Yellowed Ivory

If the ivory toilet articles have yellowed somewhat, wash them with white soap and water and place while wet in the sunshine. Keep wetting them with soapy water several times during the day and allowing to dry in the sun. Continue this treatment for several days. Then rinse, and the ivory will be white again.

Cheese

Time can be saved when grating cheese for au gratin dishes by putting the cheese through the food-chopper, using the fine cutter. In this way all the small pieces which are hard to grate can be used.

Feet Odors

Offensive odors of the feet can be dispelled, by washing with a boric acid solution and then sprinkling with powdered boric acid.

Embroidery Designs

When drawing an embroidery design on material use a good black lead pencil and press with a hot iron. This will prevent the design from rubbing out so easily. Any mistakes in the design must be removed with an ordinary eraser before ironing.

Drink Slowly

Make a practice of drinking cold beverages slowly, as a quantity of cold liquid taken into the stomach too quickly may interfere with the digestion and cause considerable discomfort. Take it slowly.

Squeaking Shoes

A shoe will stop squeaking, if a peg is driven in the center of the sole.

Baby's Mouth

Baby's mouth will be kept clean by using a solution of one teaspoonful of boric acid to twenty teaspoonfuls of water. Use a clean swab of cotton wrapped around a toothpick, and wash out the mouth twice every day.

Pearl Button

To restore the original brightness of pearl buttons rub them with a little olive oil which takes away that blurred appearance. Finish by polishing well with nail powder.

Tar Stains

To remove tar or pitch stains rub them with sweet oil or lard. If on silk or worsted materials they can be removed by rubbing with alcohol.

Safely Sealed

If one is going away on a trip, many of the articles of food, such as fruit cakes, spices, tea and coffee, and other foods kept in tins or jars can be saved until your return by sealing them with some wet-proof adhesive tape. This prevents any moisture and air from getting to the food.

Modern Etiquette

By Roberta Lee

Q. Is it really proper for a man to offer his seat in a bus or other public conveyance to a woman?

A. While there certainly is nothing "improper" about the offer, it is no longer expected today in a workaday world in which women have invaded many of the previous "rights of man." Of course, if the woman is elderly, carrying a baby, or is a very good friend of his, then the man most certainly should be thoughtful enough to offer her a place to sit.

Q. Is it all right, when entertaining dinner guests, to use a folded napkin to brush the crumbs off the table?

A. This is quite all right.

Q. Is it all right for a man to accept a cigarette offered to him by a girl?

A. This is quite all right.

Q. Is it proper to hold the fork or spoon in the hand at the table while engaged in a long conversation?

A. It is better to lay the utensil down. If held in the hand, one is likely to find oneself waving it about and this definitely is improper. Of course, if one is going to say just "yes" or "I think so," he doesn't have to lay his fork or spoon down.

Q. When a man meets a girl on the street and they stop to chat for a few minutes, which one should make the first move to walk on?

A. The girl. The man should keep chatting until she shows an inclination to leave.

Q. Whose duty is it to see that the bride and bridegroom's car is ready and waiting for them at the wedding reception?

A. The best man should attend to this.

Q. Who are the first of the congregation to leave the church when the wedding ceremony is over?

A. The ushers escort to the door all the women who are in the first pews—the bride's mother, the bridegroom's mother, then the other women in the first pews on either side of the aisle.

Q. Is it necessary for a hostess to provide new cards for use at a bridge party?

A. It isn't exactly necessary, but the ones she does furnish should be spotlessly clean, uncreased, and easy to handle.

Q. What are the accepted forms of the complimentary close for a business letter?

A. Yours truly. Very truly yours. Respectfully yours. Sincerely yours. Faithfully yours.

group indulged in various means of entertainment: notably Alpha Omega Club meeting and a house party given by Joan McCaw for Pat Herndon. Joan was maid of honor in Pat's wedding to Sammie Lee, Sunday. Carlene sang two solos at the wedding. The mass comment about the Omaha weekend was, "I never had it so good." Paul Kidd, James McField and LeRoy Bookhart entertained Lillian Rogers and Doris Roberts at dinner at their home Sunday.

Latest Home Hobby Transforms Old Nylons Into Lovely Flowers

THERE'S NEW LIFE in those mismatched or torn nylon stockings you get from time to time. New hobby converts them into pretty, colorful flowers and corsages which you can use to adorn hats, gift packages and low vases—as shown in photo. They're striking also as boutonnieres and as adornments for hair, wrists, dresses, jackets and coats. Making the flowers is easy, inexpensive and full of fun. All you need besides the old nylons are a few boxes of color remover and all-fabric dye plus the usual tinting vessels, ordinary copper screening, floral tape, scissors and corsage pins. Floral centers can be colored, crochet cotton dipped in paraffin. The Tintex Home Economics Bureau has published a free leaflet of instructions. About 10,000,000 leaflets have already been distributed, many to churchwomen eager to make the flowers for sale at fund-raising bazaars and parties, others to hospital convalescents and home shut-ins. Some alert housewives have even converted the hobby into a money-making enterprise. You can obtain one or more leaflets from the Tintex bureau, by addressing it at 485 Fifth Ave., New York 17, N. Y.
