Just Money Enough.

I never cared to be as rich as some men that I know. For riches ain't the greatest thing in this old world below; An' men don't always feel the best because they've lots of wealth, For gold, though legal tender, won't buy its possessor health. But I'd just like to have enough of money so when I Was called these winter mornin's I'd be able to reply: "Uh-huh! All right, I'm gettin' up; in just a minute." Then Roll over kind-o' lazy-like, an' go to sleep again.

I never cared to own a yacht or palace car so fine; An' automobiles are too strong—I don't want none in mine. I don't want such a pile o' gold that folks will envy me, Nor mix in deals that won't let my old conscience feel quite free. But I'd just like to have enough laid carefully away So when I'm called at 6 a. m. I'd feel quite free to say: "Uh-huh! All right, I'm gettin' up; in just a minute." Then Roll over kind-o' lazy-like, an' go to sleep again.

To corner markets, water stocks, and float a trust or two May be the things the millionaires think lots of fun to do; But I don't want to have no fun that causes others woe— Or by a robbin' set of laws make my own fortune grow. I don't want millions—that's too much —my wants are not so great; I only want enough so I at 6 a. m. could state: "Uh-huh! All right, I'm gettin' up; in just a minute." Then Roll over kind-o' lazy-like an' go to sleep again.

A Great Opportunity.

The battle-scarred warrior gazed upon his battered sword, and the tears stood in his eyes. His thoughts wandered back to the great day when his superior officer called him out before the army and publicly thanked him for having held a vital position with a handful of brave men against the onslaught of an enemy that outnumbered them ten to one. He opened the box wherein reposed the medal voted him by congress for gallant service, and then unrolled the parchment upon which was inscribed the resolution of thanks adopted by that same congress.

"Thirty years of untiring service for my country," he said his shrunken cheeks flushing with pride. "Thirty years wearing my country's uniform, fighting my country's battles and upholding my country's flag. And yet I am only a colonel, while younger men scarce acquainted with the smell of powder are wearing the uniforms of brigadiers."

The veteran sank into his chair and thought and thought and thought. Suddenly he was aroused from his reverie by a knock at the door.

"Come in," he said. In response to his summons a dapper young man entered.

"Is this Colonel Furlong," asked the visitor.

"It is, sir."

"Well, it ought to be 'General' Furlong, and I'm here to tell you how it may become 'General'."

"State your business, sir," said the colonel.

"Colonel Furlong, I hold the key to the situation. We all know your gallant record as a soldier—"

Here the colonel bowed.

"—As a soldier, and it is a record to be proud of, sir. But you have overlooked one thing, and I am here to rectify your mistake. I represent, sir, one of the greatest institutions in the land, sir. A few minutes explanation will suffice to prove to you that we are able to—"

"Well, what on earth are you driving at?"

"Patience, colonel; patience. I represent the Rushem & Shovem Institute of Medicine. We guarantee to fit you for a diploma inside of thirty days. With this diploma and a little start in the military arm of our country's service, colonel, you will have no difficulty in—"

With a glad cry the colonel fell upon the neck of his visitor and wept for joy.

"At last!" cried the colonel. "The last obstacle to my promotion is about to be removed."

An hour later Colonel Furlong was busily engaged in studying the doctor books.

Taking No Chances.

The senator-elect hesitated ere he spoke.

"What I want to know is this: Does my salary begin coincident with the expiration of my predecessor's term of office?"

"It does, sir."

"And do my recommendations for appointments have equal weight with the gentlemen who have been serving in the senate for years?"

"They do, sir."

"And I am not responsible officially until I take the oath of office?"

"The courts have so held, sir."

"Well, all I can say is that I wish congress wouldn't meet for a couple of years. I think that by that time I could dispose of about all the post-offices really worth having in my part of the state."

It Sometimes Happens.

"Good evening, Mr. Softleigh," said Little Willie Smith to his sister's caller. "Susie will be down in a few minutes."

"Thank you, Willie."

"And she told me not to bother you, nor ask you any questions, but—"

"But what, Willie?"

"O, nothing."

Right here is where you expect Willie to make some fool break, but you are going to be disappointed.

Willie sat there for fifteen minutes while his sister was crimping her hair, and during the whole time he said nothing calculated to embarrass Mr. Softleigh.

DeSmooth—"I went to a church oyster supper last night and—"

DeSoak—"And found that the oyster wasn't in your stew!"

Here is where we have a chance to fool you by having DeSmooth declare that he found an unusually large number of bivalves in his stew. But DeSmooth replied:

"No, there wasn't a single oyster in the soup."

"That little three-year-old girl of mine is the most remarkable child of her age in the country," declared Mr. Boreus.

Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure

Costs Nothing if it Fails

Any honest person who suffers from Rheumatism is welcome to this offer. For years I searched everywhere to find a specific for Rheumatism. For nearly 20 years I worked to this end. At last, in Germany, my search was rewarded. I found a costly chemical that did not disappoint me as other Rheumatic prescriptions had disappointed physicians everywhere.

I do not mean that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure can turn bony joints into flesh again. That is impossible. But it will drive from the blood the poison that causes pain and swelling, and then that is the end of Rheumatism. I know this so well that I will furnish for a full month my Rheumatic Cure on trial. I cannot cure all cases within a month. It would be unreasonable to expect that. But most cases will yield within 30 days. This trial treatment will convince you that Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure is a power against Rheumatism—a potent force against disease that is irresistible. My offer is made to convince you of my faith. My faith is but the outcome of experience—of actual knowledge. I know what it can do. And I know this so well that I will furnish my remedy on trial. Simply write me a postal for my book on Rheumatism. I will then arrange with a druggist in your vicinity so that you can secure six bottles of Dr. Shoop's Rheumatic Cure to make the test. You may take it a full month on trial. If it succeeds the cost to you is $5.50. If it fails the loss is mine and mine alone. It will be left entirely to you. I mean that exactly. I don't expect a penny from you.

Write me and I will send you the book. Try my remedy for a month. If it fails the loss is mine. Address Dr. Shoop, Box 9515 Racine, Wis. Mild cases not chronic are often cured by one or two bottles. At all druggists.

ing no escape we had to grin and prepare to bear it.

"What's she been doing or saying now?" we asked.

"That's just what makes her so remarkable," said Boreus. "She hasn't said or done anything remarkable since she was born."

Didn't Work.

"Look here, Kersoak; I thought you said that whisky would drown my sorrows."

"Well, didn't it?"

"Not much. I tried to drown mine, but they floated to the surface."

Brain Leaks.

What the world calls failure is often the greatest success.

A place to eat and sleep is not all that is required to make a home.

If your life is empty it is probably because you have put nothing into it.

"Just this once" is the sign over the door to the ante-room of destruction.

The fellow who waits for somebody to give him a start in life usually finds when death approaches that he can reach backwards and touch his starting place.

The man called at the eleventh hour received full pay, but the man who is called at the first hour and does not respond until the eleventh hour is going to meet up with trouble.

Bright's Disease and Diabetes Cured

University Chemist Acting as Judge

Irvine K. Mott, M. D., of Cincinnati, O., demonstrated before the editorial board of the Evening Post, one of the leading daily papers of Cincinnati, the power of his remedy to cure the worst forms of kidney diseases. Later a public test was instituted under the auspices of the Post, and five cases of Bright's Disease and Diabetes were selected by them and placed under Dr. Mott's care. In three months' time all were pronounced cured, one of the most prominent Universities in the United States having been chosen by the Post to make examination of the cases before and after treatment.

Any one desiring to read the details of this public test can obtain copies of the papers by writing to Dr. Mott for them.

This public demonstration gave Dr. Mott an international reputation that has brought him into correspondence with people all over the world, and several noted Europeans are numbered among those who have taken his treatment and been cured.

The doctor will correspond with those who are suffering with Bright's Disease, Diabetes or any kidney trouble, either in the first, intermediate or last stages, and will be pleased to give his expert opinion free to those who will send him a description of their symptoms. An essay which the doctor has prepared about kidney troubles and describing his new method of treatment will also be mailed by him. Correspondence for this purpose should be addressed to IRVINE K. MOTT, M. D., 89 Mitchell Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.
