Three Things You Must Not Do.

If you have indigestion, loss of appetite, sour stomach, belching, sour watery risings, headaches, sleeplessness, lack of ambition, nausea, and other symptoms peculiar to all stomach troubles, there are three things you must not do.

First—Don't neglect your stomach by letting it take care of itself, because it will constantly grow worse.

Second—Don't use cheap "tonics," "drugs" and "pills," which simply irritate and inflame the stomach and intestines and which will ruin your health completely; and Third—Don't starve yourself, because by so doing you are robbing the body of its proper nourishment.

A large number of people do one of these three foolish things. That's why they never regain their former health.

Starvation is a common practice among people who have weak stomachs, but does it sound reasonable to you to deprive the body of its nourishment every time you wish to give the stomach a rest? We admit that your stomach needs rest, in fact that's the very point we wish to impress upon you, but there is a better, safer, quicker, and more pleasant way to give your stomach a rest, than by the starvation method.

What you need is something that will take the place of your stomach and do its work—some substitute that will digest and assimilate the food, thus giving the body its proper nourishment, without taxing the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best substitute known, because they contain the very agencies necessary to digest all foods. These elements will thoroughly digest and assimilate the food, thus giving the body its proper nourishment, without taxing the stomach.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the best substitute known, because they contain the very agencies necessary to digest all foods. These elements will thoroughly digest and assimilate any and all foods so you can eat all you want.

Experiments and tests have proven that one grain of the active principle contained in these tablets will digest 3,000 grains of meat, eggs and other wholesome foods. One or two of these wonderful tablets taken after each meal will relieve your stomach of practically all the work, thus giving it the much needed rest. Keep this up for a short time and your stomach will soon regain its health and strength.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are put up in the form of little tablets or lozenges, are easy and pleasant to take and cannot lose their strength by evaporation, as most liquid medicines do.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold in large 50c boxes by all druggists in the United States.

We would like to have you try them before you buy, so if you will send us your name and address we will send you, absolutely free, a sample package of these wonderful tablets. Write today to F. A. Stuart, 255 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

was repeated a few minutes later as the prime minister quietly left the scene of his victory in his initial action against the lords.

Mexican Minister Limantour says the only basis of peace is that the rebels lay down their arms. The Mexican insurgents question the authenticity of the reputed interview in Paris with Minister Limantour, where it was stated that he made this declaration.

The threatened hostilities between Russia and Japan have been averted. The Russian foreign office announces that China's answer to four out of six points in the Russian note relative to the treaty of 1881 is wholly satisfactory and that the remaining two can easily be adjusted. Further pressure on China, it is said, is not contemplated, and the idea of a military demonstration has been abandoned.

The Canadian parliament in session at Ottawa has formally declared loyalty to Great Britain. The declaration was made as an answer to allegations that the reciprocity with the United States will result in annexation.

General W. T. Cabell, former commander of the trans-Mississippi department of the united confederate veterans, and one of the best known former confederates in the south, died at Dallas, Texas, February 22, aged eighty years.

A concurrent resolution to "take appropriate action" toward the annexation by Oklahoma of the Texas "panhandle" district, which lies between Oklahoma and New Mexico, was introduced in the lower house of the Oklahoma legislature.

A joint resolution carrying the initiative and referendum amendment to the constitution has been introduced in both houses of the Illinois legislature.

Advices from China to the American Red Cross are that conditions in the famine districts are as bad as have been indicated by reports from other sources and are growing worse daily. That 2,500,000 Chinese will die for want of bread if assistance is not rendered immediately is the prediction in a statement made by the organization. The pneumonic plague is rising in the famine district.

Prof. J. G. Bowman, secretary of the Carnegie foundation, is expected to be the new president of the University of Iowa, to succeed George E. McLean, resigned. The proffer has been made by the board of control. Prof. Bowman is a graduate of the university, and will be the youngest president ever placed at the head of that institution, being a shade under thirty-five years.

A disastrous fire in the Belmont mine at Tonapah, Nev., started on the morning of February 23, completely entombing a large force of men. The number of dead is yet unknown, but fifteen bodies have been recovered, and a large number of miners have been rescued.

The New York stock market reflected its opinion of the interstate commerce decision against increased freight rates and railroad stocks fell off sharply all along the list, while industrials shared in the depression on the theory that the railroads would not be very heavy purchasers of materials. In the foreign stock exchanges there was also a heavy slump in American railroad shares.

President Briand and the members of his cabinet presented their resignations to the president, February 27, as a result of a bare majority which the government received in a vote of confidence in the chamber of deputies, following the premier's arraignment of the radical socialists.

Edward H. Shepard, in a letter to Montgomery Hare, announced his retirement from the fight for the United States senatorship in New York to succeed Chauncey M. Depew. Senator Roosevelt, the insurgent leader, stated that Mr. Shepard's retirement would have no effect on the attitude of the insurgents in their opposition to Mr. Sheehan.

ELECTING DELEGATES TO NATIONAL CONVENTIONS

Declaring that "Wall Street has already selected the presidential candidate for both parties for 1912," Senator LaFollette says:

"To Wisconsin belongs the honor of enacting the first primary law for the election of delegates for the national conventions by the direct vote of the people. The Wisconsin delegates to the convention of 1908 were elected under that law. They stood in that convention, a little band of fearless men, fighting to the last ditch for platform pledges, vital to the public interest. Their contest in the Chicago convention fired the attention of the country and forced the candidate nominated for president to broaden the platform by declarations in his speech of acceptance in favor of several of the important Wisconsin propositions which the convention had impatiently rejected.

"The lesson is obvious. Every state in the union should adopt a primary law providing for the election of delegates to the national conventions of 1912 by direct vote of the people.

"With such a law in each state, the delegates will be chosen by voters instead of by machine managers, and the national platforms of both political parties will represent the interests of the people rather than the interests of the system.

"And every state would take another advance step. Oregon has just pointed the way. Under the initiative, the people of that state voted for and adopted a law at the late election in November providing not only for the election of delegates to the national conventions, but also providing that each voter shall, at the April primary in 1912, have the opportunity of expressing his choice for president and vice president.

"Wall Street has already selected the presidential candidates of both political parties. There is just time to defeat the Wall Street plan. Let the people organize and demand of every legislature the enactment of a primary law, providing for the election of delegates to the national conventions by direct vote, providing that each voter shall be given the right to express upon his primary ballot his preference for president and vice president.

"Such a primary law will beat the Wall Street game and nominate and elect a president for all the people of these United States."
