

Why

Don't you give your heart the same chance you do the other organs? Why? Because when any other organ is in trouble, it refuses to work, and you hasten to repair it.

The heart, the ever faithful servant, never refuses as long as it has power to move, but continues to do the best it can, getting weaker and weaker, until it is past repair, and then stops. It is just as sick as the other organs, but because it will work you let it.

However, it's not too late for a "change of heart" so remember

Washington News

President Taft has approved the recommendation of Captain John M. Bowyer, superintendent of the naval academy, dismissing three more midshipmen on the charge of intoxication.

A Washington dispatch printed in the Chicago Record-Herald says: "The United States senate has been dramatized by Preston Gibson, the well known playwright, and under the title 'The Conflict' the production will be staged by the Shuberts, being given its initial performance in New Haven on February 25. It is a love story, around which are woven the exciting incidents of Wall Street and the methods employed there. While it is not an attack upon Wall Street, the incidents of the play are very pertinent in this respect, and it is said that Mr. Gibson's shafts are directed at one or two widely and well known financiers who live not a stone's throw from the senate chamber and whose machinations are so well known to the author. There are several intensely interesting and exciting situations and throughout is a vein of delightful comedy."

Representatives Macon of Arkansas and Bennett of New York engaged in a controversy regarding the charges made by Mr. Macon concerning the trip of the immigration commission to Europe. The commission was charged with great extravagance. Bennett bitterly denied the acquisitions.

Senator Jeff Davis charged fraudulent purpose in connection with the consideration by the senate of the bill providing for the sale of the unallotted lands in the Rosebud Indian reservation in South Dakota. He referred especially to the provision authorizing payment for certain sections of the land for school purposes. Declaring that much of the land was arid and worthless and asserting that there was some "powerful force" behind the scheme to compel the government to buy the land.

Whitelaw Reid has been given an extension of two years of service as the United States representative at the court of St. James.

The postal savings bank bill drafted by Senators Carter, Dolliver and Owen has been presented to the senate. The Associated Press says: "The bill provides that there shall be established a system of postal savings depositories under the supervision and direction of a board of trustees and direction of a board of trustees, consisting of the secretary of the treasury, the postmaster general and the attorney general acting officio. This board is authorized to make all regulations governing custody of moneys deposited with the postal savings banks. All postoffices of a class authorized to issue money orders and such others as the postmaster may designate, are declared to be postal savings depositories. They are to receive deposits from the public, and are to be kept open for the transaction of business every day, Sundays and legal holidays excepted, during the usual postoffice hours of the town or locality where the depositories are located. Accounts may be opened by any person ten years or over and by married women in their own names, and free from interference by their husbands. No person will be permitted to have more than one account. An account can not be opened for less than one dollar and no more than $100 can be deposited in any one calendar month. All deposits must be in multiples of one dollar, but in order that smaller amounts may be accumulated for deposit, savings cards will be issued and ten postal stamps sold. When these cards and attached stamps show an investment of one dollar or multiple thereof, they will be received as deposits. Deposits in postal savings banks will draw 2 per cent interest, credited to the books of depositors once each year. No person will be allowed to have a balance in a postal savings bank in excess of $500, exclusive of accumulated interest. Funds received by postal savings banks are to be deposited in banks, subject to public supervision as nearly as practicable in the neighborhood in which the funds are received at a rate of interest not less than 2 1/4 per cent. The deposits are to be distributed among the local banks on the basis of their capital and surplus, and the banks may give indemnity bonds to insure the safety and prompt repayment of deposits. At its option any bank may deposit collateral security subject to the approval of the board. If the banks refuse to receive postal deposits on the terms prescribed, the funds may be deposited with the treasurer of the United States. Provision is made for the maintenance of a reserve fund not more in amount than 10 per cent of the total funds deposited. Interest accruing from deposits or investment of postal savings are to be applied to the payment of expenses of administration, and any excess is to be covered into the treasury as a part of postal revenues. All statutes relating to the safe-keeping and proper accounting for public moneys are made applicable to such funds, and the postmaster general may require postmasters or their assistants to give an additional bond if deemed necessary."
