer permits this year. According to State Statute, "No person shall be issued a special permit to kill doe and horned buck deer oftener than once in any three consecutive open seasons." This statute was passed in '51 and does not affect those hunters who drew permits in either the '49- or '50 seasons.

Applications will be accompanied by an individual remittance of 10 dollars in check or money order made payable to the Nebraska Game, Forestation and Parks Commission. All applications must be completely filled out and signed.

Each applicant must indicate on his official application form whether he is applying for a buck or doe permit. No one can apply for more than one permit. All applications will be checked for repetition and checked against last year's record of successful permit holders.

There will be no alternate permits nor will successful applicants be permitted to cancel their permits, which, incidentally, are not transferrable.

The drawing to determine the permit holders will be held in the State Capitol on Tuesday, Sept. 16.

This year's hunt, largest on record and second to permit the harvest of does, will be held sometime in December, possibly following completion of the waterfowl season. The exact dates of the season will be announced later.

Open area for buck hunting will consist of Sheridan, Dawes, Sioux, Scotts Bluff, Banner and Morrill counties. Does will be taken in all of the mentioned counties except Sheridan. The latter county

ALMOST 40,000 WARM WATER FISH—bullheads, catfish and crappie—were stocked in Nebraska waters during the past month by the Nebraska Game Commission. The bullheads were removed from overstocked lakes in the state which will improve growing conditions in those lakes.

Those waters planted were: State Hospital lake at Hastings (bullheads), Crystal lake at Ayr (bullheads), Hull lake at Butte (catfish), City Park lake at David City (crappie, bullheads), Louisville State lakes (bullheads), Champion State lake (bullheads), Arnold State lake (bullheads), Victoria Springs State Park lake at Anselmo (bullheads), Muddy Creek near Broken Bow (bullheads).

Dead Timber State lake at Scribner (bullheads), Fremont State lake No. 3 (bullheads), Carter lake at Omaha (bullheads, crappie), Rock Creek State lake near Parks (bullheads), Cricket lake near Hyannis (bullheads), Pier lake at Grand Island (bullheads), Soldiers-Sailors lake at Grand Island (bullheads), Atkinson State lake (catfish), Alexandria State lake No. 3 (bullheads), Niobrara State Park lake (bullheads).

Oak Creek lake at Lincoln (bullheads, crappie), Salt Creek near Roca and Sprague (bullheads), Wellfleet State lake (bullheads), Battle Creek lake at Battle Creek (bullheads), Pofahl lake at Norfolk (bullheads), Barnum creek near Columbus (bullheads), Rickett lake at Columbus (bullheads), Niobrara river near Bassett (catfish), Bowman lake at Loup City (bullheads), Recreation Grounds lake at Red Cloud (bullheads) and Lincoln creek near York (bullheads).

All of the fish stocked in the above mentioned waters were adult size.

Almost 7,000 pounds of carp

QUESTION: Started my house two years ago, and finished the kitchen cabinets about a year ago but did not get around to finishing them. As a result they have become spotted. Can you tell me how to clean this wood to prepare it for a natural finish?
—J. F. S., Hamburg, N. Y.

ANSWER: You can restore the wood to its natural form with washing as follows: (a) with straight ammonia followed with a clear water rinse (b) with oxalic acid (c) with household chlorine preparations followed by rinsing. When dry, sand smooth to remove the raised grain protrusions, and then finish as desired.

QUESTION: My pine door tends to warp inward about one inch at the top. We had this door fitted with metal weather stripping, but it has not cured the warp. Can you tell me how to correct the trouble?
—T. F. R., Lowell, Mass.

ANSWER: Drill 3/4 to 1/2-inch holes through the side timbers (stiles) into the top rail penetrating the rail at least 4 to 6 inches. Drive glued dowels into these holes, saw off the protruding ends flush. Be sure the dowel is forced into "true" position before drilling the holes.

QUESTION: Can you tell me the best way for an amateur to apply stucco to a cinder block wall?
—W. S., Walden, N. Y.

ANSWER: Apply stucco with a steel float, using upward strokes. Apply to a moist surface to prevent too-rapid drying and subsequent cracking. Don't go back over a smoothed surface once the stucco has begun to dry. Try to end one section at a corner, or break, so that overlapping new and dried stucco is not necessary. When working on a sunny side, sprinkle the drying wall lightly with water for a day or two to retard drying.
