bids fair to be settled, at least temporarily, as the government employes in the department have consented to remain at work although under protest.

A serious religious riot took place in the city and province of Yezd, in central Persia, recently, according to a cablegram from London. The outbreak was directed against religious reformers called Babis, and many of this sect were killed and mutilated. The governor was finally forced to sit in judgment, and only a few of the Babis escaped.

Since the uprising in China in 1900 freedom of the press has been given to a limited extent, but recent arrests at Shanghai of Chinese editors on charges of sedition give weight to the rumor that the old policy of repression is again to be instituted. Fears are entertained for the safety of these editors if they shall be turned over to the native courts, and the progress of the cases is being watched with much interest.

The first annual convention of the Furniture Association of America, which met at New York recently, closed on July 29. W. H. Keech of Pittsburg was elected president of the association.

On July 30 it was announced from Washington that King Menelik of Abyssinia is to have his own mint and it will be in full operation at his capital, Addis Abada, by the first of the coming year, according to the report of Consul Masterson at Aden to the department of commerce and labor. Hitherto King Menelik has had a limited silver coinage, the minting being done in France. For some time the king has been putting aside bullion for coinage purpose and it is understood now he has over 110,250 pounds of gold bullion on hand, beside a large amount of silver.

At Danville, Ill., on July 29, eleven arrests were made for participation in the lawless outbreak of July 25 in which the jail was attacked in an effort to lynch James Wilson, a negro.

The scandal over the loss of the late pope's fisherman ring was revived on July 30 when it became known that the sum of 20,000,000 liras ($4,000,000) had disappeared. The amount was understood to be in a treasure chest and largely composed of 1,000 lire gold pieces.

An order was recently issued by Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow forbidding the establishment of rural routes that should handle less than 3,000 pieces of mail monthly or serve less than 100 families. This order has caused much criticism and many protests have been filed at the postoffice department and on July 30 it was reported from Washington that the order had been modified to the extent that all routes to be hereafter established must cover a circuit of not less than fifteen nor more than thirty miles distance, rendering a service to not less than 100 families. This modification is regarded as being in favor of the rural free delivery system.

At a meeting which Booker T. Washington was addressing in Boston recently, half a dozen colored persons attempted to interrupt the meeting by asking questions of the speaker and almost precipitated a riot. Twenty-five policemen were called to quell the disturbance, and several arrests were made.

The elevation of Marquis Ito to be president of the privy council of Japan is heralded as an indication that that country may adopt conservative measures with Russia in the Manchurian difficulty between that nation and Japan. It is also believed that it is only a question of time till Marquis Ito becomes premier of Japan.
