

George Worthington, Episcopal bishop of the diocese of Nebraska, died at Mentone, France.

Albert S. Berry of Newport, Ky., formerly a member of congress, is dead.

Samuel Fessenden, who was secretary of the republican national committee in 1884, died at his home in Stamford, Conn.

Stokes Jackson has been elected chairman of the democratic state committee for Indiana.

An Associated Press dispatch under date of Guthrie, Okla., January 6, follows: "The democratic state central committee here today unanimously indorsed W. J. Bryan's candidacy for the presidency and decided to hold the state convention to select fourteen delegates to the national convention on February 22 at Muskogee."

F. Augustus Heinze, the copper king, has been indicted by a New York grand jury in the federal court for the over-certification of fifteen checks aggregating over $400,000.

A Harrisburg, Pa., dispatch carried by the Associated Press follows: "Charges of false pretenses in connection with the furnishing of the new state capitol were preferred against Congressman H. Burd Cassel of Marietta and Joseph H. Huston and John H. Sanderson of Philadelphia here today. The informations allege that Cassel, Huston and Sanderson defrauded the state out of $50,150 by false pretenses through making bills for metallic furniture and marble mantels. Cassel is executive officer of the Pennsylvania Constructive company, which supplied metallic furniture for the capitol, Huston was the architect of the capitol and Sanderson the chief contractor. All three are under thirteen indictments for conspiracy."

Senator Beveridge has introduced a bill creating a commission to gather data and aid the committees of congress in the work of tariff revision. The duties of the commission will be to proceed immediately to investigate the cost of production of articles covered by the tariff laws, the price of American labor and the cost of raw material entering into manufac-

BRAVE WOMEN

Women's delicate nerve organism subjects them to so much suffering, that it is almost inconceivable how they manage to fulfill the various household and social duties, and yet they do—and suffer.

As a rule they understand the nature of their delicate organism, but overlook the wonderful influence their nervous system has upon their general health.

They are not sufficiently impressed with the fact that all their ills are directly traceable to the nervous system.

That their periodical sufferings and headaches are due to weakened nerves.

DR. MILES' NERVINE

had been wonderfully successful in revitalizing the nerves and curing all cases of nervous disorders and loss of vitality.

Thousands of delicate women have regained their health and vigor by its use, and the thoughtful fortify themselves by keeping their nervous system strong and vigorous by its use.

"From a thin nervous wreck, miserable and wretched, I am now enjoying splendid health, and it is all traceable to your splendid medicine, Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine."—Mrs. Maud B. Oplinger, Philadelphia, Pa.

tured articles. In discussing the bill Senator Beveridge says he remains an ardent protectionist, but believes there is an universal demand for the revision of the tariff schedules which ought to take place as soon as the next presidential campaign is over."

A Philadelphia, Pa., dispatch gives an item of news, which will be particularly interesting to democrats throughout the country: "Mrs. Roedelheim of this city today announced the marriage of her daughter, Clara, to Congressman William Sulzer, of New York, yesterday."

A Guthrie, Okla., dispatch to the St. Louis Republic follows: "With the passage by the house today of the Franklin resolution from the senate, both houses of the Oklahoma legislature put themselves on record as favoring the plan of calling a convention to arouse interest in the question of the election of United States senators by popular vote. The resolution memorializes congress for action along that line, and is also to be sent to all state legislatures which are in session this year, asking their co-operation."

A London cablegram to the New York World says: "The London Times has passed from the control of the Walter family, which has owned and conducted it for three generations, ever since it was first established. C. Arthur Pearson, one of the two journalistic magnates of London—Lord Northcliffe being the other—has secured control."

George A. Pettibone, jointly charged with William D. Haywood and Charles H. Moyer with conspiracy to murder former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho, was acquitted. The charges against Moyer will be dismissed.

A Tacoma, Wash., dispatch carried by the Associated Press follows: "At a meeting of the democratic state central committee here today, Spokane was selected as the place and May 18 as the time for holding the state convention to select ten delegates to the national convention at Denver. Just before adjournment the committee unanimously adopted a resolution favoring William J. Bryan for president."

ALDRICH'S FINANCIAL BILL

The financial bill reported to the senate by Mr. Aldrich is described by the Associated Press in this way:

The bill provides for an additional issue of bank circulation, which shall at no time exceed $250,000,000 on bonds other than those issued by the government, including state and municipal bonds in approved cases. The comptroller of the currency is given discretion in the issuance of the proposed currency and is authorized to decide as to the time and amount to be awarded to any banking institution. It is provided that the increased circulation shall in no case exceed 75 per cent of the value of the bonds deposited.

Senator Aldrich introduced the bill in the senate soon after the body convened today.

Following are the first three sections of the bill:

When any national banking association, which has circulating notes outstanding, secured by the deposit of United States bonds to an amount of not less than 50 per centum of its capital stock, and which has a surplus of not less than 20 per centum, may make application to the comptroller of the currency for authority to issue additional circulation to be secured by the deposit of bonds other than those of the United States, the comptroller of the currency, if in his judgment business conditions demand such additional circulation and the condition of the association making the application warrants the issue and shall fix the amount, within the limitations hereinafter imposed, of such additional circulating notes to be issued.

Whenever, after receiving notice of such approval, any such association shall deposit with the treasurer or any assistant treasurer of the United States such of the bonds described in section two of this act as shall be approved in character and amount by the treasurer of the United States and the secretary of the treasury, it shall be entitled to receive, upon order of the comptroller of the currency, circulating notes, in blank, registered and countersigned as provided by law, equal in amount to 75 per cent of the market value, as fixed by the treasurer of the United States of the bonds so deposited, such additional circulating notes to be used, held and treated in the same way as circulating notes of national banking associations heretofore issued and secured by a deposit of United States bonds and shall be subject to all the provisions of law affecting such notes; provided that the amount of such additional circulating notes, delivered at any time to any association, shall not in any case exceed the limit, fixed for such issue by the comptroller of the currency; and provided further, that the total amount of circulating notes outstanding of any national banking association secured by the United States bonds or otherwise shall not at any time exceed the amount of its unimpaired capital and surplus; and provided further that there shall not be outstanding at any time circulating notes issued under the provisions of this act to an amount of more than two hundred and fifty million dollars; and provided further, that all acts and orders of the comptroller of the currency and the treasurer of the United States authorized by this section shall have the approval of the secretary of the treasury.

Section 2. That the treasurer of the United States, with the approval of the secretary of the treasury, may accept as security for the additional circulating notes provided for in the preceding section, bonds or other interest bearing obligation of any state of the United States, or any legally authorized bonds issued for municipal purposes by any city or any county in the United States which has been in existence as a city or county for a period of fifteen years, and which for a period of ten years previous to such deposits has not defaulted in the payment of any part of either principal or interest of any funded debt authorized to be contracted by it, and which has at such date more than twenty thousand inhabitants as established by the last census, and whose net indebtedness does not exceed 10 per centum of the valuation of the taxable property therein to be ascertained by the last preceding valuation of property for the assessment of taxes; or the first mortgage bonds of any railroad company, not including street railway bonds, which has paid a dividend of not less than four per centum per annum regularly and continuously on its entire capital stock for a period of not less than five years previous to the deposit of the bonds. The treasury of the United States, with the approval of the secretary of the treasury, may accept for the purposes of this act, securities herein enumerated in such proportions as he may from time to time determine, and he may at any time require the deposit of additional securities or require any association to change the character of the security already on deposit.

You know if your bowels need occasional help. Give it to them easily and regularly—one Cascaret at a time. Don't wait till night.

A million boxes a month.

That's the sale of Cascarets.

And every tablet in every box means a day of good cheer.

Think what a world of happiness this candy laxative has brought to men and women.

Are you getting your share?

Cascarets cure bowel troubles when they have developed. But that is the least of their uses.

Their best service is to prevent the many ills that come from inactive bowels.

Think of the days when you are not at your best. The mornings when you don't feel right, the afternoons when you are logy, the evenings when you are irritable.

The cause lies in the bowels.

One Cascaret makes everything different. Don't say, "I'll take it tonight." Take it at once. Carry a box in your pocket. The hours before bedtime are too good to be wasted.

Cascarets are gentle and pleasant. Their action is as natural as the action of fruit on the bowels. They are both good and good for you.

Cascarets are candy tablets. They are sold by all druggists, but never in bulk. Be sure you get the genuine, with CCC on every tablet. The price is 50c, 25c and
