

Democrats Tell the People About Their Campaign Fund

But Republicans will do so "After the Election"—when it is too late. With which party will you vote Mr. Republican Rank and Filer? With the party that opened its books or with the party that is afraid to have the source of its funds known?

DEMOCRATIC CAMPAIGN FUND MADE PUBLIC

New York, October 15.—The democratic national committee, through Treasurer Herman Ridder, this morning gave out an extended statement of the contributions to the democratic national campaign fund up to and including October 9, showing sums of and over $100. The statement also shows receipts and disbursements as follows:

Received from contributors of $100 and over	$ 90,712.33
Received from contributors under $100	115,355.22
Amount left over from Denver convention fund	42,500.00

Total$248,567.55
 Amount disbursed$225,962.88
 Balance on hand 22,604.67

The statement which is signed by National Chairman Mack and Treasurer Ridder, says that 343 subscribers gave $100 or more, and that the smaller sums range from 25 cents up. It adds:

"The number of contributors to the national committee fund is estimated at about 50,000 people, and about $100,000 of the whole amount contributed came from the democratic newspapers throughout the United States. "It will be noticed by the foregoing statement that the cash balance is about $22,000. Supplies contracted for and undelivered, circulation of literature, the expense of headquarters in Chicago, New York and Denver, and the traveling and other expense incident to our speaking campaign, now under way, will make necessary an additional $100,000 to carry our campaign to a successful issue. We are confident that the people, who we are thus taking into our confidence, will supply us with this additional sum, and we earnestly urge a prompt and generous response to this appeal.

"Subscriptions received of $100 or more will be published daily, beginning October 16." The largest individual contribution reported by Mr. Ridder was one of $5,000 from Charles J. Hughes of Colorado. W. J. Bryan was the second largest individual contributor, he having turned into the national treasurer $4,046 from the profits of his newspaper, The Commoner. Some of the contributors whose names appeared in the list given out last week have increased their donations, as for instance, ex-Senator W. A. Clark of Montana, and Norman E. Mack, whose names are down now for $2,000 each; Georgia is represented on the list by a single contributor—that of Governor Hoke Smith, of $250. The name of C. N. Haskell, former treasurer of the national committee, does not appear in the long list of contributions from Oklahoma. The individual contributions by states follow:
